

COLLISION ON BRIDGE

C. P. R. Freight Train Struck by Another Following It Across the Saskatchewan.

Engineer Who Caused Accident Instantly Killed Together With His Fireman.

A Conductor Severely Injured—Supt. Niblock Nimbly Moves to Safety.

Special To The Colonist.

Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—(Special)—At 5:30 this morning an east-bound C. P. R. freight train was struck by another freight train following it on the Saskatchewan river bridge at the west end of Medicine Hat yard.

Engineer William Muir and Fireman J. Long, on Engine 122, were instantly killed, and Conductor B. French, who was reading in a caboose on the forward train, was injured, but it is thought not very seriously. Muir and French are married men, living at Medicine Hat. Long was single, living at the same place. Muir jumped from the engine at the west end of the bridge, and was instantly killed. Long stayed with the engine, which went through the side of the bridge on to the ice. Three cars were wrecked.

Superintendent Niblock was in the car which was wrecked. He heard the train coming and got out on the side of the bridge and escaped injury.

The accident was caused by the second train, Engineer Muir and Conductor Holder, approaching Medicine Hat at too high a rate of speed and failing to make the stop required by the rules at the west end of the bridge over Saskatchewan river.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Minister Fisher's Hay Policy—Locomotive Works in Prospect—Drainage Contracts.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Minister Fisher has evolved the novel idea that with reduced steamship rates Canadian hay will find a ready market in England. How the minister proposes to compel the companies to reduce the rates has not transpired.

Railway locomotive works are to be established here. A company has been formed with $750,000 capital.

Contracts for local drainage works aggregating half a million dollars will be awarded next May. There is a strong agitation in favor of confining the work to Canadians, although fully 20 American firms are figuring on the specifications.

A LESSON TO DOCTORS.

Verdict for Attempting Post Mortem Examination Without Authority.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—(Special)—An action of very unusual character was heard in the assize court this afternoon. The wife of James Davidson died a short time ago, after half an hour's illness. An inquest was spoken of, but the idea was abandoned, the coroner not deeming it necessary. On returning home shortly after his wife's death, however, Davidson found Doctors Garrett and Harris in his house operating on the body, which had been cut open. They produced no authority, and the irate husband prevented them finishing and brought an action for $80,000 damages. The jury, after an absence of two hours, found a verdict for the plaintiff for $800 damages.

ONTARIO TAXING FOREIGNERS.

Outside Corporations to Make Up Revenue Formerly Received From Logs for Export.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—(Special)—The Ontario government will shortly introduce a bill to impose a tax upon foreign corporations doing business in Ontario. The object of the new tax is to meet a deficiency in the revenue resulting from the embargo placed upon the exportation of logs. That deficit is estimated at $200,000 and will represent the amount formerly paid in stumpage dues by Michigan lumbermen when they were allowed to cut logs for export.

The suggestion to tax foreign corporations was made some years ago but not acted upon as the government considered the finances of the province to be in a sound condition. The disappearance of this substantial source of revenue, however, makes the imposition of fresh taxation imperative.

SIR CHARLES ORGANIZING.

Strong Committee Formed in Montreal, and Every Province to Be Looked After.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—(Special)—While in Montreal for the past few days, Sir Charles Tupper has been working energetically towards organizing the Liberal-Conservative party. It is announced that Mr. Henry Dalby, for about 20 years editor of the Montreal Star, has resigned his position, to become the organizer of the English section of the party here and the confidential representative of Sir Charles Tupper.

Mr. James C. McArthur, ex-president of the Montreal board of trade, has become the treasurer of the organization. There has also been appointed a sub-committee to actively superintend the work.

Sir Charles goes to Ottawa on Friday. He will at once take steps to put forward the work of organization in every province of the Dominion.

Customs Returns.—The returns of the Victoria customs for the month of January are as follows:

Free	$ 25,430.00
Dutiable	153,561.00
Total	$178,991.00
Duty collected	$ 58,593.93
Other revenues	4,252.98
Total	$ 63,209.91
EXPORTS.
Produce of Canada	$ 38,149.00
Not produce of Canada	13,821.00
Total	$ 52,000.00

FITZSIMMONS' MONEY COVERED.

Twenty-Five Hundred Dollars Put Up on Behalf of Sharkey.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Tom O'Rourke announced here to-night: "I have forwarded to-night a certified check for $2500 to New York to cover Fitzsimmons' forfeit, now in the hands of the New York Journal, to bind a match between Tom Sharkey and Robert Fitzsimmons before the club offering the largest purse. The referee and terms to be mutually agreed upon as soon as a club qualifies."

Saginaw, Mich., Feb. 1.—Bob Fitzsimmons to-day declared there is no truth in the despatches stating that McCoy has challenged him. He said further that if the Kid "does fight him, he must wait until he (Fitzsimmons) has first taken care of both Sharkey and Jeffries."

BALFOUR TAKEN TO TASK.

Protestant League Question Him as to Proposed Catholic University and Doings of Established Church.

