HOCKEY.

SACKVILLE WON.

The first senior hockey match to be played in the Marston rink resulted in a victory for Sackville, which team defeated the Marathons by a score of 8 to 3. The game for the spectators' standpoint was good one, being fast from start to finish.

After the face off of Doull secured the puck near the Marston goal, he shot. Nixon saved the score by a good stop. After a pretty combination, O'Neill shot and the puck went into the net.

RECENT DEATHS. AMMAIDIE PERRY. Bangor Commercial: After an illness from a disease pronounced to be typhoid fever, lasting only a few days, and after riding a stage Friday across the wind swept length of Moosehead lake, 40 miles from Northeast head to Greenville, Ammaidie Perry, of Shelburne, N. B., a boy of 17 year old at the Riverside Hotel in this city Saturday morning, Young Perry was taken sick in the lumber camps of Charlottetown on Russell stream several days ago. He grew worse from the first and Friday his father Isaac Perry, who was on duty, decided to bring the boy to this city for medical treatment. The nature of the disease was not at that time known. Father and son travelled the entire distance from Russell stream to Bangor, crossing the entire length of Moosehead in an open stage, the boy suffering untold hardship in his weakened condition. The two took the train at Greenville, Friday afternoon, arriving in this city Friday night. The boy was just able to walk from the station to the hotel where he almost collapsed. He grew rapidly worse and on Saturday morning he died. It is supposed that the exposure and the strain of getting out of the woods was partially responsible for his collapse. Young Perry was a magnificent specimen of youth, six feet three inches in height and broad in proportion. The father is a grief-stricken man. The remains will be taken to Shelburne, N. B. for interment.
