Produce and Provisions

(Trade Review).

Codfish.—The price of Labrador fish advanced this week to $7.30 per quintal in the local market. Some fish is holding at $9.50, though we have heard of twenty cents more than this being given for superior quality to make up hurried shipments. Some of the arrivals with Labrador quality this week are holding back for $8. The foreign markets are in good condition just now, but in consideration of the many heavy cargoes that are being rushed into Italy and Greece since the first of October one never can be certain that a slump in prices may not occur for Labrador. Those, therefore who are holding back their catch in the city and outports are running a great risk in refusing to accept such a good price as $7.80. The election of a Conservative government in Great Britain with a clear working majority is welcomed by all in the British Dominions overseas as an event that is going to inspire trade and exchange has already advanced two points in England. The exports of dried codfish were again heavy this week and included 3,004 quintals to New York for the West Indies by the S.S. Rosalind; 4,008 quintals Labrador from Lazo & Co. to Seattle by the Little Stephano; 20,068 quintals by S.S. Bartholm from various shippers to Alicante and Naples, 2,044 quintals from Jas. Baird, Ltd., by the schr. Tishy to Ponce, Porto Rico, 3,000 qts. from J. Strong, Little Bay Islands, to Malaga by schr. Uranus, 13,860 qts. by S.S. Skulda from the Union Trading Co., Port Union, to Malaga; 2,042 quintals salt bulk by the schr. Christie and Elinor from Lake & Lake, Grand Bank, to Gloucester; 1,600 quintals by the schr. Ellen and Mary, and 1,529 quintals by the schr. Laverne from Grand Bank, the former from Lake & Lake to Gloucester and the latter from Forward and Tibbo to Halifax. It is no trouble to sell good fish from reliable exporters whose brand and reputation are known in the foreign markets, cash against documents. It seems to be an opportune time to cut out the consignment system altogether. The exporters can do so now if they will. It would redound to their advantage greatly in future years when market conditions may not be so favorable as they are to-day. There will be a small quantity of fish left for export by the end of the year. About 650,000 quintals of the 1,150,000 catch has, it is estimated, gone to market, and there are two months more of 1924 for export. Averaging 100,000 quintals—a low estimate for each month—there will be only 300,000 quintals left at New Year.

Common Cod Oil.—There has been an improvement in the demand, that is more enquiries are being received. Local circles consider that these enquiries must result in business and it is to be hoped they will, but so far the advanced prices have greatly restricted the amount of business being done. Foreign markets all report heavy stocks being carried by several of the most important dealers, and the new business is resulting from the smaller buyers. The quantity of oil obtainable in this country this year is so small that it will all be disposed of quickly as we learn the fishermen are perfectly willing to dispose of their holdings at present values, viz: $135 to $140 per cun. This tendency is not upward and no change is likely for some time.

Cod Liver Oil.—The reports of investigations published by the Bay Bulls scientists is meeting with approval of other American authorities. Enquiries are being received from many sources but the trouble is to get a paying price. The Norwegian oil has been selling at such a low price that the largest dealers prefer to continue rather than pay the price demanded for Newfoundland oil. It takes time to convince people, but even the most "Doubting Thomases" are now coming to recognize that the facts are too strong for any successful contradiction. When we get such an official announcement from Professor Davies, the chief analyst of the Government, that Newfoundland cod liver oil is two thousands more valuable for vitamins than the finest creamery butter, it should satisfy anyone.

Flour.—The wheat markets have been fluctuating up and down twenty cents or more almost every day. This has been caused to a great extent by the demand from Europe where talk of a short crop has created almost a panic. Germany has now come in to us as a heavy buyer. She had not the money to buy wheat early in the season and cancellation of some contracts caused disturbances. Now that her economic situation has been relieved somewhat heavy shipments of wheat have been ordered from Canada. There has been a steady advance in prices since September until flour is now $10 for best quality in the local market. At this season of the year no one looks for a decline and consumers can only hope the prices will not go higher.

