King Street Ratepayers Discuss Young Mother Worked in the Tenders for Asphalt

Pavement.

King street, which seems to have been born with a legacy of paving troubles, has again come to the fore in the paving game. Some time ago the people petitionmore than $1 60 a yard. The city engineer found that the pavement at this price would not be of the standard thickness, so he prepared special specifications for the work. Now the bids have come in, and at a meeting of the council tonight it is probable the contract will be awarded. It is understood that only one firm has bid on the work, and this firm is the Barber Paving Company. It is further understood that the figures are $1 58 and $1 85 a yard.

For the former figure the Barbers guarantee to lay a pavement with a four-inch base, a one-inch binder, and 1½ inches of For $1 85 a yard they agree to lay a pavement with a five-inch base, a two-inch binder, and a two-inch surface of asphalt. Both pavements are guaranteed for ten years.

On Saturday night a number of King On Saturday night a number of King street ratepayers met in City Engineer Graydon's office and discussed the tenders.
