. E. M. M. M. M. M. 1010. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1910.

ADVOCATES, SOLICITORS, Etc. 7 PLACE D'ARMES

sard, K.C. H. A. Cholette, LL. B. Thomas M. Tausey, B.C.L.

ates, Barristers and Solicitors 160 ST. JAMES ST. Guardian Bidg

Conroy Bros. 193 CENTRE STREET

Practical Plumbers, Gas and Steamfitters

Estimates Given. Jobbing Promptly Attended To

Lawrence Riley

PLASTERER

successor to John Riley. Established in 1860 min and Ornamental Plastering. Repairs of kinds promptly attended to.

15 Paris Street, Point St. Charles.

D. H. WELSH & CO

and Confectio

10-12 HERMINE STREET, MONTREAL

Manufacturers of the Famous D. H. W Brands Caramels and Everton Toffee. Banquets, Wedding Suppers, etc. Perrona attention. PHONE FIAIN 5301

W. G. Kennedy

419 Dorchester West

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

SPECIALTY: PLATE WORK

DENTIST

HRS. 9 TO 5.

- Main 3IT4.

L KAVANAGH, K.C. PAUL LACOSTE, LL.S. BROSSARD, CHOLETTE & TANSEY shore Main 1490 Barnard & Dessaulles ADVOCATES Bavings Bank Building, 160 St. James Bell Telephone Main 1679. Bell Tel. Main 3552, Night and day service.

DAY, FEBRUARY 17, 191

illiant lime-green satin a loveliest colors in arti-was made in the loveliest or any less becoming fa-fourreau was veiled by hiffon of the same bril-of green, which we ft folds around the bo-ver the shoulders, these ang held in place by of silver lace which rose colletage in front, and sloped away under the sloped away under the back, where the band back, where the band le crossed at the back wan to the front where he chiffon tunic at the A wide ribbon of the satin, folded narrow, here here among the folded narrow, the back of the bodice, over the left shoulder e bust en sautoir and , where it widened out wise, following one of illver lace to the bot-irt, where the folds iliver lace to the bot-irt, where the black at the left, side in a tred with a big Ca-d set in silver. The parely reached the el-uply draperies of the bordered with a nar-iliver lace. The spiral and silver winding liver lace. The spiral and silver winding om figure in brilliant exceedingly beautiful effect; but I am not that the whole effect ould not have been cessful if the tunic cessful if the tunic ack chiffon instead of liant green as the ffects given by bands, inertis given by bands, beries are very popu-in Paris, the cross-panels of the over-of the prettiest me-used in smart af-as well as in morn-the crossed effect were exemplified in ess I saw recently, odel of elegant and ty. It was a cor Chinese blue sati th a broad band of th a broad band of he color. These sa-e carried up behind, so the top of the iraped blouse bodice ile exactly matching black and the segreen, which only of color, while the n the Chinese blue ock satin band was

"And what is your dress like, Miss Wilmot rose. Ethel?" Miss Wilmot questioned, "Come with me, but without much eagerness. That, however, Ethel Lane did not notice. I are about the s in my youth I was 'Come with me, child. You and I are about the same height, and in my youth I was as slim as you, Perhaps a dress of mine may fit "It is beautiful! and, dear Miss Wilmot. I can't say how grateful I am to you for taking me in. The Danbys are simply crowded." vou.''

Ethel followed her hostess Ethel followed her hostess obedi-ently if dubiously to her bedroom. From an old-fashioned chest of drawers Miss Wilmot took a parcel swathed in sheets and many wrap-pings of tissue paper. When the latter were unfolded a heavy white silk gown, embroidered with hearts and arrows, was exposed to view. "Oh, yes, I suppose so," Miss Wil-mot assented. "You say Mrs. Danby is to call for you?" 'Yes, of course. Mamma wouldn't allow me to go to a fancy dress ball unchaperoned," the young girl laughed, as she helped herself to an-other piece of cake, "and she knew "I went to a fancy ball as 'Queen of Hearts,' once upon a time,'' Miss Wilmot explained, with a smile. "The silk has yellowed very little, and the style of dress is suitable for also that you never go out much, Miss Wilmot." "No, my dear; one can't go about much on crutches," Miss Wilmot smiled and added. "The Town Hall and the style of dress is suitable for any time. Try the bodice on." Ethel obeyed. The quaintly made bodice fitted her perfectly, and if the gown was a trifle short, that was unimportant, seeing that the silk shoes, each ornamented with a red heart, were exposed to view.

