As numerous complaints have been made as to the manner in which ticket holders were used at the High School concert I wish to define my position. It is evident that there is neither law or justice in a system that refuses a seat to a person at 7.30 which is given to another person at 830, when a uniform price has been charged. There is no doubt that the sale of a ticket constitutes a contract that is binding on the parties that sell it and the person holding the ticket should have a right to demand that their rights be granted, and I would recommend in future where admittance is refused that the matter be reported to the village officer at once. People that drive long distances to a concert that is widely advertised should be treated with some consideration. Of course, it was necessary to reserve seats for the school, but apart from that it would seem, under the circumstances. that everybody should be on an equal footing. I wish to declare here that in future that I will not be responsible in a general way for keeping order, but will be ready to act in special cases only. F. BLANCHER, Village Officer.

Poultry Fair Larger than Ever

Are the farmers coming into their own ? It seemed so on Poultry Fair day, Friday, Dec. 10. The prices they received for birds made business men dizzy with envy. Snow had fallen, and though many sleighs came into the village, wheeled vehic'es predominated. Approximately the sum of $11.500 was paid out at the cashier's wicket in the Merchants Bank ! Buyers had numerous depots at which they purchased the poultry and paid in cheques.

The ruling prices were : Turkeys. 22c to 281c. Ducks, 17c to 18c.

Geese, 12c to 14c. Chickens, 16c to 19c.
