degrading action, people said, to be ab-horred, unless it was necessary to earn one's bread. This idea still prevails the inner and remote regions of the re public, but in Peking and the oth large cities an entirely new conception of athletics has recently arisen. About seven years ago an organizion was formed in Peking, with A. I Hoagland, the famous end of the 190 Princeton team, athletic director of the 190 Princet

Every Two Years.

Since then these Olympic games have been held once every two years. Japan, Philippines and China having each won one contest. In addition to this, a Chinese national meet is held every two years and a North China meet annually. The records made by the athletes are often extremely good and, on the whole, compare favorably with those of Americans. Princeton is the dominating American university in Peking. Owing to the fact that the Princeton Centre, the Y. M. C. A. of Peking is situated there, it has been a gathering place for Princeton men for seventeen years, Big Bob Gailey, all American centre in '97, is at the head of the Princeton Centre; Hoagland is athletic director; Heyniger, '16, the shotputting giant, has just spent a year there, and this year only the war prevented the coming of "Bill" Moore, captain of the track team and football star, and a couple more of Princeton's best athletes.

U. S. HOUSE AGREES TO A PROHIBITION A ENDMENT MOTION

Alteration to Constitution Will Be Submitted to Every State Now-Big Vote Made

Seven Years Accorded - State Legislatures Are Given This Time in Which to Approve the Amendment

Washington, Dec. 17—Nation-wide prohibition won in the House today and only the adjustment of a slight difference in resolutions between the House and the Senate now stands in the way of submitting to the state legislatures an amendment to the federal constitution forbidding the manufacture, sale or importation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States or its

The vote in the House, taken after aday of debate before crowded galleries was 282 to 128, with the parties dividing almost evenly. The margin for prohibition was just eight votes more than the necessary two-thirds of the membership of the House required for adoption, and twenty-six more than two-thirds of those

Both wets and drys had been predict Both wets and drys had been predicting victory all day, and it was not until the last few names had been called that the anti-prohibition forces conceded their defeat. When Speaker Clark announced the result the victors were joined by the galleries in such demonstration as is rarely permitted in the House, Former Secretary of State Bryan, an interested spectator, pearly all day, appear terested spectator, nearly all day, appeared on the floor, and joined in receiving congratulations with Representative Webb of North Carolina, who had led the fight.

The resolution adopted by the House is identical with that passed by the Senate last August, except that it gives the states seven years instead of six in which to ratify the amendment. Senator Sheppard, author of the resolution, predicted togicht that the Senate would coment the pard, author of the resolution, predicted tonight that the Senate would accept the amendment tomorrow. He said he had assurances that the seven years period would be approved, and that he did not believe a roll call necessary. As a Christmas Present.

The president's approval is not required and the state legislatures may act as soon as they please, after the signatures of the vice-president and Speaker Clark have been attached to the resolu-

out right there, but he managed to wriggle free of the young westerner's clutch. Then, at the expiration of thirty-five minutes of strenuous tussling, Roller was caught in the grip of an arm scissors and bar hold, but freed himself with another mighty effort just when it seemed certain that he must succumb. The Doc struggled gamely to the finish and it required all of Caddock's strength to pin him to the mat.

At the conclusion of the contest Roller world a brief research to the ground in the contrary it was strengthened.

"I do not think Alexander and Killifer have seen their best day. They still are good or I would not have accepted the large sum of money Mr. Weeghman paid for them. But I believe they have outlived their usefulness in Philadelphia and the change will do both of them a world of good.
