game was a pitchers' battle between Tesreau and Rucker. Tesreau allowed only one hit in the first seven innings and that drove in Brooklyn's only run. Brooklyn filled the bases with three hits in the eighth, but could not get over the tying run. New York won in the fourth on hits by Doyle, Becker and Murray, and daring baseruning.

Wilson practically won the second game for New York in the first inning, when with two men on bases he hit a home run into the left field bleachers.

nize the demand of the west in Rugby matters. Not that they are doing it intentionally nor do they intend to allow western Canada to be on the map as far as Rugby is concerned, but they are beginning to applicate in a way for the action of the Canadian Union in not recognizing the demand of the Western Canada Rugby union.

According to the Toronto Telegram, the Canadian Rugby union was perfectly right in refusing to grant the Western body active membership in the union. It claims the distance is too great and it would be impossible to determine the Canadian championship, which statement may or may not be true, according to how you look at it. However it does not account for the right that the eastern body has for calling itself the Canadian Rugby union, while we of the west call our organization the Western Canada Rugby union, while we of the west call our organization the Western Canada Rugby union, while we of cliding the Canadian championship. But Just so long as the Eastern Canada union is recognized and called the Canadian union, there will be no anxiety on the part of the easterners to decide the Dominion title.

"The Western union, which is composed of the Manitoba union, the Alberta union, and the Saskatchewan union, will so arrange their schedule that they can declare a winner by the second Saturday in November, and that is a different question. There was a time when certain eastern people thought that the only place hockey and lacrosse could be played was in their own immediate neighborhood, but since then they have learned differently. The same may be true in Rugby—at least, we would like to find out!

FACTS - AND - FANCIES

THE writer is a rugby football fan. He would rather see a rugby game than sit down to a good square, which is saying something for his enthusiasm, and he would like to see a Calgary team again win the honors which it did last year-and more too. But, from the lackadaisical methods which the local gridiron representatives are exhibiting this year, it is easy to see that there will be another team in the province taking the honors, unless a radical change is made at once. The Tigers this year are apparently resting on their honors of the past and the fact that, only once in their history have they been defeated, has imbued them with a feeling that they are invincible. The easiest team there is to beat, is the over-confident one. The team which holds its opponents too lightly is sure to meet defeat sooner or later and when it does lose, it comes down with a thump. In Edmonton the Eskimos are practicing daily. They are not over-confident. In the evening when the boys are not out in their moleskins, they are listening to 'chalk talk". They are studying new plays and every man is learning what to do in case a play is started by the opponents.

The Eskimos are out for the championship this year and will get it too, unless certain individuals in this city wake up to the fact that football honors are not to be won with preliminary training in pool rooms and barber shops.

RMY Howard, the Winnipeg sprinter, who was severely criticized for his actions while a member of the Canadian Olympic team. says that he will not compete in athletics in this country, until their is a change in the governing body, Just what sort of a change he means and how it is to be accomplished, the big smoke does not say, but adds that he received an envelope containing his wages for the three months he was absent and also a gold watch from his friends.

Whether Howard had justification for his actions while a member of the team or not, is difficult to say but in view of the criticisms of those who accompanied the team and had their expenses paid, for the purpose of looking after the interest of the Canadian representatives, he quite likely had a kick coming. For some unknown reason, little of the criticism has found its way into the Eastern newspapers which have contented themselves with knocking the colored sprinter.

Members of the team are very frank in censuring those in charge for their carelessnes in attending to the welfare of the athletes, who were never informed until the last minute of what heat they were in and so forth. In fact it is a joke amongst that Walter Know the coach worked the them, that Walter Knox, the coach, worked the committee for a good thing, and when he was not engaged in talking for publication, and in censuring Howard, he was practicing and training for the professional athletic meets in which he is now competing in Scotland. His interest in the team waned, immediately it arrived in the Old Land. Another prominent official who has regularly participated in the trips over the seas, had his ex penses paid as usual this year, and he spent the greater portion of his time in England getting Too many officials have accompanied the team in the past, and they have not been competent at that. A competent manager and a coach should be sufficient to handle with success any team of athletes of the size Canada has sent. The policy of sending teams abroad is, as we have previously pointed out, an assinine one, but if it is to be continued, the method of managing it should be improved.

DESPITE the numerous reports that the Argonauts and Tigers would join the Ontario Rugby union, thus causing the Inter-Provincial union to disband, the latter held their annual meeting and nothing exciting occurred. The Tigers offered a motion respecting a minor change in the rules and this will be dealt with by the exexutive at its next meeting.

The following schedule was adopted, the league opening in Montreal on the same day as the Inter-Collegiate which opens in Toronto.

October 5-Argos at Montreal October 5-Ottawa at Hamilton. October 12-Hamilton at Argos. October 19-Montreal at Argos. October 19—Montreal at Argos.
October 26—Hamilton at Ottawa.
October 26—Argos at Hamilton.
Thanksgiving Day—Montreal at Ottawa.
November 2—Hamilton at Montreal.
