THE HURON SIGNAL, FRIDAY, OCT. 31, 1884.

be interesting to our readers at to knew somethics new something concerning ing for the election of Pred Vice-President of the United States. The people of each State, as is well known, vete for the Presidential electors and not for the candidates indi-vidually. Each State has as many elec-tors as it has members of the National Senate and House of Representatives, both of which bodies constitute Con-ters and princesses, in whose veins flow When the vote is officially an-d, the electors chosen are notified press. When the vote is obcauly an nonneed, the electors chosen are notified of their election, and they meet at their respective State capitals on the first Wed-nesday in Becember, and cast officially lot for the candidates of their choice. The lists and record of the vote are signed, sealed and certified to and then transmitted to Washington, directed to the President of the Senate.

Congress, according to the statute, "shall be in seesion on the second Wed-needay in iFebruary, succeeding every meeting of the electors, and the certifi-cates, or somany of them as have been received, shall then be opened, the votes counted and the men to fill the offices of president and Vice-President ascer-tained and declared, agreeable to the

China's Warriers

Until within quite a recent period the Chinese soldiers had no uniform. They were distinguished from civilians by a little badge which they carried on the breast, on which was written the word Ping (warrior). The Chinese god of war, whose image may be seen in the temple of Ta-kien, at Pekin. is also represented in an ordinary costume, without anything military about it beyond the badge above mentioned. Recently, when the Chinese army was uniformed in European style,

The god is evident-It being supposed that should any obnoxious ingredient te included in the cup, or at least he has not as yet made warning of the fact would be given by a up his mind which one to take palpitation of the heart. In some remote country places in England this superstition is firm'y believed in. The other fingers are thought to possess a certain power of evil, but a wound or sore strok-ed by the wedding finger is expected by them soon to disappear; and the wed-ding mited in the method is a fewer years than Palmerding ring itself is by many supposed to have the same healing effect. The rings used by the Jews at their marriage ceremonies were sometimes very large in size and eleborate in design ; the Jewish erston. He is a grave man ; he works law demanded too, that they should be of a certain value, and to prove this to be the case, they were before the ceremony submitted to an examination. It was a rule, also, that the bridegroum should purchase the ring out of his own private resources, and not either obtain it on credit or as a gift from a friend ; and after the ring had been placed on the bride's finger, the marriage was conmidered then, as it is now, to be irrevocably binding. Among the fishermen on the west coast of Ire'and the wedding ring is kept as an heirloom in the family, and is considered the property of the eldest married daughter, consequently many of the wedding rings still worn by the fishwives of that district are quite old, and of exceedingly ancient design, being manufactured as far back as the Elizabethan era. In the sixteenth century both marriage and betrothal rings were made with a motto or posy inscrib-I inside, and to these Shakespeare, in two or three of his plays, refers.-[Cassell's Domestic Dictionary.

He has not the gay and light mind, the bonhomie, that was so characteristic of Palmharder at the great problems of state, of political and international morals, of economics, than Palmerston ever did. We are speaking apart from all political questions and issues; we are speaking from a philosophical standpoint; and we
