There are several good reasons why the so-called unemployed should be prevented from haunting the City Hall from time to time. The pavement had been cleaned. We think we have heard of this before. Certainly they are not going to do so under pressure. The clamor of some of these workmen is not altogether sincere. The spokesman of the crowd who yesterday appeared before the committee was offered a job the other day at $3 for his team and himself, but he refused to accept less than $3.50. The work that was being offered to him was relief work and was not absolutely necessary. It was ordered to be done at ressary. It was ordered to be done at the present time merely to accede to the demands of those who are clamoring for work. We think that Mayor Fleming, Ald. By promising work and encouraging the men in the belief that the city is to a certain extent obliged to find work for them, the men have come to look upon the city authorities as in duty bound to see authorities as in duty bound to see them through the winter months. There are two facts the aldermen Underwriters' Fire Association had its annual dinner yesterday in Board of Trade Building. To-day the annual should keep in view; first, that the ratepayers' money should not be wasted in unnecessary work, and secondly, that the unemployed should not be allowed to become a nuisance, as they are when manipulated by good-for-nothing agitators and clap-trap aldermen.

THE BOARD OF TRADE AND RAILWAY FACILITIES.

For several years now the Board of Trade has urged upon the Grand Trunk Railway the establishment of a fast service between this city and Buffalo. Some time ago the railway did put on a through train which runs between the two cities in three hours and a half. This, however, is not the gent trained than that capitalists should be allowed to make fortunes in the development of power for economic purposes. Everything points to the fact that the production of electricity will be made very cheap in a dozen different ways in the near future. Interfering with the natural beauty of the Falls for this purpose is unnecessary and uncalled for. While both countries should be made to make fortunes in the development of power for economic purposes. For the destruction of electricity will be made very cheap in a dozen different ways in the near future. Interfering with the natural beauty of the professor spoke for nature.

On behalf of the Union National Bank of Chicago, G. E. Martin made a motion before Judge Snyder this morning for judgment against W. P. tained than that capitalists should be

The traffic between Toronto lowed to draw off water at eight differand Buffalo is large enough to warrant a really fast train in the modern acceptation of the term. The so-called fast train makes but 30 miles an hour. It would not be too much to ask the Grand Trunk to reduce the time her.

They have resided here almost 50 years and are among the oldest residents. When they settled Mr. Gugel opened a small shoe shop, and made boots for the late Sir Allan McNab, Hon. will have this matter brought before him now for the first time, will, we imagine, order such a service to be put on between the two cities as the Board of Trade has recommended as soon as he understands the situation.

The suggestion of the president for a 2-cent passenger rate is one that is always in order. While it may be some time before such a rate becomes universal in this province, there are other ways by which the traveling of the sum of $550 for interfering with a private citizen while driving a bus in the streets of the city on a particular Sunday last year. Surely these decisions are sufficient to justify the Toronto Reilway Company in acceding to the other ways by which the traveling community can be benefited in the meantime. The establishing of cheap rates between Toronto and points within one hundred miles of it on one day in the week throughout the whole year would mean increased revenue to the railway and prove a decided advantage to the city.

There is another matter in connection with railways that the president of the Board of Trade might have touched upon in his valedictory. We refer to the construction of trolley lines into the country districts. The is in favor of those who is the care of the company's service. As it is no offence against the law to operate cars on Sunday, none of the company's serving the cars. The matter will become purely a civil one, and the railway would have a good defence for its action in citing the stipulation in its charter for bidding running on Sunday as being a vicilation of the law of the land and of the rights of the people. The law is all one way. It is in favor of those who

In order to give the old couple a chance to patch up their differences the Magistrate postponed the case till Monday, notwithstanding the protests of the complainant. Lawrence Kenny's wife asked for an order of protection and got it. Kenny said he would try and support himself

Another case of conjugal infelicity was aired and Horatio Parker agreed to his wife being granted an order of protection.

Janet Johnston also wanted an order of protection from her husband, Maxwell, who, she says, has of late refused to support her. The couple have lived together 15 years, so the Magistrate adjourned the case till Feb. 5, when he hoped that peace would be restored. Too much sister-in-law is Maxwell's excuse for his wife's complaint.

Maggie Smith appeared again charged with vagrancy. Her case was adjourned till to-day.

FEARED SHE WOULD SKIP. Mrs. Mary Strong. Alleged Impersonator, Surrendered by a Bondaman.

Surrendered by a Bendaman.

One of the bondsmen of Mrs. Mary Strong, the alleged impersonator, called at Police Headquarters yesterday and asked to be relieved of his responsibility regarding the woman's bail. The bondsman, who is Mr. J. C. Brady, 32 King-street east, stated that he had information that Mrs. Strong was about to leave the city, and in order to protect himself from liability, he wished her to be rearrested. A new warrant was sworn, and Mrs. Strong was again arrested.

In pursuance with the statute regarding the disposal of election ballots, they should be destroyed within 30 days after the date of the election. In this case the Crown Attorney will apply to the courts for an extension of this time in order that ballots in No. 1 division may be used in evidence at Mrs. Strong's trial.

New York to London.

The Atlantic Transport Line is the only first-class passenger line sailing weekly between New York and London direct. Their fleet is composed of five large 8000-ton steamers, fitted throughout with electric light and steam heat. All staterooms are on promenade deck,outside and amidships; no second-cabin or steerage passengers are carried and the attendance and table are exceptionally good; each vessel carries a doctor and stewardess. The steamers are twin screw and are fitted with special keels to prevent rolling.

To passengers who do not require the speed of a Cunarder, the Atlantic Transport Company's steamers furnish a most safe and comfortable passage from land to land in ten days and at the remarkably low rate of $45. Mr. A. F. Webster, corner King and Yonge-streets, is agent for this popular line.

When the Hyamese twins appear in the Police Court next Monday the conspiracy to murder charge against Dallas will in all probability be withdrawn. It is also hardly likely that the four charges of forgery will be pressed, although the prisoners will not be discharged from custody.

A new charge is to be laid against Harry Hyams for larceny of two diamond rigs from Rowley & Son, the Spadina-avenue jewelers. It is alleged that Harry called at Rowleys' store and took two diamond rings on approbation, agreeing to return one and pay for the other. He d'd neither. The warrant was not issued at the time as the twins were arrested for murder when Mr. Rowley reported the theft at headquarters. Another Development in the Hyams Case.
