Is ready to make your

Fall Suit or Overcoat!

We have not been saying much about our Tailoring Department lately—kind of considering it a case of "Actions speak louder than words," or, in other words, our Tailoring speaks for itself. The truth is, just now, our stock of LATEST FABRICS is so large and there is such a wide range to select from, this department is so well equipped to look after the clothing want of the most fussy men, as regards the quality of the tailoring, the fit of the garments, and the promptness with which orders are filled, that it is impossible to suppress an outburst of enthusiasm.

As we have just said the leading and most fashionable shades and effects from the best mills in the world are represented in a goodly array, thus we are prepared to suit every taste in this respect. Then the tailoring is all that it should be. We want to prove this to you.

Better value you will not find anywhere.

For instance:—

ALL LICENSES GRANTED

BOARD'S DECISION AND REASONS

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Sir.—Enclosed you will please find the decision of the Licensing Board in relation to certain applications for licenses, to the granting of which objections had been filed.

Yours truly,

(Sgd.) A. W. KNIGHT,
Sec'y of Licensing Board.

1. A. D. RANKIN & CO.
2. FREDK. C. COLLINS.
3. EMILY O'REILLY.

The Board considers that a license, or the right, (whatever the nature of that right may be), to expect a further grant of same from year to year, which is to be gathered from the Act, does not expire with the death of the licensee.

It does not necessarily follow that such licenses will, in all cases, be continued, but it appears to the Board that, ordinarily, the circumstances will be such that they will. It appears to the Board that, generally, persons unconnected with the deceased should be refused.

Nos. 2 and 3 of above cases fall within those cases in which ordinarily the licenses should be continued, and in No. 1 the circumstances are, in the opinion of the Board, such as to take it out of the general rule, and to warrant the Board granting or continuing the license to the applicants. The license in the latter case will, however, be granted to John J. Mulcahy, as he is sole owner of the premises, and A. D. Rankin & Co. is only his firm name.

The objectors depended solely on the argument that the Board had no power to grant or continue such licenses. No objection was made to the applicants personally.

MARY J. FLYNN.

The circumstances of this case are very peculiar. Applicant's former husband (one Feehan) held a license for the premises now occupied by her. Upon his death, some years ago, before the Act of 1906, his widow (the present applicant) continued the business, the license being granted to her. After she married her present husband (one Flynn) the license was granted in his name in pursuance of a policy followed by the police and the then Licensing Magistrate, of having all licenses held by men. The license was so continued for some years. Now Flynn neglects or refuses (as it is put) to apply for a license and the applicant applies in her own name. She has been and continues to be the owner of the premises and stock in trade.

Under these circumstances, the Board considers that the license should be granted to applicant. To hold otherwise would be to permit an Act of Parliament and the Licensing Board created thereunder to be made instruments to victimize the applicant. It does not follow that the Board would exercise its discretion in favour of any other applicant. Generally, and apart from the attendant circumstances of this particular case, it is conceived that it would not. No objection is made to applicant personally.

JOHN KELLY.

The Board is of opinion that the "premises" of this applicant is a "premises" that was licensed before the passing of the Act of 1910, and is, therefore, not subject to the provisions of that Act. The Board is of opinion that, having regard to the site and the nature and extent of the alterations, additions and deductions, the premises are now substantially the same as the premises licensed before the passing of the above Act. No objection is raised to the applicant personally. The application is, therefore, allowed.

ELLIS & CO.

The Board is asked to do in this case what practically amounts to a revision of its former decision, on the assumption that the former decision is erroneous. The consequences of the Board accepting the principle involved in this proposition is so far-reaching and serious, and is so contrary to the principle generally followed, that the Board cannot accede to it. It is consequently unnecessary to pursue the inquiry as to whether the Board was right or wrong in its former decision. If revision is desired, some Court of Appeal from the Board's decisions must be provided.

In the written objections, the charge is made that some concealment or suppression of facts from the Board by the applicant was made on her former application. If that had been shown to the Board to be true, the Board would have had no hesitation whatever in re-opening the whole matter. At the hearing, however, objectors' Counsel stated that he did not propose to show that the applicant had concealed or suppressed anything from the Board. No objection is raised to applicant personally. The application is, therefore, allowed.

T. J. ALLAN.

Upon inquiry, the Board finds that applicant has been convicted on three different occasions of offences against the License Act. These Acts provide several penalties, and in certain cases forfeiture of license for such offences. The applicant has suffered the penalties imposed by the magistrate, but he has not incurred the penalty of forfeiture.

Generally, the Board believes it should not refuse to continue licenses in such cases, and thus practically supersede the authority of the Courts of Law, but should act in conformity therewith. It does not follow, however, that the Board will refrain from acting where it is known to it that although an offender has not actually legally forfeited his license, he is a notoriously unfit and improper person to have one. After such inquiry as the Board has found practicable in this case, it is not prepared to refuse this application; and it is therefore allowed.

