PASSENGERS COMPLAIN OF POOR ARRANGEMENTS

Were Kept All Night in a C. P. R. Train—Cars Were Crowded and Cold

Wrecks on the different railway lines seem to be the order of the day. The Boston train which was due to arrive here at 11.30 last night failed to reach this city until nine o'clock this morning on account of a derailment near Hoyt station, at about eight o'clock last evening, when four freight cars ran off the track. The Halifax express which was to arrive in this city at 6.30 this morning was also delayed several hours on account of a wreck near Truro.

The delay of the Boston train caused much inconvenience, as a number of the passengers were very anxious to catch the train for Halifax last night, while others wished to take the I. C. R. train leaving for Montreal at seven this morning.

The passengers on the train were also compelled to spend a very unpleasant night as the cars were full, and as it was not known how soon the wreck would be cleared up all the passengers had to stay on board of the train during the night. A situation which added to the unpleasant situation was that towards morning when the passengers were beginning to feel tired, sleepy and sore, the cars were allowed to get very cold, and in order to keep all warm the passengers had to do their overcoats and keep walking up and down.

Indignation was expressed at the action of the railway authorities in allowing the passengers to be kept waiting so long as it was felt that a train should have been sent out from St. John to the scene of the accident, and that the passengers of the Boston train should have been transferred and brought into the city.

Among those on board were Col. H. M. McLean, H. M. Hopper, Ald. McGoldrick and Ald. Baxter, who were returning from Fredericton where they were attending the legislature respect to the street railway bill.

P. McLaren, of Liverpool and D. R. Smith, of Moncton, were also passengers coming from Fredericton, and A. Carman from Woodstock.

The Halifax express due to arrive here at 6.30 o'clock this morning was delayed by an accident occurring to a freight train at Brookfield, eighteen miles east of Truro.

The freight was running toward Halifax, and when at Brookfield several cars left the rails. The accident occurred at seven o'clock last night.

The Halifax train was to leave at 6.30 a. m. but the road was blocked for several hours. The track was cleared early this morning, and the freight train reached the city shortly before noon.

MUST GIVE FULL DETAILS OF NUMBERS REQUIRED

Have you listened to the "number" girls this morning? The new regulations for calling subscribers as outlined in the Star a couple of weeks ago went into effect today, and now users of phones must first announce the name of the line they wish, before giving the number. For instance, when a merchant has his custom shouts, "Four eleven forty-four," the mild response comes:

"What line, please?"

"What line?" in astonishment.

"Yes, Main, West or Robesay?"

"Oh! Main of course."

Very distinctly—"Main, four, double one, double four."

It happened a few evenings ago in one of the leading city churches, that he pastor, by no means an absent-minded man, but evidently a trifle forgetful on this occasion, announced from the pulpit: "We will join in praise by singing hymn number double seven Oh!"

BRILLIANT ASSEMBLY AT OPENING OF NEW ARMORIES

Nearly Fifteen Hundred People Attended the Easter Ball at Woodstock

On Monday evening the elegant new armory in Woodstock was formally opened by the largest and grandest ball ever given in Woodstock. The building had been tastefully and beautifully decorated for the occasion. English flags overhung the galleries. Large signs and signs in red electric lights decorated the ends and sides of the room, while the ceiling was hung with Japanese lanterns of many colors, and the bright uniforms of the ladies and the whole room the appearance of fairy land and when the grand march formed it seemed hard to believe that it was not all a dream.

The ladies had long been preparing for the occasion and many new and beautiful dresses were seen on the floor.

The ball was formally opened by the grand march, Sicilian Circle, in which over one thousand people participated, forming two complete circles around the large ball room. Previous to the grand march the military band gave an excellent concert, while the chamberlains and signs in red electric lights decorated the ends and sides of the room, while the ceiling was hung with Japanese lanterns of many colors, and the bright uniforms of the ladies and the whole room the appearance of fairy land and when the grand march formed it seemed hard to believe that it was not all a dream.

ALL THE NEW LAWYERS LIKELY TO GO WEST

This Year's Graduates From St. John are Not Planning to Stay at Home

The examinations of the St. John Law School are now being held. The second and third year men have already taken two examinations, one in pleading and one in Roman Law. The work in the law school has been much harder this year than in any year since the law school was instituted. The object of the faculty being to make the course one of the best east of Toronto, and with this in view, the very able lecturers have been procured from among the different lawyers of the city who take up the subjects in which they are especially well versed. Among the lecturers are such men as Hon. H. A. Powell, Geo. V. McInerney, Dr. Earle, Dr. Alward, J. B. M. H. and W. B. Wallace, F. B. Taylor and others. The late Dr. Stockton lectured on admiralty, but as yet no successor has been appointed to his place.

The students who will graduate this year are:

A. E. G. McKenzie, M. A., W. G. Pugsley, B. A., J. McE. Trueman, B. A., W. D. Turner, B. A., and J. A. Barry, B. A. The second year men are R. N. Howard, W. B. Farris and J. P. Lunney, while the first year men are J. King Hazen, H. Lunney, H. F. S. Paisley, Enoch Thompson, W. Nelson and S. Tait.

The graduating class will go to Windsor and receive their degrees from King's College early in June. They will, however, not be admitted to the bar until the October sitting of the supreme court. It is understood that all of the graduating class will go west upon being admitted to the bar. J. Roy Murphy, of Andover, who is taking a course at Dalhousie Law School will also graduate this year and will be admitted with the St. John men in October.

3,000 Yards of Tamaline and ...Louisine Silks Thursday...

ONE OF THE MOST ATTRACTIVE FEATURES OF ALL M. R. A. SPECIAL SALES IS THEIR TIMELINESS, their appropriateness to the season. Therefore this coming sale of Tamaline and Louisine silks will undoubtedly go, as all other of our silk sales have, with a rush, a speedy sell-out. Three thousand yards is a long stretch of material but we are certain it will be far inadequate to the demand on Thursday, for with spring upon us and summer in the near future, no keen shopper will allow an opportunity like this to pass without taking the fullest advantage of it. These silks are brand new, not an old lot in unfashionable colors to be cleared at a sacrifice. Seeing them will surely mean to buy them. For waists, shirtwaist suits, costume and coat linings and summer toilettes no more acceptable material can be had than these soft, lustrous and washable Louisines and Tamalines. Colors: Cream, Light Blue, White, Pink, Nile Green, Heliotrope, Navy, Cardinal, Black, Brown.

Just as the engine was passing the coach house, the rails spread and the engine left the track, carrying with it three cars. A long train was attached to the engine and the last car reached across Mill street. For half an hour street cars and teams were stopped from proceeding north.
