The claimant to this honor is J. D. McColl, who, according to an exchange, put the heavy shot, at the Montreal Caledonian games, 37 feet, 9 inches, beating all previous records by five inches. We have not the slightest doubt but that McColl put the stone the exact distance credited him, but he didn's "break the record" all the same didn't "break the record" all the same, for at the Chicago base ball tournament games a few weeks ago, Mr. John McPherson, of Kintail, put the heavy stens 38 feet 1 inch. This is the best record so tar made this season with a full 21 lb. shot, and until it is beaten John retains the ownership of the

B. B. PICNIC.

The North Street Methodist Church Sunday School Has a Good Time at the Old Camp Meeting Ground, Holmesville.

For the past few years the Sunday school of North street Methodist church has held its annual picnics in and around Goderich, and the various places suit-able had lost the interest the scholars may once have had in them, so this year it was proposed to change the ground, and the old camp meeting grove at Holmesville was the place decided upon.

Owing to some delay in making the bats, &c., &c., had been safely deposited in an express car attached for the purpose, conductor Ausebrooke sang out "All aboard," and the engine gave a "toot-toot," and the whole train, passen-gers and all, started at about 10 o'clock for Holmesville, nine miles away from home, which was reached in about twen-ty minutes. At the "station" conveyty minutes. At the "station" conveyances were waiting, and soon the provi sions, and necessary picnic appliances, were loaded up, and all started on foot for the grove, three quarters of a away.

After reaching the grounds, which were well suited for the purpose, the scholars scattered through the bush, while the male members of the party busied themselves putting up awings,
—carrying water. &c., while the female portion were preparing dinner; and as it was now about noon, is did not take long to gather the hungry host together. to partake of the bountiful supply of eatables. The scholars were seated upon the ground in circles, and after singing

"Be present at our table, Lord;
Be here and everywhere adored;
Thy creatures blese, and grant that we Msy rest in Paradise with Thee," the good things provided were passed around. It not being convenient to around. It not being convenient to make tea for so many, ice cold lemenade was provided in the shade of the forest After the waiters had gone round and round the "busy circles" quite a number of times, the ranks began to thin out, and very soon after a general stampeds was made for the swings by the young was made for the swings by the young folk. After the parents, teachers and friends of the Sabbath school had particles and afternoon in swinging the children, sitting in groups, chatting and singing, gathering ferns, and in various ways enjoying themselves. During the afternoon a base ball match was played between teams chosen by Howard Cox and John McPherson, the former's side winand at times was really good, but he has done better acting before. Mr Carroll did well for his first appearance. The heat and the slim audience doubtless took the snap out of the play. We expect better work, and fuller patronage later in the season. and everybody seemed to enjoy them-selves. There was plenty of provisions, and anyone feeling inclined could help themselves during the afternoon, and be-fore breaking up the picnic, a lunch was partaken of, after which the start was made for the station. All got safely on board the train and about five o'clock decided success.

On Monday a shipment of fruit for the Colonial Exhibition was made from Goderich on behalf of the Dominion Government by A. McD. Allan, the well-known fruit expert. The shipment consisted of twenty-five bushels of varieties of fruit, and the specimens are among the best of their class.