NOTICE.—Tenders will be received by the undersigned at his residence, Freshwater Road, for the sale of that well-known farm situated on the corner of Freshwater and Thorburn Roads, with houses, barns, horses and carriages, cow, pig, poultry, etc., and everything thereon; also, a new store—built this spring—with stock on hand. There could be a splendid business done in this locality as it is one of the most popular roads in the suburbs, and no rivalry to contend with. The farm contains about four acres of splendid soil, and has a frontage of 750 feet on Freshwater Road, and has a river running through—surrounded on all sides by different kinds of trees, and would be an ideal spot for some gentleman for a summer residence; it is one and a half miles from the General Post Office. Tenders will be received up to the 25th of the present month.—J. HAMLIN, Freshwater Road.—oct17, 11.

NOTHING DOING.—Owing to the stormy weather prevailing, the whalers Hump and Port Saunders did nothing with the whales the past few days.

Placentia Notes.

The s.s. Glencoe sailed from here at 8 a.m. Thursday, but when in the bay the machinery refused to work. She turned back and it was found that there was a hole in the boiler. Repairs were made and she resumed her voyage at 4 p.m. Friday, about 48 hours behind time. She had a full cargo and had to leave a car load behind to be sent across country.

The s.s. Coban was here the past week discharging coal for the R. N. Co. She sailed at 4 p.m. Wednesday. Mr. J. Whalen, of this place, joined her, taking the position of trimmer.

Master J. Connors went to St. Bon's College on Wednesday to complete his studies.

Partridge and rabbits are plentiful here now. Every day there is a fresh supply to be had. The former are not worth much, only about 40 cents a brace, and gunners don't care to shoot them for that price. The latter, however, fetch a very good price, 30 cents per brace.

Mr. J. Dunn, who was astray in the woods and suffered much from exposure, is now practically recovered and will soon be able to visit his friends again. Messrs. J. Mooney and E. O'Reilly, who were also sick of fever, are also steadily gaining strength.

Mr. W. Fewer, who for the past two weeks was here visiting his friends, returned to Grand Falls again on Tuesday. Quite a number of others also went in the same day.

About the middle of September Mr. J. Hartigan, engineer of the ferry boat, resigned. He left on a Saturday, and on Monday we were to have a new engineer for the boat; but that Monday is a long time coming. It never turned up. Mr. Weillman must have taken it and the engineer in his proposed trip across the Atlantic in the airship. It is, I suppose, a failure like all the rest. Failures are common things now—so common that the new is cast away and the old used. Yes, the "old black punt" is again in evidence, and will continue to be until times are changed and the Gut bridged.

Agricultural Exhibition

Last Wednesday the annual Agricultural Exhibition of the Harbor Grace Agricultural Society was held at that town. There was a large attendance, including several gentlemen, some of them from St. John's, viz., Sir Edward Morris, Hon. S. D. Blandford, E. Parsons, A. H. Seymour, Judge Oke, R. Devereaux and J. F. Downey. At the request of Dr. Strapp, President of the Board, Hon. S. D. Blandford, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, opened the exhibition. He congratulated the people of Harbor Grace on the excellence of their exhibition and the very fine samples displayed. The Premier was the next speaker. He delivered an address appropriate to the occasion and alluded to the agricultural policy of the Government and quoted Dr. Robertson and Dr. McPhail's opinions as to the possibilities of the future in store for farming in this country. Mr. J. F. Downey and R. Devereaux delivered speeches and pointed out advantages that would accrue from a vigorous campaign in favor of farming. Mr. Parsons and Mr. Seymour, members for the district, extended a hearty welcome to the visitors. Dr. Strapp, the President of the Board, then thanked the speakers for their encouraging words, after which the exhibition was declared to be open.

Dear Sirs.—Your traveller is here to-day and we are getting a large quantity of your MINARD'S LINIMENT. We find it the best liniment on the market making no exception. We have been in the business 18 years and have handled all kinds, but have dropped them all but yours; that sells itself; the others have to be pushed to get rid of.

C.C.C. Presentation.

Mr. P. F. Collins made the presentation of the new field drums and bugles to the C. C. C. at last night's meeting. He made an appropriate speech in doing so and congratulated the boys on their efficiency in athletics and music. The band will now have 12 new instruments and will be second to none in the city. Hon. Jno. Harris thanked Mr. Collins on behalf of the Corps. Lieut.-Col. Greene also made a short address, thanking the donors of the instruments. Rev. Fr. Sheehan, Chaplain of the Corps, who was also in attendance, addressed the lads with words of encouragement, advising them to lead good Christian lives. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Tilly of the Brilliant, who had been instructing the lads in the use of bugles and drums, which will be used by fourteen lads who will comprise the bugle band and march at the head of the Corps on parade next Sunday. The boys gave three hearty cheers for Mr. Collins before dispersing.

