

NEWS BY THE ENGLISH MAIL.

From the Illustrated London News, Dec. 22.

The news from Sebastopol this week is very meagre. The letters from the camp are full with complaints of the wretched condition of the English troops, who had, up to that time, made very insufficient provision against the inclemency of the weather.

The sufferings endured by the Russians are much greater than those to which the Allies were exposed during several days after the hurricane of the 14th inst.

The Russian army of Sebastopol is threatened by a danger which becomes every day more and more formidable—scarcity of provisions.

As regards the siege, active operations had been almost suspended in consequence of the inclemency of the weather.

The Constitutionnel publishes the full ring, dated 'Before Sebastopol, the 1st,' and guarantees its authenticity.

On the 25th ult., the French had 140 new pieces of cannon or mortar ready to open fire on Sebastopol.

Letters from Odessa state that the Russians feel great uneasiness at the operations which are directed from Eupatoria.

Immediately after the conclusion of the treaty of alliance with England and France, an order was issued from Vienna increasing the Austrian Army in the principalities by two brigades.

The Dux of Cambridge.—His Royal Highness, the Duke of Cambridge is at Therapia, near the Malakoff, and is not unwell, consequently, that the best must not be attributed to the Austrians and the Russians will be attacked on the 25th.

THE ENLISTMENT OF FOREIGNERS.

The British Ministry have introduced a measure into Parliament providing for the enlistment of 10,000 Foreign Troops.

The London Shipping and Mercantile Gazette says:—The Ministerial proposition to enlist Foreign Soldiers in the service of the Country seems to meet with the condemnation of almost the entire daily press.

As regards the want of a sufficient armory of reserve.—We have only to say that government have made a very serious mistake as to the proper remedy.

What is it that we want? What is that home produce of which the Duke of Newcastle apprehends scarcity, and therefore, wishes to supply its place with a foreign ingredient!

The Queen arrived at the houses of Parliament a few minutes before 2 o'clock, and having rode, entered the House of Lords where her Majesty read the following speech from the Throne.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

THE BALTIC FLEET.

The Baltic fleet has returned home, but such of them as amount 90 guns and upwards are ordered to the Crimea, for a double purpose—to convey troops, and to assist, if necessary.

According to accounts from Galatz, to the middle of the present month the detachment of Cossacks had passed the Pruth, and, in the presence of the Austrian troops, destroyed the supplies of hay and straw which had been prepared for the Russian army in Moldavia.

The Emperor of Russia is reported to be dying and it is not certain that she was alive when the account was transmitted from St. Petersburg.

VIENNA, Thursday.

A telegraphic despatch from St. Petersburg of the 12th inst. states, that if negotiations do not produce peace at the commencement of the year, a conscription is ordered throughout Russia of every 1000, producing an army of 1,000,000 soldiers.

A letter from Balkhiva, communicated by telegraph from Vienna, states that the English are preparing to embark some heavy siege artillery for the purpose, it was thought, of attacking Odessa, where the fleets would winter.

THE TREATY WITH AUSTRIA.

From the Illustrated London News.

The treaty of the 2d of December, by which Austria binds herself to the policy of Great Britain and France against Russia, has been differently interpreted by different persons.

But the Emperor of Russia has not yet entered into an alliance, offensive and defensive, against the Car; but, if she have not, the negative result is certainly more to the forbearance of Russia, than to the non-hostility of the attitude assumed by the Emperor or Francis Joseph.

THE question, though starting, is a suggestive one, when the fact is taken into consideration, that in the United Kingdom, nearly 100,000 persons die annually from some or other of the diseases which are the result of a diseased liver.