Pork.—The pork market shows further strength this week, but some importers predict that prices will be lower next month. Ham But is practically unobtainable now owing to the fact that the packers are now putting up hams for the British market, like in other years. It is the process of ham-

Itched and Burned.

"My trouble began with a rash of pimples on my face and chest. The pimples were hard and red and featured and scaled over. They were very painful and itched and burned so that I could not sleep nights. I was ashamed to go anywhere where my face was so disfigured. The trouble lasted about four and a half years."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Myrtle A. Westover, Bolton Centre, Quebec.

making that give the Ham Butt pork. The prices in the local market are about the same as quoted last week viz: Fat Back and S.C. Clear $31.75; Bacon Pork and Spare Ribs, $29.00. The S.S. Silva brought in 446 barrels from New York this trip.

Beef.—The beef market is slightly easier and boneless this week shows a reduction of 50 cents per barrel in the local market. Family beef is scarce just now and importers who are seeking the quality find it hard to get their orders filled in the quantity they require. The S.S. Silva brought in 425 barrels this week and with the exception of family grade the market is well supplied. The quotations are: Bos Flank, $26.50; Extra Family, $24.00; Family Special $22.00; Plate, $21.25; Boneless Flank, $17.00 per barrel wholesale.

Sugar.—The Cuban planters and sugar dealers there are holding back for higher prices and hoping to force the hand of American refiners, who are buying merely what they want for the time being and also using their domestic beet sugar. They have had a great crop at Cuba, and as sugar has slumped in England the U.S. refiners feel that Cuba will have to come down in their demands very soon. The quotation in New York this week is $5.50 per 100 pounds and $5.25 in the local market.

Tea.—The tea market continues strong and prices are quite firm in the local market. Any change in the present quotations is likely to be upward. Dealers here are ordering their winter stocks in anticipation of there being more unfavorable conditions in the winter. Prices range from 50 to 80c. according to quality. A good enough tea for general use can be had for 60c. in the chest.

Molasses.—There is always an increased demand at this season when the fishermen are settling for the winter. There has certainly been some business doing lately. The heavy duty of 8c. on choice and about ten cents per gallon on fancy brings prices high but the extra good quality this year is a great compensation. We look to see stocks greatly exhausted early in the winter. Choice molasses is firmly held at 86 cents and fancy molasses at 92 cents per gallon by the puncheon. The importations for 1924 are practically all in and are considerably short of last year's by about 5 per cent.

Potatoes.—There is very little P.E.I. product in the local market yet. There are some shipments of fair volume on the way from Charlottetown by steamers and they have been bought, we understand, at very low prices and will sell in the local market as cheap a rate as the home grown product, viz: $3 per barrel. The crop was very good at the Island this season and quotations are the lowest for five years. The No. 1 picked P.E.I.'s will probably sell here at 20 and 30 cents a barrel over the local product.

Apples.—There are no Gravensendings in wholesale quantity now in the local market. The first of the Kings have come in this week. This is a superior apple and is good to keep a hold on the market till Christmas. There is such a demand for this brand in the United Kingdom that it is not easy to get wholesale orders filled for dealers here in the first weeks of the King season, so that the quantity that comes is limited. Nos. 1 and 2 are $6.50 per barrel here, domestic $5.60 and No. 3 $4.90. The S.S. Silvia brought in a good aggregate shipment to different dealers on Thursday, from Halifax and New York. The next on the market will be Wagners, a winter keeping apple, which will sell at twenty-five cents a barrel lower than Kings. Wagners is a good winter keeping apple and is of an ideal size for retailers.

Lobsters.—The opinion is growing general amongst all who are interested in this fishery that a close season is essential if the industry is to be saved from extinction. It is now recognized by packers that fish fishing the past three years was a great mistake and helped more than anything else to ruin the source of supply the following summers. The Fishery Department's returns received so far, show that 2,724 cases have been packed this season. Nearly all the returns are in and the total catch will not be much over 2,000 cases. The price today is $31.50 per case.

