QUEEN SQUARE CHURCH OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Completion of 121 Years of Active Church Work Marked Yesterday By Services of Interesting Character.

In Queen Square Methodist church yesterday the services in connection with the 121st anniversary of the church were started. Both in the morning and evening services of a special character were conducted. At the morning service the sermon was by Rev. Dr. Stahan, who rendered the prayer. The music rendered had been prepared especially for the day. The soloists were Wm. Bamford and Mrs. P. A. Goss. An eloquent sermon was delivered by Rev. Wilfred Gies.

During the afternoon a special service was conducted for the children of the Sunday school. The service was the annual rally of the school and was well attended. Special exercises were carried out. At the rally special music was rendered, solo being sung by Mrs. Goss, Mr. Armistead and Mrs. Walker. An interesting feature of the exercises was an address by Rev. Miles McCutcheon, pastor of Brussels street, who spoke on "What Our Flag Stands For, and Its History." The prayer was read by a successful one for the school, and the attendance mark above that of the preceding year.

Another large congregation was present at the evening service, when Rev. Mr. Gies was again the speaker. During the evening a financial statement of the church for the past year was submitted to the congregation and showed that the finances were in a healthy condition. The church is now practically clear of debt.

The anniversary services will be continued during this week. This evening the members of the Epworth League will hold their rally in the schoolroom of the church. The congregational reunion will take place on Tuesday evening.

WALKED OFF TRESTLE INTO HARBOR AND WAS DROWNED

Man Believed to Be William E. Macaulay, of Halifax, Met Tragic Death Last Evening—One False Step Cost Him His Life—The Body Recovered.

A man who is thought to be Wm. E. Macaulay of Halifax, and who was employed on the Norton Smith trestle at Courtenay Bay, fell from the trestle near the L. C. R. Long wharf into twenty feet of water, drowning before his companion, a man named Keating, could procure help. The body was recovered last evening.

At the time of the accident Macaulay and Keating were walking along the trestle that leads from the C. P. R. yard at the Union depot to the Long Wharf, and being unfamiliar with the ground Macaulay walked over the edge of the trestle, falling into the water below, drowning before Keating could procure help.

When seen afterwards Keating said just before the accident Macaulay had asked him where the next turn was, but before he could answer the unfortunate man had fallen to his death in the water below.

The first falling of the trestle was when Keating rushed up to Officer Crawford, who is on duty near the Union depot and hurriedly explained that his friend was drowning.

LOCAL GREEKS ARE PROPERLY SPOILING FOR TURKISH CORE

Patriots Will Leave Today to Join 2,000 Men Bound to Fight Against the Sultan's Forces.

A contingent numbering five or six of the able bodied men of the local Greek colony leave this evening for Boston, where they will join some 2,000 of their countrymen bound for the fatherland to do their share towards defeating the Turks in the impending war.

Among the local detachment of patriots who will respond to their country's call is the hour of need is Stellas Theophilus, who has been employed in this city by his brother-in-law, J. S. Sperakakis. Mr. Theophilus is confident of victory for his country, and freely predicts that the Turks will be driven from Europe. "If they are not," he added, "we do not expect to return."

Although the Greeks residing here who conduct businesses of their own will not be obliged to return to enlist in the Greek army, many are advancing funds to their poorer countrymen who do not possess the requisite amount to pay their passage back to the scene of hostilities. Should the fortunes of Greek arms prove propitious it is probable that all will be summoned to join the colors.

Since the Greek government decided to recall Hellenic subjects residing in outside places two days ago, 20,000 soldiers have gathered in Athens and at least 40,000 more are expected from American points. Local Greeks state that in all probability a force of 300,000 men will be placed in the field.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF CASH FROM DRUNK

Michael Fitzmaurice Touched for $90 While Under the Influence—Men Who Took It New in Jail.

Samuel Sleigh, aged 29, a native of England and Andrew McCord, aged 35, a native of New Brunswick, were arrested last Saturday afternoon on suspicion of stealing $90 from Michael Fitzmaurice on Thursday the third inst. The alleged theft was supposed to have taken place while Fitzmaurice was under the influence of liquor. Deputy Chief Jenkins and Police Officer McNamee arrested McCord in the city while Sgt. Kilpatrick and Officer McNamee secured Sleigh in the North End. The police have been on the lookout for these men for some time past, their patience being rewarded last Saturday when they both walked into the net.

This is the first time that McCord has been in jail, but Sleigh is an old offender, having been arrested before on a similar charge.

Ultra-Style Headwear. New additions to ultra-style headwear for ladies, misses and children lend from interest to the special millinery display at Mary's, which is being continued today for the benefit of those who have not yet been able to attend. The firm's large store and showrooms were visited by large numbers of shoppers last week, and which rapid selling was the rule. Those who have not already done so should make it a point to take a visit to "The House of Mary" for Millinery.

officer at once proceeded to the scene, but before anything could be done Macaulay had gone down for the last time. Seeing that the only thing to be done was to find the body the policeman quickly secured a boat and grapple. On reaching the spot where the unfortunate man had gone down, work was commenced, the body being found on the third cast.

Coroner Berryman was then summoned and a search of the body brought to light a letter addressed to Wm. E. Macaulay, at the Queen Hotel, Halifax, besides a lady's gold bracelet, which was apparently new. From the address on the letter it is thought that the unfortunate man was Wm. E. Macaulay, but complete identification has not been established. After viewing the body Dr. Berryman ordered it removed to Chamberlain's undertaker's rooms. It is not probable that an inquest will be held.

The victim of last night's accident is about six feet tall and well proportioned. Judging from his appearance he was about twenty-two years old.

