FARMERS MEET IN FREDERICTON.

Farmers' and Dairymen's Association Held Very Successful Convention Last Week.

The annual convention of the Farmer's and Dairymen's Association was opened in Fredericton on the 12th. Donald Innis delivered an excellent address on sheep raising. Hon. L. P. Farris dealt with the crops of the past year. In potatoes there was a falling off of 165,000 bushels, but other crops showed an increase. Crop returns were as follows: Wheat, 406,580 bushels, average per acre, 19.5; oats, 5,695,580, average, 29.2; barley, 99,355, average, 23.2; buckwheat, 1,179,998, average, 20.04; turnips, 2,780,932, average, 497.6; potatoes, 3,352,972, average, 133.1. The output of butter factories increased $8,106 over last year. The cheese output was 1,320,858 pounds. Total cash value of factory made cheese and butter was $373,963.

In closing, Hon. Mr. Farris stated that he would be pleased to receive and convey to the government any practical suggestions the farmers had to offer, and would endeavor to see that they were acted upon.

At the evening's session, Prof. Cummings, of the Truro Agricultural College, delivered a practical address on Sheep Raising in the Maritime Provinces.

He quoted from the last census returns to show that there were 172,000 less sheep in the maritime provinces in 1901 than was the case twenty years previous. He said that the maritime provinces were well adapted for sheep raising, and there was no reason why the industry could not be profitably carried on.

Wednesday evening, Prof. Klinck gave an address on Seed Selection.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. C. F. Whitley, of Ottawa, gave an address on The Improvement of Dairy Herds; and Wednesday afternoon, Mr. E. A. Rogers, of Brunswick, Me., dealt with the subject of Potato Culture.

WARS OF THE TOADS.

Some of the Oddities of This Peculiar Creature.

It is remarkable that the toad, lying water as it does, should wander away from watery regions to dry ground, where it can never see a drop of water except at rain time and leave its water rights to the undisputed possession of its rival neighbor the frog. How the toad loves water must be known to every garden lover. Whenever there is a shower the creature leaves its cool retreat under the piazza or shed and stands as far as its fore legs will let it, erect in the rain, apparently enjoying to the utmost the shower bath.

Whenever they are near the water at breeding time they deposit long, slimy strings of eggs, and the young toad has to go through the tadpole stage in common with his brother frog. But when they are wholly excluded by distance from the water they seem to have the power of being viviparous, or bringing forth their young alive. In the water fertilization is effected in the same manner as in fishes, but the method in the land life career is not known. About all that is known is that confined toads are found with little toads, no larger than house flies, about them after a time, and in walled gardens and places far removed from water little toads, no larger than peas, wandering around on their own resources and which could never have been tadpoles, are within common experience.

MARY CAMPBELL.

The Lassie Who Was the Original of "Highland Mary."

The original of "Highland Mary" was Mary Campbell, a highland lassie who was a servant at Castle Montgomerie, with whom Burns became acquainted during his residence at Moss-gill. To her he addressed the lines, "Will ye go to the Indies, my Mary?" and many others. In a note to one of his poems on Mary, Burns says: "After a pretty long time of the most ardent reciprocal feeling we met by appointment on the second Sunday of May in a sequestered spot by the banks of the Ayr, where we spent a day in taking a farewell before she should embark for the west highlands to arrange matters among her friends for our projected change of life. At the close of the autumn following she crossed the sea to meet me at Greenock, where she had scarce landed when she was seized with a malignant fever, which I could even hear of her illness." The love which Burns felt for Mary Campbell appears to have been deeper than any he ever felt before or after. Years later, when he was married and had a family, her memory inspired the pathetic lines "To Mary in Heaven," which breathe the soul of tender melancholy.—London Tit-Bits.

The Earth's Inside.

Is the earth made up of three concentric spheres? A physician says that such is the case. The solid nucleus he supposes to be between 3,000 and 7,000 miles in diameter, and this is surrounded by a liquid substratum, outside of which is the crust, variously estimated at 70 to 200 miles in thickness. More than two centuries ago a similar theory, including the slow rotation of the inner solid sphere on a different axis from that of the entire globe, was held by Dr. Edmund Halley to account for the changes in the earth's magnetism. The axis of the nucleus was thought to have been originally that of the entire globe, and to the change of its course was attributed the deluge. The earth's internal heat, it is now pointed out, may be accounted for by the friction of the different rotating bodies.

Bad Importations.

Englishmen introduced the rabbit to Australia, where it ruined vast areas of valuable land. Weasels sent to correct the mistake found ground birds good eating and let the rabbits alone. Scotsmen bestowed the thistle upon New Zealand and then wished they hadn't. A pretty water wheel of which Englishmen are fond was transplanted to New Zealand and throve so that it dams broad rivers. The mongoose sent to Jamaica to kill off the cane rats exterminated them and developed a fine liking for poultry.

"It Suits to a T."

The clause, "It suits to a T," meaning it fits exactly, is as old as the familiar instrument, the T square or T rule (so called from its resemblance to the letter T), used by mechanics and draftsmen for making angles true and for obtaining perpendiculars. The expression was in common use in the time of Dr. Johnson, who is quoted by Boswell as saying of a wharfedoor: "You see they'd have fitted him to a T."

The Changing Frenchman.

There was a time when having to cross the frontiers of his native land was regarded by a Frenchman as the greatest hardship he could undergo. Today he is the rival of the Anglo-Saxon where love of travel and adventure are concerned.

Sure of His Umbrella.

Departing Guest—Dear me, what a wet night! I wonder if you could give me the loan of an umbrella? Host—Certainly, but well, the fact is, I think I would be the better for a walk. I'll just take a turn home with you and shelter you by the way.

Bright Boy.

"Can you stand on your head?" asked a visitor of little Dudley.
"No," he replied. "It's too high up."
To grief there is a limit; not so to fear.—Elmer the Younger.