"les it large?" "Very large; but the ball, being given for a charitable purpose, will draw a large crowd; and the Duch-ess of Bellmont, who is patroness, is very popular." "I have never been at a ball be-fore," Ethel said. "Even the slippers fit you," Miss Wilmot said, critically surveying her guest. "You can wear the dress, Ethel."

"Lucky you!" the elder lady com-mented. "I almost envy you." Ethel finished her tea and cake, and leaned back in her chair. "Oh, how good you are!" Ethel cried. "The dress is so lovely and old-fashioned!" She stepped back and viewed herself in the cracked "The Danby girls are to be dress-ed as flowers-Christina as a rose, Maud as a lily. I am to be a dan-lelon." mirror on the dressing table with increasing pleasure. "My costume or his file. Later he harried and became an important political per-sonage. He died many years ago." "Oh!" Ethel said, disappointed. "I was sorry to act as I did. I had to give up many friends, among them the family means I had here them the family where I had been governess when I became engaged." 'And you gave them all up utterly?'

Ralph free

'Yes, it was better so. I liked Ralph too well to spoil his life. Ralph too well to spoil his life. I removed to another part of Eng-land. Look, here is a fan given me by my employer's nephew, Wal-ter Leigh." Miss Wilmot opened a fan formed of ivory and white silk. "You can have it, too-it matches the dress," Miss Wilmot said. "Poor Walter! He was a good lad, but he quarrelled with his uncle, I heard."

While Ethel Lane was making some little necessary alterations in new costume, Walter Leigh wa menting the weakness which her had made him yield to his friend's plead-made him yield to his friend's plead-ing, and leave London to attend the ball organized by his friend's aunt, the Duchess of Bellmont. "I'm not a dancing man, you know, Guy," he said from his cor-ner of the railway carriage, "and what use I'll be to-night I don't know."

know." "Nor I," Guy Thorne agreed cheerily, "but my awnt made me swear to bring somebody, and one must keep one's pledges." "I hope you keep all your promise Guy said.

girl, and an extremely good darcer, she had no lack of partners. When a grave-faced man was presented to her just before supper she glanced at her programme, and began an "But, Miss Lane," Juy Thorne interrupted. "Mr. Leigh doesn't wish for a dance. If you have one to spare give it to me. Walter can't dance." fall.

TOTAL WITHING AND CATHORIC CHEONIC

THE TRUE WITNESS ... ND CATHOLIC CHRONICLE.

an't dance." "Oh!" Ethel let her programme all. Guy Thorne had been intro-luced to her early in the evening, and had danced several times with duced her. "But he does want to know you got your fan." Guy said, and then Walter Leigh intervened. "Don't think I asked out of imper-tinent curiosity, Miss Lane," he said. "A fan like that once belong-ed to a lady that I should like to know of-"

"Miss Wilmot?" Ethel interrupted. "Yes. Do you know anything of er?" Walter inquired anxiously.

"Yes. Walter inquired anxious." her?" Walter inquired anxious." "She lives a few miles away." and Ethel told of her lost ball-dress in a few quick sentences. Next day Walter walted on Miss "Next day Walter walter that all "the valid" Next day waiter waited on ailss wilmot with the final result that all law proceedings against the validi-ty of his uncle's will were dropped, and in due time Mount Royal beand in due time Mount Royal be-came his home. Now and then Miss Wilmot visits him and his wife and on such occasions Guv Thorne and Mrs. Thorne, nee Ethel Lane, are asked to meet her.

The Tail of a Comet.

(Chicago Tribune.)

The "three billion leagues of tail" of a comet puzzles the astronomers. Of the various theories that have been put forward to account for the repulsion of comets' tails, besides been put forward to account for the repulsion of comets' tails, besides the electrical theories, probably the most popular ascribes the streaming away from the sun to the effect of light pressures. When radiation of ary kind, sunlight or the heat from a fire, falls on a surface it exerts a pressure on that surface tending to drive it back.

