SACRED HEART ORPHANAGE.

SACRED HEART ORPHANAGE. During a recent visit to Toronto we drove out in company with Vicar General Rooney to Sunnyside, near Parkdale. Our intention was to pay a visit to Mother de Chantal, late of the House of Provi-dence—and we expected to find her in the old frame building with her twenty little nurslings raved from the moral wrecks of city life. What was our astonishment on alighting from our conveyance to find ourselves in presence of an imposing edi-fice of red brick and sandstone, beautifully and substantially finished in every detail of red brick and sandstone, beautifully and substantially finished in every detail tructure was the design of the now cele-brated architect, Connolly, and the work of Mother de Chantal, who is grand and great in all her works. This edifice gives ample accommodation to one hundred and fifty boarders, who are all well fed and well clothed, and well educated, and trained religiously and mor-ally by the Sisters of St. Joseph. They are the male orphans brought here last where more room is required for the daily increasing number of girl orphans, and of the old, the helpless, the destitute, and the incurable. THE HONORED DEAD.

ARRIVAL OF REV. FATHER MAGUIRE'S RE-MAINS IN HAMILTON-THE OBJEQUIES TO DAY.

MAINS IN HAMILTON-THE OBSEQUES TO DAY. There was a large assemblage of the Roman Catholics of the city on the plat-form of the G. T. R. depot as the train from the west arrived at 6.30 last evening, on board of which were the remains of the late Father Maguire, of Galt, and which were accompanied by the Rev. Fathers Brohman, Mildmay; Owens, Ayton; O'Reilly, Macton; Doherty, Arthur; Len-non, Brantford, and twenty of the leading Roman Catholics of Galt (from whom were selected the pall-bearers), as a last tribute of respect to their beloved pastor. Rev. Fathers Craven, Bergman and Halm, of this city, were in waiting on its arrival. After the coffin was placed in the hearses a procession was formed consisting of four or five hundred men of the three parishes of the city. The cortege then moved to St. Mary's Cathedrel, which was well filled. The body was taken charge of at the door by pall-bearers of the city, and on entering was met by Rev. Father Lennon, vested, who recited the De Profundis and appro-priate service for the dead as the solemn procession moved slowly to the sanctuary, the vast concrection standing. The who recited the De Profundis and appro-priate service for the deal as the solemn procession moved slowly to the sanctuary, the vast congregation standing. The cofin being placed on a catafalque, when the services were ended, the people were allowed to view the remains. They passed up one side of the church and down the other to prevent confusion. Many silent tears were shed, especially by mem-bers of St. Patrick's, by whom he was sincerely loved, as they viewed him for the last time as he lay in his priestly garb. The Sanctuary depicted the grief of the church for one of her sons. It was deeply draped in mourning and the altar stripped of all decorations. There were many beautiful floral offerings placed on the coffin. One, remarkable for its beautiful design, a cross and cushion, the latter inscribed with the words, "Our Pastor," a tribute from the Rev. Father's late congregation in Galt. The young ladies of the Sodality of St. Pat-rick's contributed a harp of white flow-ers. After the usual services of the Rosary, which takes place every night during the month of October, the vast concourse left the church. PRELIMINARY MEETING TO ORGANIZI BRANCH-ASSISTANCE FOR MR. PARNELL. Peterborough Review, Oct. 27.

BRANCH-ASSISTANCE FOR MR, PARNELL. Peterborough Review, Oct. 27. A preliminary meeting for the purpose of taking steps for the organization in Peterborough of a branch of the Irish National League was held in the Grand Central on Monday night. A considerable number of gentlemen, sympathizers with the national cause, were present. The Rev. P. Conway was called to the chair, and Mr. J. O'Meara was appointed secre-tary. After a few opening remarks the reverend gentleman introduced Mr. John P. Sutton, of Quebec, the organizer of the League in Canada. Mr. Sutton, in an able and eloquent speech, explained the object of the National League. Its purpose was to pro-vide funds for the support of the Irish Parliamentary party, to enable them to carry on their struggle for the establish-ment in Ireland of a local government like that which they possessed in Canada. This party was composed of men of abil-ity, journalists, members of the bar, and many other profesions, who in many in-ity, journalists, members of the bar, and many other professions, who in many in-stances had to give up lucrative positions to battle for their country's welfare. They had to combat with the seduc-tien of positions and place; bribes and offers of office were not wanting to encourage them to betray the national cause. The little party of forty who had so manfully resisted these tempta-tions were deserving of help and support from Irishmen and descendents of Irish-men of all creeds and classes. The strug-gle could not be carried on without funds, and the Irish people looked to their breth-ren in Canada as elsewhere to assist them pecuniarily as well as by their voice and pecuniarily as well as by their voice and sympathy. With eighty or ninety men at his back Mr. Parnell could insist upon meted out to Ireland. Mr. Sutton th explained how a branch of the National League was formed. A person might con-tribute to the Parliamentary fund and then not be a member of the league. Still, he hoped a large branch would be formed, as the moral influence exercised by large numbers combining and voicing their sentiments in regard to their native Donovan, Inspector, in regard to the Separate School of No. 1 West Wawan. or motherland, could not well be exag-gerated. He had received the most generous encouragement from Protestants and Catholics alike elsewhere. He hoped and Catholics alike elsewhere. He hoped the same would be the case in Peter-borough. Mr. Sutton then pointed out the progress of the Association in Canada and the United States, and gave an account of the amounts received and for-warded to Mr. Parnell. He concluded a warded to Mr. Parnell. He concluded a fine speech by pointing out that Mr. Par-nell's aims were really of as much advan-tage to the English and Scotch as to the Irish. The power to make laws of mere local utility in a Parliament of their own choice on their own soil, would relieve the already overburdened Parliament of a vast mass of work, and enable them to devote their time to the complicated questions of their time to the complicated questions of foreign and general policy in a thorough After the Rev. Father Conway and other gentlemen had spoken, it was decided to call a public meeting for the purpose of obtaining contributions to the Parliamentary fund, the time selected for the holding of the same to be announced in the newspapers. The following resolution was moved by Mr. J. O'Meara, seconded by Mr. John Mr. 5. O near, seconded by mi. 5. Hackett, and unanimously adopted :-"Whereas the demand of the Irish people that the laws for the government of their native land should be made on their own soil and by their own countrytheir own soil and by their own country-men, for their country's benefit, is only the just and righteous privilege accorded to every nation, and is the right enjoyed by the people of this Dominion ; and whereas the means employed by the Irish people for the recovery of this right of which they have been so long and unjustly dervised are such as are annetioned by deprived are such as are sanctioned by constitutional law and the precepts of
