

This week at U of A

The University of Alberta's Department of Athletics on Tuesday officially opened their 1987-88 season with a press conference and unveiled their first big promotion of the season.

"A Sports Weekend" it is billed and with the amount of sports going on this weekend they are absolutely correct.

The Bears football team plays the University of Saskatchewan Huskies at Varsity Field Saturday at 1 pm. The Pandas field hockey club hosts the first CWUAA tournament this year at the Universiade Pavilion Saturday and Sunday. The Golden Bears hockey club hosts the U of A Junior Invitational Tournament, where many AJHL teams will participate. Games go all weekend at Varsity Arena. Also, if you're interested in soccer action, the Bears play their first conference games against the University of Saskatchewan on Saturday at 2 pm., while the Pandas host the Alberta Cup Friday through Sunday. All of the soccer games are held at the Faculte St. Jean field (8406 - 91 Street).

Athletics is also hosting "BASH 101 - Freshman Survival Party" at Lister Hall at 8:30. Their aim is to get the first years' on campus in university athletics. All first year students get in free while everyone else must get their tickets from the Department of Athletics.

Another item brought up at the press conference was the hiring of Stephanie Bishop as women's gymnastics coach. Bishop has been an assistant coach of the Pandas for four years and has competed for them for one year. Bishop takes over one of the best gymnastics programs in Canada, one that has won nine Canada West titles in fifteen years and two CIAU titles. Last year's squad finished second in both Canada West and CIAU.