Second Annual Dinner

Of the Newfoundland Society of New York.

The second annual dinner of the Newfoundland Society of New York took place in the parlors of the Imperial Hotel, Brooklyn, on the eve of Columbus Day, the 11th inst.

In the absence of President Howell, Capt. John W. McGrath, the 1st Vice-President of the Society, presided, who in his opening address dwelt at length upon the aims and objects of the Society, exhorting all Newfoundlanders to enroll in its membership.

Letters regretting their inability to be present were read from Sir Edward Morris and Capt. Robert A. Bartlett.

Before proceeding with the usual after-dinner programme, the assembly stood and drank a silent toast to the memory of Charles Trippe, late Chairman of the Board of Governors and one of the founders of the Society, who died on June 16th last.

The Secretary's report for the past year was then read, after which the Secretary-elect, Mr. E. St. John Howley, made a brilliant speech, outlining the scope and policy of the Society in the future and convincing his hearers that Newfoundlanders in New York need, and must have, an organization on a plane somewhat higher than that of a mere social club.

In responding to the toast to the President of the United States, Dr. Thomas H. Gregory said in part, that after some years of intimacy with Newfoundlanders he felt proud, as an American, to say that no other nation contributed a more intelligent, straightforward and progressive citizen than the remnant of the good old Anglo-Saxon race coming from Newfoundland.

Councillor Edwin B. Woods responded to the toast to Sir Edward Morris, Premier of Newfoundland, in a brief and eloquent manner, which elicited the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

Mr. W. J. S. Ryall in a masterly speech appealed to the patriotism of Newfoundlanders, pointing out the great necessity for the upbuilding of our Society as a medium through which the interests of our native land may be promoted and by which we may be brought, as a people, into closer communion with the citizens of this country.

Mr. L. F. Saunders, a well known industrial promoter, who has spent much of his time in Newfoundland, gave a humorous description of one of his experiences in contending with one of the local blizzards which he

Had Eczema In Both Legs

Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended.

Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes:—"My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes sent free.

encountered on his arrival at Port aux Basques, in the month of February, some years ago, which evoked much amusement. He concluded by assuring the audience that something would happen in the near future, in the industrial way, which would prove a surprise as well as a great boon to Newfoundland.

Honorable Thomas O'Neill, a member of the New York State Assembly, in the course of a masterly address cited Captain Robert A. Bartlett as an instance of the excellence of the sons and daughters of the old Newfoundland vikings as citizens of this Republic.

Attorney Benj. R. Buffett, the Treasurer-elect of the Society, related some interesting and amusing reminiscences of his early experiences in pursuit of the funny tribes on George's Banks.

The feature of the evening was a recitation by Miss Genevieve Howell, daughter of the President of the Society, entitled "The Newfoundland Seamstress," which afforded great amusement. Amongst those who contributed to the musical programme of the evening was Miss Rose Foley, of Brigus, who rendered two solos most beautifully and which were much applauded.

The following named officers were elected for the ensuing year:— President, Edwin F. Howell; First Vice-President, Captain John W. McGrath; Second Vice-President, Henry P. Winter; Treasurer, Benjamin R. Buffett; Secretary, E. St. John Howley. Board of Governors—Fred. W. Finlay, Chairman; Capt. Edward Nichols, H. J. Miller, Edwin B. Woods, William H. Pike, Thomas M. Woodford, Thomas Sullivan, W. J. S. Ryall, Thomas F. Foley, P. J. Healy, Joseph Wiseman.

Following the election of officers a vote of thanks was tendered Thomas M. Woodford, the retiring Secretary, to whom much credit is due for the highly successful manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the Society since its inauguration, eighteen months ago. He gave a brief history of the Society, and it was with deep regret that his resignation was received. With the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" the meeting adjourned until the third Annual Dinner in October, 1911.

October 6th, 1910.

Dear Mr. Howell,—

I am very grateful to you for your invitation to your Annual Dinner to be held on October 11th. I very much regret that I will be unable to be present with you on the occasion. As I have the very pleasantest recollections of the hospitality of your members in April last, I need only say that I wish every success to your Annual Meeting and Dinner. I wish it not only to the Society but to every individual member, and my only regret is that I will not be able to be present to take part in it.

With best wishes, believe me,
Yours very faithfully,

Good Fishing Still.

At Paradise, P. B., and neighbourhood codfish are still plentiful, and many boats go out daily to the offshore grounds where in about 90 fathoms of water their trawls are set. Squid bait is very plentiful, and two and three quintals per boat is taken each day when fine weather prevails. There was very good fishing from Burnt Point, but it was only fair in other parts of the Bay. Whales are yet in evidence in the Bay, and the Puma and Lynx are doing fairly well.