Light pressures must act, and pro bably acts powerfully on the minute particles which constitute' a comet's tail, but a careful analysis of the strange motions and transformations taking place have convinced many many astronomers that other forces are at work modifying, and in some cases increasing, the repulsion. The enve-lopes of a comet are wreaths or veils thrown out towards the sun and veils thrown out towards the sun and flowing away on each side. They are not like the streamers from the nu-cleus, for they seem quite detached, forming an arch over the head. A fountair, consisting of a large num-ber of jets of water in different di-rections shows a sort of dome, which when seen sideways exactly imitates when seen sideways exactly imitates he envelope of a comet. It is not merely a bounding sur-ace beyond which none of the wathe face ter ter is projected. The arch is thick-ened along this surface. When the water is turned on fuller the arch rises. If is turned off gradually it sinks, but if it is turned off sud-denly the arch does not subside, but vanishes. The water subsides, but the thickening vanishes. Prof. A. S. Eddington, of Great. Britain. thinks it can hardly be doubted that the envelopes of a comet are formed in this way. The explosion from which the envelope is projected. The arch is thick explosion from which the envelop results throws out matter with fairly uniform speed in all directions this matter being under the influ-ence of the solar repulsion, just as the Catholic hierarchy in America, for aid in the work of evangelizing the Indians and negroes of that in the analogous case the water was country. The appeal set forth that there

Whatever may be the true cause of the phenomena of comets' tails, it is at least clear that the source was an especially great opportunity

Father Morriscy's "No. 10" (Lung Tonic) Has Made Wonderful Cures

Father Morriscy's "No. 10" (Lung Tonic) has not only cured thousands of ordinary cases of throat and lung troubles, but also scores of cases that were considered hopeless. It is no ordinary remedy that saves a man after doctors and friends have given up hope of his recovery from that dread disease, consumption. Yet there are well known cases where Father Morriscy's 'No. 10' has done this. Mr. Miles Maroney, of Blissfield, N.B., was one of the fortunate ones. He writes :

"As a patient of Father Morriscy's I would thank you for an oppor-tunity of giving expression to the benefits I have received from his prescriptions and medicines, not on one occasion, but at different times. Some eight years ago I had occasion to apply to the Rev. gentleman for treatment for lung trouble which proved to be of a serious nature; so serious was my case that my friends looked upon my recovery as almost hopeless, but after his treatment I am thankful to say that to-day I am in perfect health."

Trial size 25c. per bottle. Regular size 50c. At your dealer's.

FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO. LTD., Chatham, N.B.

To Use Famous Church.

The Church of San Silvestro in Capite, one of the most famous edi-fices in the Eternal City, has been placed at the disposal of the Knights of Columbus during their story in der the auspices of the original cor-porators of the order.

a letter to Professor J: C. Monagha return to redessor J. C. Monagh-an from the Rev. Robert L. MacNee-ly, now acting rectors of the church. Father MacNeely is the only known Catholic priest, now residing in Rome who is a member of the order.

Taft to Honor St Patrick.

President O'Taft is going to honor the birthday of St. Patrick by going to Chicago, where the Irish Fellow-ship Club is to give a big banquet that night. It is understood that the President is to have the "O" of-ficially placed before his name at the banquet.

Catholics to Aid Indians and Negroes

Much interest was expressed on Sunday last at the fact that in all the Catholic churches in the United States. there was read at the masses and vesper services an appeal signed by Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ry-an of Philadelphia, and Archbishop Farley of New York, in the name of that the banquet.

This privilege was made known in of Columbus during their stay Rome on the occasion of the pilgri-

of the power which forms them and | for the Catholic Church in this work which directs them is to be found in the sun. The exceptional activi-ty of Halley's comet may be due to the physical state of the sun at the time rather than to the con-stitution of the object itself.

67

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

Is A Remedy Without An Equal For COUGHS,

COLDS, And All Affections Of The THROAT and LUNGS.

