HOW HE BECAME & MILLIONATRE.-Mr How at BECAME A MILLIONATEL.—Mr, McDonough, the Millionaire, late of New Orleans, has engraved upon his tomb a se-ries of maxims, which he had prescribed as the rules for his guidance through life, and to which his success in business is mainly attributable. The following is a copy,— "Rules for the Guidance of my Life, 1804—Remember always that labor is one of the conditions of our existence. Time is gold; throw not one minute away, but place gold; throw not one minute away, but place each one to account. Do unto all men as you would be done by. Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day. Never bid another to do what you can do yourself. Never covet what is not your own. Never bink morelas you would be done by. Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to day. Never bid another to do what you can do yourself. Never covet what is not your own. Never think any matter so triffing as not to deserve notice. —Never give out that which does not first come in. Never spend but to pro-dece. Let the greatest order regulate the transactions of your life.—Study in your course of life to do the greatest amount of good. "Deprive yourself of nothing necessary

"Deprive yourself of nothing necessary "Deprive yourself of nothing necessary to your comfort, but live in an honorable simplicity and frugality. Labor, then, to the last moment of your existence. Pursue strictly the above rules, and the Divine strictly the above rules of a very kind will flow blessing and riches of every kind will flow blessing and riches of every kind will flow upon you to your heart's content; but, first or of all, remember that the chief and great study of our life should be to tend, by all means in our power, to the honor and glo-stry of our Divine Creator. John McDo-nough, New-Orleans, March 2d, 1804. St The conclusion to which I have arrived is, that which it means are bench. that, without temperance, there is no health; without virtue, no order; without religion, no happiness; and the aim of our being is to live wisely, soberly and righteously.

A MOTHER'S INFLUENCE .- For myself, I am sure that a different mother would have made me a different man. When a boy, I was too much like the self-willed excitable Clarence; but the tenderness with which my mother always treated me, and the unimpassioned but earliest manner in which she reproved and corrected my faults, subdued my unruly temper. When I became restless or impatient, she always had a book to read to me, or a story to tell, or had some advice to save me from myself. had some advice to save me from mysen. My father was neither harsh nor indulgent towards me: I cherished his memory with respect and love. But I have different fielings when I think of my mother. I often feel, even now, as if she were near as if her cheek were laid to mine. My father would place his hand upon my kend, caressingly, but my mother would lay her check against mine. I did not ex-pect my father to do more—I do not know that I would have loved him better, had he done more; for him it was a natural ex-pression of affection. Her kiss upon my check, her warm embrace, are all felt now, and the older I grow, the more holy seems the influence that surrounded me in childhood —." The Mother," by T. S. Ar-

No. 120 Arch St., one door below Sixth Philada. Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cuses after skilful physicians had failed. These Bitters are worthy the attention of Invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of the liver and leaset glands, exercising the most scarching power in weakness and affections of the digestive or-gans, they are withal sofe, certain, and pleasant.

Measts. Jos. B. Hall & Co. Gentlement In ans-wer to your inquiries, I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, had been comblaining of a pain in her side, for six or seven years, and about the first January last, was taken down and confined to her bed. The pain in her side was very severe, beside being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. From reading a number of cures pur-formed by "Hoofland's German Bitten". I was in-duced to try it in her case, and sent to your store and parchased one bottle. She had taken it but a few days when she began to improve, and now, after tak-ing only one bottle, who is enjoying better health than she has for years. She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her care entirely to the German Bitters'. WILLIAM CLARK, Salmon Brook, Arosstock Co.; Me.