YOUNG MAN SHOT IN STRANGE WAY; HE WILL RECOVER

Stephen Desmond, of Little River, Himself Handled Rifle Which Sent Heavy Bullet Into His Side.

Stephen Desmond, aged 21, was the unfortunate victim of the first shooting accident to occur in the vicinity of the city this season, when he was shot in the side, sustaining a severe flesh wound, while walking on the highway near his home at Little River yesterday afternoon.

The mishap occurred when the young man took an after dinner stroll down the road. While walking he met a team in which two hunters were returning from the woods and stopped to ask if their luck was good. From this conversation drifted to the subject of rifles with the result that one of the men in the team lifted his rifle and fired at Desmond. When Mr. Desmond handed it back that the accident occurred. In some manner the bullet struck Desmond in the side, and although the wound was not serious, the bullet striking the unfortunate man in the side.

He was at once picked up and hurried to his home where first aid treatment was given and the bleeding stopped. He was then brought to the city and taken to the hospital being admitted about half past five. The wound was deeply penetrated although the loss of blood was quite heavy the young man will recover. Early this morning Mr. Desmond was reported to be feeling comfortably.

STETSON-CUTLER OFFER FOR MISPEC PROPERTY TOO LOW

Report is That the Commissioners Have Already So Decided—Will Not Sell at Any Price.

The regular public meeting of the city council will be held this afternoon. Most of the business will be devoted to the consideration of the offer of the Stetson-Cutler Company for an option on the Mispec mill property will not be dealt with at this meeting, as the commissioners have come to the conclusion that the offer is unsatisfactory, and Com. Vigmore has been instructed to see if the company will make a better offer.

The Stetson-Cutler Company have made several propositions to the city in the past. Some of their machinery is still at the mill.

HON. J. D. HAZEN IN CITY AFTER HIS ST. LAWRENCE TRIP

Minister of Marine and Fisheries Arrived on Saturday—Was Kept Busy During His Trip of Inspection.

Hon. J. D. Hazen arrived home on the Ocean Limited on Saturday and spent Sunday in the city. He will be in Fredericton today and will leave for Montreal and Ottawa on Tuesday. During the past week the minister of marine and fisheries has been engaged making his first annual inspection of the St. Lawrence. On Wednesday he was in Montreal. In the course of a very interesting ceremony there the minister officially opened the largest grain elevator that port possesses. More than 600 guests from all over Canada were in attendance at the opening ceremony, as well as at the elaborate luncheon which preceded it.

Major G. W. Stephens welcomed Mr. Hazen. President of the harbor commissioners of the port of Montreal, he presented the minister with a silver tray with a decorative border of shears of grain showing the full heads, and in the centre an engraved representation of the new elevator.

Mr. Hazen and party later left for Sorel, where, in the evening the minister of marine and fisheries was the guest of honor at the most successful banquet ever held in the St. Lawrence river town. There were 700 guests in attendance, and although the majority of them were French-Canadians and unable to understand all the minister said in response to the toast in his honor, there was no doubt as to the enthusiasm with which he was received.

In fact Mr. Hazen's whole visit to Sorel was largely in the nature of a personal triumph. Several fine arches in his honor were erected in the principal streets and private houses were brilliantly illuminated and ablaze with bunting.

Hundreds of people lined the streets and the minister's carriage, the centre of an enthusiastic crowd all the way from the landing stage to the Grey Nuns' Hospital where the banquet was held.

Leaving Sorel on Thursday morning Mr. Hazen continued to Quebec on the C. & N. East Grey. Mr. Hazen had as special guests on the steamer Chief Justice Barker of the Supreme Court, W. H. Thorne, J. R. Stone of this city.

On Friday evening the minister was the guest of the Quebec Harbor Commissioners at a banquet in the Chateau Frontenac. At the banquet there was an insistent demand for the appointment of W. Price, formerly member for Quebec West, as chairman of the re-organized Quebec Harbor Commission.

Mr. Hazen in the course of his address emphasized the need of better terminal and harbor facilities, and urged Quebec to take a leaf out of Montreal's book in this matter. He hoped the time would come when Canadian produce would be carried all the way over Canadian lines to be shipped to the Canadian ports, and that Quebec would always help the government in the attainment of this object.

The government would not fail to provide Quebec with the necessary funds, he said, if the men on its Harbor Commission were as those in Montreal.

Other speakers were the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, W. T. White, Dr. Reid, and Creators, W. Price, Mayor Drouin, A. Sevrigny, V. Chateaufort, Armand Lavigne and Mayor Bernier.

From Quebec Mr. Hazen with Chief Justice Barker, Mr. Thorne and Mr. Stone came on to St. John, travelling by private car attached to the Ocean Limited.

NEW BRUNSWICK A GOOD SHEEP COUNTRY

(Canadian Textile Journal.)

J. A. Telfer, who belongs to a notable Ontario sheep-raising family, has been for the last two or three years in the business of the wool industry in New Brunswick. He is so favorably impressed that he is embarking in the business in that province, and has also induced local capitalists to assist. The enterprise is likely to prove of considerable importance to the agricultural interests of the province by the sea. For many years the wool industry has been the backbone of the country, New Brunswick is peculiarly adapted to sheep-raising, and seldom subjected to the droughts which prove so detrimental on occasion to Ontario breeders. Sheep-raising, too, would do far to solve the fertility of the soil problem in New Brunswick, which is one reason why farming in that province is not a popular occupation, having quite largely been carried on as a side-line, to which fishing and lumbering are the main concomitants. With cattle and particularly sheep to look after in the winter time, the New Brunswick farmer would take a higher plane agriculturally.
