Walking into Amby Legere's office Tuesday evening, we were surprised to find the otherwise cheerful coach despondent and thoughtful. He did not notice us at first so we sat down and watched him dial a number on the telephone. "Would you please take the following notice for your morning paper", he was saying. "U. N. B. vs. Saint John Boxing meet has been called off at the Saint John manager's request..." What a blow it was to our hard working Amby, and as much as we insisted that it was not his fault, the more he insisted that he should take the disappointment of some two thousand fans on his shoulders. By the time we were ready to leave we were more than convinced about how necessary it is to deliver the goods once the deal has been made, and we were more than assured of the worries that only a good coach undergoes. The cigarette butts had long since over-flowed the ash tray on the desk and were now dropping consistantly on the filed floor.