Hay.—The hay market is strong this week on anticipation of higher freight rates. The local quotation is $32 per ton for No. 2 Timothy. Canadian hay is hard to get this week owing to lack of freight space on steamers plying to this port. Hay being bulky, and not being risked on deck at this season must be stored below decks and it pays better to take less bulky freight. There is none worth while coming from Montreal this week. This is likely to make hay higher as shippers will be asked to pay higher freight rates in order to get space below decks.

Oats.—The oat market, too, is strong this week and there is not the least indication of the easier prices that were anticipated as soon as P. E. I. oats came on the market. The last S.S. Canadian Sapper brought some shipments from Charlottetown but the prices turned out to be 30 cents per bushel in excess of oats that have been coming in all the fall from Western Canada, which prices seemed higher until P.E.I. dealers made their price and announced it to their customers. In the local market to-day mixed are $2.80, white $3.90, and P. E. I. Black $4.30 per sack of four bushels.

A Feature at the Exhibition

"What a lovely odor" many ladies were heard to remark at the exhibition last night. All over the rink the pleasing scent was present. It was the Three Flowers odor emanating from Gerald S. Doyle's booth where each lady who passed received a spray of this delightful perfume on her coat or handkerchief. This afternoon and to-night this feature will be continued.

Jackie Coogan Coming in His Biggest Film

"LONG LIVE THE KING," AT NICKEL MONDAY.

The long heralded Metro production, "Long Live the King," starring Jackie Coogan, will come to the Nickel Theatre next Monday. Particular interest is attached to this latest film of the young star as it is his first production under the $1,000,000 contract which was given him recently in addition to a half million dollar bonus by Metro Pictures Corporation.

"Long Live the King" was only recently completed at Hollywood and its engagement at the Nickel Theatre is among the early dates allotted to a few houses throughout the country. From various sources the information was current that a huge sum of money was being spent in the making of this film and recent reports definitely fix the sum as $600,000. Of this huge amount nearly two-thirds was spent on the construction of the magnificent sets which furnish the atmosphere of "Long Live the King" and which surround Jackie with regal splendor.

As is known to millions of readers, "Long Live the King" was adapted for Jackie from Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel of the same name. The plot is set in the mythical Balkan kingdom of Lavonia and hinges around the escapades of the little Crown Prince (played by Jackie), who is baset by a band of terrorists who threaten to seize the government. The book is fascinatingly told, filled with romance and excitement aplenty. The producers of the film version of "Long Live the King" have retained the essentials of a good romance and Jackie is said to have the greatest role of his career as the adventurous Prince.

Mrs. Kathleen Fraser Clift will recite to-night at 9:15 the immortal poem "In Flanders Fields" in memory of our brave boys who died "over there."

Fire on Bell Street

DOWNY RESIDENCE GUTTED.

The third fire to occur at No. 19 Bell Street within the past four months, broke out at 7:50 p.m. yesterday and almost gutted the premises as happened on the first occasion. The house which is owned by Mr. J. Downey has a frontage also on Henry Street, occupying the site at the corner of Bell Street and Henry Street is a building formerly owned by Mr. Codner, but purchased by Mr. B. Power sometime after the blaze in the early summer, when it was partly destroyed. Mr. Power has about completed repairs and Mr. Downey rebuilding was not finished when the blaze broke out last night. When the firemen arrived on the scene, the fire had gained considerable headway. Five streams of water were put in play and at 8:58 p.m. the blaze was quenched but not before the Downey building was gutted and the adjoining house owned by Power was badly damaged. Mr. Downey is unable to account for the origin of the blaze but believes it may have been due to defective wiring. Accompanied by his wife he had left the place shortly after seven o'clock and was in a store on New Gower Street when his dwelling was ablaze. The fire was discovered in a bedroom on the second floor by Miss Margaret Downey who was at home with ten other members of the family. The loss to Mr. Downey is a severe one as he carries only $1,000 insurance. In the previous fire when he likewise carried very little insurance practically everything he was owner of was destroyed.