Ooughs and Oolds do not call fee a minute recital of symptoms as they are known to everyone, but their dangers are not understood so well. All the most us affections of the throat, the lungs and the bronchial tubes, are, in the begin ning, but coughs and colds.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the admonition to all persons affected by the insidious earlier stages of threat and hung disease, as failure to take hold at once will cause many years of suffering, and in the end that terrible scourge of "Consump-

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrap in not Sold as a Cure for Consumption

but for affections tributary to, and that result in, that disease. It on result in, that disease. It combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with other absorbent, expostreast and soothing medicines of recognized worth, and is absolutely harmless, prompt and safe. Bo great has been the success of this wonderful remedy, it is only natural that memorous persons have tried to imitate it. Dan's be ham bugged into taking anything but "Dz. Wooda". Put up in a yellow weapper; thereo pine trees the tondo masky price 25 consta.

ST. PATRICK'S SOCIETY .- Estab Mshed March 6th. 1856; incorporated 1868; Meets in St. Patrick's ated 1868; Meets in St. Patrick's Hall, 92 St. Alexander street, first Monday of the month. Committee meets last Wednesday. Officers: Rev. Chaplain, Rev. Gerald Mc-Shane, P.P.: President, Mr. H. J. Kavanagh, K. C.; 1st Vice-Presi-dent, Mr. J. C. Walsh; 2nd Vice-President, W. G. Kennedy; President, W. G. Kennedy; dent, Mr. J. C. Walsh; 2nd Vice-President, W. G. Kennedy; Treasurer, Mr. W. Durack; Corres-ponding Secretary, Mr. T. C. Ber-mingham; Resording Secretary, Mr. T. P. Tansey; Asst.-Recording Se-eretary, Mr. M. E. Tansey; Mar-shal, Mr. B. Campbell; Asst. Mar-shal, Mr. P. Conrolly.

Synopsis of Canadian North-West

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS HUMESTEAD REGULATIONS ANY even numbered motion of Doma-ion Land in M-maitoba, Saminiche-men and Alberta, azcepting 8 and 36, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a hmily, or any mais over 14 years of hmily, or any mais over 14 years of hmily, or any mais over 14 years of hmily, or any more or lass. Entry must be made personally et the local land office for the distribut in which the land is stunted. Entry hor proxy may, however, be 'A dandelion!'' "Yes, the idea is new. My frock is view of yellow silk, covered over with white chiffon, and trimmed with the yellow flowers and white fluffy 'o'clocks,' Miss Wilmot.'' "Yes, the children call them so Won't you come upstairs, and Miss Wilmot mounted the stairs will scarcely accommodate crowd."

"Is it large?"

delion.

with the aid of her crutch and suick. She had been a governess in her youth, and a lucky windfall in the shape of a legacy from a dis-tant relative added to her own mo-det existence are hed as dest savings, emabled her to live in moderate comfort. She rented a small cottage not far from Danby Hall, and this fact had been re-membered only when the Danby girls had written to their school-fellow telling her of the fancy ball, and regretting their inability to give her house room. Then Mrs. Lane re-called that Miss Wilmot and she were remotely connected, and a let-were remotely connected, and a let-ter had been written to the ex-gov-erness, who responded by sending a cordial invitation to Ethel. The girl knelt down by a large basket trunk and proceeded to open it. Suddenly she gave a gasp. "What is it, my dear?" Miss Wil-mot asked.

"Oh, look, look!" Ethel cried, pointing to the basket, wherein reposed a plentiful collection of baby garments—white frocks, elaborately trimmed, hoods and bonnets, soft, lluffy, knitted socks and boots, besides a numerous lot of pinafores and two or three white shawls. "Oh look, Miss Wilmot!" Miss Wilmot peered into the bas-mirror on the dressing table with increasing pleasure. "My costume would look merely commonplace be-side this, Miss Wilmot," she safd. "I only wore it once," Miss Wil-mot remarked. "I was engaged to be married then to—a rich man's son. Ralph's people did not like the match—I was poor. They gave a reluctant consent to it, however. Then I met with the accident which left me crippled for life. I left Ralph free."

"And he?" Ethel inquired. "Did he accept his freedom?" "He had no choice. I passed out of his life. Later he married and