London, Feb. 1.—Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and the government leader in the House of Commons, received at Manchester yesterday a deputation from the local branch of the Protestant League, who visited him with reference to his recent advocacy of the establishment of a Catholic university in Ireland and also to learn his views as to the action to be taken in connection with the so-called lawlessness in the established church. Mr. Balfour emphasized his previous arguments in favor of it. He said he did not advocate it in behalf of the government, but in his own personal capacity. He had conscientiously expressed his views as to the action to be taken in connection with the so-called lawlessness in the established church. He had conscientiously expressed his views as to the action to be taken in connection with the so-called lawlessness in the established church.

Referring to the illegal practices in the established church, Mr. Balfour said he had not observed them himself, but was willing to accept the statements that such practices existed in certain places. He agreed with the deputation that these practices were highly objectionable and constituted a grave danger to the church, which ought to be suppressed. He added, however, that a demand for parliament to intervene would be wise. He thought that the bishops restoring discipline. He admitted that the bishops during the last few years had been slack in preserving discipline, which ought to be restored to the authority of their bishops.

Balfour pleaded that the controversy should not be embittered by pressing for legislation until its necessity was absolutely demonstrated. The whole, he said, satisfied the reputation, though several of the members emphatically expressed their distrust of the willpower of the bishops to enforce discipline.

THE FINAL EFFORT.

Government Candidates and Many Official Champions Before a Small Meeting.

The government meeting and band at the A. O. U. W. hall last evening did not draw very well, and it was half an hour or more after the advertised time when Mr. Higgins started the proceedings by asking "any supporters of the government" who were present to come on the platform, and for permission, as it was very cold indeed, that he might keep his cap on. Permission being granted amidst laughter, Mr. Higgins assumed the chair.

Mr. Deane, M. P., next addressed the meeting with no response, and Mr. Higgins called on Mr. Gregory. The Colonel first explained about the profitable connection between his partner and his short for the government "who were present to come on the platform, and for permission, as it was very cold indeed, that he might keep his cap on. Permission being granted amidst laughter, Mr. Higgins assumed the chair."

Mr. Faterman spent the time allotted to him enlarging upon the old-time connection of Mr. Turner and his partner with the Victoria and Sidney railways. Mr. Ralph Smith said that the atmosphere was so chilly he too had to keep his hat, and, after a few remarks, he proceeded to deal with the "side of misrepresentation and lies," as he gracefully termed his political opponents, and intimated that opposition member could get a hearing from the government.

Mr. Stewart started by saying that if he had to earn a living it was an honest one, but left the audience to make the application of this statement. Mr. Munro, M. P., called on Victorians to join hand in hand with the Mainland people to support the government of the day. "Victoria would come in later."

Mr. Macpherson attempted to show his very great interest in Victoria, and asked the audience to vote for "their homes, health and country."

Mr. Deane, M. P., congratulated the audience on having an opportunity to vote to-day. The three other M. P.'s, Mr. J. M. Muir, Mr. Helgeson, and Mr. Kidd, and the band wound up the meeting.

THE EAST COAST COOKS.

MOST PERFECT MADE.

AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS.

WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

CHICAGO-ILL.

1893.

FROM DAWSON CITY.

Word Brought by the Dirigo of Much Distress Among Yukon Miners.

Salvation Army Now Established at Dawson—An Unsuccessful Attempt at Suicide.

Victoria's Klondike ship yesterday was the Dirigo, which arrived during the early morning, having left Skagway 30 hours after the Danube. She had quite a number of men from Dawson aboard, but they were bound for Sound ports. They included W. C. Waterous, of the Klondike Nugget; W. O. Yeomans, agent of the Empire line of steamers; H. P. Hall, mining engineer from Eagle City; Mrs. Frank J. McGregor and J. Carlson. Mr. Hall represents the Eagle City Mining and Development company and is now on his way East on business. He speaks enthusiastically concerning the future of Eagle City. Mr. Hall, with some other Eastern capitalists, is interested in a number of dry claims that are being bought up by the place and Mesena, who laid out the townsite, and a nugget has been found on a bench claim worth $450. Forty-mile and American creeks also promise to be great producers, and the whole district is being worked by the Dirigo.

Mr. Hall states that Eagle City is just now very badly governed, a man named Davidson, who claims to be a doctor, is the place and Mesena, who laid out the townsite, and a nugget has been found on a bench claim worth $450. Forty-mile and American creeks also promise to be great producers, and the whole district is being worked by the Dirigo.

A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the conditions of affairs in Dawson as deplorable as those of a citizens' relief committee, which met at the American consulate, he is credited with having made the following statement: "The Salvation Army shelter will be ready for occupancy about December 1st. It has 30 beds, and is equipped with cooking and dining rooms. Meals will be furnished on the short-order plan at bedrock prices. At present the bunks are being taken out for the winter. A recent issue of the Nugget says the Salvation Army gave a free dinner on Christmas when 300 sat down at their tables. Ensign McGill, who with nine assistants has charge of the Army Food and Shelter, declares the