

of the previous year; 115 volumes having been added to the Library,—it now contains 1105 volumes. The appointment of Rev. D. Parnter as Assistant Minister, has afforded valuable aid to the Rector in the performance of pastoral duties.

A few years ago, Lady Wood and Miss Fanning promised £50 towards a Parsonage, and the former has since given a site for the same. Eighty-five pounds have been granted by the Society, and other sums have been liberally promised, but as the site has not been definitively agreed upon, the building of the parsonage is still postponed. The Hon. Edward Haythorne, at his death, left a legacy of £50, to be funded for the poor of the English Church. The burying ground still remains in an unbecoming condition, and reflects much discredit on our community.

The collections amount to £58 8s.

ST. ELEANOR'S.

The Rev. Dr. Read, with a sense of gratitude to Almighty God, reports encouragingly of his Mission. Judging from the attendance and earnestness of the congregations at St. Eleanor's, Summerside, the Cross Roads, Richmond Village and Wilmot Creek, there is an increasing interest in the services of our beloved Church. At the same time, he feels conscious that success is not of him that planteth, nor of him that watereth, but of God that gives the increase; and he believes that in proportion as we humble human instrumentality, and exalt the Divine, so will beneficial results attend our work and labor of love. During the year, he has performed 243 religious services, made 592 pastoral visits, and travelled 2019 miles in his missionary duty.

The exterior of the Church at St. Eleanor's has been painted. The Church at the Cross Roads, aided by grants from our respected Diocesan and this Society, is progressing slowly, and he hopes, with the further aid of this Society, will be fit for permanent use this year.

Dr. Read also mentions the meeting of the clergy at St. Eleanor's, in September last, where special services were held, and the claims of this Society advocated in strong and effective speeches at a public meeting, well
