Horrible Sickness of Your Stomach?

Then You Have Sick Headache!

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Mr. Samuel J. Hibbard, Belleville, Ont., writes: "Last spring I was very poorly, my appetite failed me, I felt weak and nervous, had sick headaches, was tired all the time and not able to work. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters recommended for just such a case as mine and I got two bottles of it, and found it to be an excellent blood medicine. You may use my name as I think that others should know of the wonderful merits of Burdock Blood Bitters."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

TRESPASS—BREEDING MARES.

1. Can a man take down your fences and pass through your fields, and use it for a road in the winter, without permission, because his lane drifts full of snow?

2. Can I compel him to keep off of my property, and shovel out his lane?

3. Is there any distance from the road that a man with a stallion is allowed to breed mares in sight of the public road?

SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—1. Not legally.

2. You could prosecute him for trespass, if, after warning, he should persist in so doing.

3. There is no arbitrarily-fixed distance.

WART ON COLT.

Please describe treatment for wart on top of colt's head, just back of the halter band. It has been on all winter. Have been rubbing with castor oil, and tied a silk cord around it. It came off a couple of weeks ago, and another is growing on again. It was about one and a half times as big as a hen's egg.

A. M.

Ans.—Get from your druggist a stick, or pencil, of caustic potash; slightly damp the top of the wart, and rub it gently with the pencil, being careful not to wet so that moisture runs down on the skin. Repeat the application once a day till the roots are burnt out. Touching the wart daily with butter of antimony, with a feather, is also recommended by some veterinarians instead of the potash. If the latter is used, it must be kept from the air, and the fingers protected by paper when handling the pencil.

PLANTING MAPLE SEEDS.

1. When do the seeds of soft maple ripen, and how long can they be kept after ripening before planting to insure germination?

2. When do the hard maple seeds ripen? Are they best planted in the fall, or will it do to keep them till the next spring? I wish to send some of both to a friend in the West this summer.

W. M. G.

Ans.—1. The seeds of the soft maple ripen in the spring. The silver maple or white maple seed ripens in Southern Ontario, about the last week in May to the first week in June. The red maple ripens usually a few days later than the silver maple. These two maples are commonly called soft maples, and their seed should be sown as soon as it falls to the ground. It can be sown in beds, similar to garden seed, and will germinate in a few days.

2. Hard-maple seed ripens in autumn, about September. The seed may be planted at once, or it may be kept over till the following spring. It should be kept in a dry, cold place.

E. J. ZAVITZ.

DITCHING—ROAD ALLOWANCES

A small watercourse, which runs a few weeks during spring and fall, crosses farms owned by A and B. There is a public road between said farms. B objects to water going across his farm, and asks the council to cut a ditch on the road to take water to a larger watercourse, 100 rods distant. C owns a farm through which the larger watercourse runs, and objects to having the extra water pass over his farm, claiming it would injure his property. A's farm is damaged considerably because watercourse is not opened up properly.

1. Can council divert water from small course to larger one if owner of property through which large course runs objects?

2. Who should take action first in this matter, and how, to have it settled properly? Explain fully.

3. Do municipalities control road allowance around small lakes?

4. Can council give anyone a title to a portion of such allowance?

Ontario.

Ans.—1. We think that they cannot properly do so.

2. A would seem to be the proper party to initiate any proceedings. The Ditches and Watercourses Act (Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, Chap. 285) prescribes procedure of which he may avail himself.

3. Generally speaking, yes.

4. Yes.
