

- 2 -

Once it comes into force, the Convention will only apply in those countries that have ratified it. Within Canada, it will only apply to international cases occurring in those provinces to which the Convention has been extended. Central authorities in Canada, one federal and one per province, will discharge the duties imposed by the Convention.

- 30 -

Ref.: Micheline Langlois
(613) 996-8127