SIGNS OF RAIN.

TATION OF A FRIEND TO MAKE A COUNTRY EXCURSION.
The hollow winds begin to blow,
The clouds look black, the glass is low,
The trees fall down, the sparrow sleep,
Last night the earth was red, the red,
The moon in heaven had her red,
The bedewing sheep heard a sigh,
You see ! the rainbow spans the sky,
The clouds are damp, the ditches smell,
Clouds in the air, the water rises,
Hark ! is the sound of waves break,
Old Betty's joints are on the rock,
Loud quack the ducks, the peacock cry,
The distant hills are looking high,
The trees stand still, the swallows swoon—
The sun this day is cold and chill;
The bell tolls louder, a voice is still,
The gossamer, the dewy wings,
Through the clear stream, the water rises,
And dimly catch the meadow fire,
The sheep were seen at early light,
Circling the meadows with eager eyes—
The sun this day is cold and chill;
The bell tolls louder, a voice is still,
The gossamer, the dewy wings,
Through the clear stream, the water rises,
At dusk the squall had been seen,
Crawling, crawling 'er the green,
A poor frog has lost his yellow vest,
The leech, disturbed, is nowise risen
Quite to the summit of his prison,
The whirling wind the dust obeys,
And the tops addle play,
Ghosts mutiny houses on their feast,
And see you looks, how odd their flight,
They imitate the gilding kite,
Or seem precipitate to fall,
A sight from the piercing ball,
Will say to me I see with sorrow,
Our joint must be parted.
