(a) To avoid the loss of a piece by Black's playing (b) We would have preferred bringing out the Q. Kt.

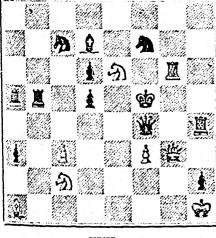

cc Black now regains his Pawn, and White will find it difficult to maintain his centre, although it soon assumes a winning appearance.

(d) This loses a valuable Pawn. iei Black's Pawns on the Queen's side, with care, thould win, from this point.

:0 Q. to K. 4th instead, and if White play 32, Q. to Q. B. 2nd, 32, Q. to K. B. 3rd seems the correct

(i) The conclusion by Black is carelessly played. (1) Well played.
