The Man In The Street

One of the happiest causes for satisfaction in today's dispatches is the news that the French have captured the German Band-master. Just think! Perhaps he's one of those chaps we cursed at when they played under our window.

The private fortune of the German Emperor is said to be $70,000,000. This may be his fortune, but his chances are not worth thirty cents.

This censorship business is spreading altogether too much. It is said that in the Metropolitan Museum, New York, the "curios" are kept in iron, burglar-proof cases.

An utterance particularly appropriate to the spirit of Trafalgar Day was that of Col. Sam Hughes when he relieved Earl Kitchener's burdened mind by informing him, according to the news despatches, that he "was fully in accord with his plans."

News ad. reads "Wanted, butcher with an all round experience." However, we'd sooner have one with an all-round experience.

Gen. Von Kluck's Christian name is Alexander. Perhaps the fellow who wrote "Alexander's Rag Time Band," was a prophet when he spoke of that syncopated condition.

Lots of people are saying things about the Kaiser today that they wouldn't dare say to his face.

A CHALLENGING SENTENCE

The Demand For Canadian-made Goods—St. John's Suggestion May Bear Fruit

One sentence in the "Wake Up, Canada" booklet of the Toronto Board of Trade challenges attention: "The demand tomorrow all over Canada for Canadian-made goods would change, as if by magic, the present depression into immediate prosperity."

There is a world of truth in this statement. The consumers of Canada hold in their own hands the lever by which any existing business depression in the Dominion may, to a very large extent, be removed. If they will demand Canadian-made goods (made-in-St. John's goods are in this class) in preference to foreign articles, the wheels in the factory of Canada would whir more rapidly. Canadian artisans would be more fully employed, and whatever trade depression there is, if not wholly dispelled, would be greatly minimized. It is as much a patriotic duty to support our Canadian industries as it is to support our Canadian soldiers. One is very much dependent on the other. It is worth remembering, too, that in supporting Canadian industries and Canadian soldiers we are strengthening the whole Imperial fabric.

St. John was the first to suggest the pooling of the interests of Canadian manufacturers and business men in order to capture foreign export trade. It would be an excellent thing if St. John was the first to put the scheme into effect. Individually, it would be very difficult for a Canadian firm to secure a foothold in a new foreign market such as South America, but collectively a great deal might be accomplished in this direction. The agitation which was begun in St. John, and which has been taken up by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, may be the means of adding greatly to the export trade of Canada. Incidentally, it will serve to emphasize the demand of the St. John Board of Trade, and of the other Canadian boards, for a permanent steamship service between Canada and South America.

MONCTON MAN MISSING FOR THE LAST SIX WEEKS

Moncton, Oct. 21.—Sydney Gray, aged 25, of Moncton, who disappeared some time ago, is still missing. At the time of his departure from his home about six weeks ago, he was said to be going to Irish town to visit friends, but it was found that he had not been there. He had been in the city for several years. Relatives fear that he has met his death.

At a meeting of the Moncton school trustees last evening, the proposed Aberdeen High School Cadet Corps was endorsed. Mr. Barker, mathematics master at the High School, who will be drill instructor, outlined the scheme in detail.

AN APPEAL

St. John, N. B., Oct. 21. To the Editor of The Times-Star, and also to the Public:

Some time ago we made an appeal to the friends to help us raise funds to carry on an evangelistic campaign. We deferred the contemplated campaign owing to the outbreak of the war, and together with the fact that the evangelist, having her own musical aid, we were unable to raise the guarantee that she demanded, also knowing that the people have been very generous to us in the past and remembering the various demands on your generosity, among which are the "Patriotic Fund" and "Relief Fund for the suffering Belgians," we have planned to hold the campaign in the spring of 1915, D.V.

We are in need of funds for coal and a few other current accounts. If any friend desires or can aid us in this laudable cause, we would thankfully receive any fruit, vegetables or money to go to "The Harvest Festival" coal and renovating fund, beginning Oct. 22. We need 100 sing books for the church, and our public collections are not sufficient to carry on the current expenses and get books also. We would thankfully receive religious song books, such as "The Alexander" Gospel Hymns, etc.

Friendship yours,
 J. H. FRANKLIN,
 221 Queen Street, City.

A Woman's Way!

Somewhat a woman seems to get more for her money than a man. She seems to have a better appreciation of the intrinsic value of a dollar.

She knows "just the things that look best" and "wear best" and where they are sold at lowest price.

Women are readers of advertising because they find that it pays. They keep posted because they turn the knowledge to the advantage of their own pocketbooks.

Experience has taught them that it pays to deal with men who advertise.

FOUND DYING IN A BOSTON STORE

Sudden Death of Frederick Lamb of St. John
POISONED; IS BELIEF

Taken to Relief Hospital But Passes Away in Few Hours—Many Here Shocked At News

Friends in St. John were yesterday shocked to learn of the sudden death of Frederick Lamb, in Boston. He was a former resident of St. John, who went to Boston several years ago and had since been very successful in the drug business. At the time of his death he was assistant manager of the Tremont street branch of Riker-James & Co.

Mr. Lamb, when here, resided with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Regan, and his brother, Frank, went to Boston last evening to look after the body. It had not then been determined where burial would take place. Mr. Lamb received his education in the local public schools and learned a useful business in St. John at Short's Drug Store, Garden street.

He has a great many friends in the city who will hear with regret the news of his early and tragic death.

A special Boston despatch to the Times says: "Relatives of Fred Lamb, who yesterday morning was found poisoned by a drug in Riker-James' drug store, in which he was employed, and who died in the Relief Hospital several hours later, will arrive from St. John, N. B., today to take charge of the body. Associate Medical Examiner Richardson will perform an autopsy on the body, in which he will be assisted by Dr. O'Keefe of Kingsclear, a cousin of the bridegroom. Very Rev. Monsignor Chapman, V. G., was also in the sanctuary.

Only immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were invited to be present at the wedding, but many friends gathered in the church. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, M. F. Mooney, was dressed in white duchess satin trimmed with duchess lace and nixon and pearls and wore a bridal veil of Limerick lace, a family heirloom; and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Miss Kathleen Mooney, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore pink crepe de chine with overdress of pink silk trimmed with duchess lace. She wore a black velvet hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Frederick Conlon, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Conlon, both very popular among many friends were the recipients of a large number of beautiful presents including many valuable pieces of furniture besides cut glass and silverware. They left at noon for a honeymoon trip through Nova Scotia. They will reside in Manawagonish road. The best wishes of many will follow them in their married life.

OCTOBER BRIDES

Weddings of Interest in St. John and Nearby

Conlon-O'Connor
 An interesting event took place at nine o'clock this morning in St. John the Baptist church, Broad street, when Miss Mary Claire O'Connor, daughter of Mrs. Sara O'Connor of 112 Queen street became the bride of Leonard A. Conlon, a prominent young barrister of this city. The marriage ceremony was celebrated at nuptial mass by Rev. David S. O'Keefe of Kingsclear, a cousin of the bridegroom. Very Rev. Monsignor Chapman, V. G., was also in the sanctuary.

McGrattan-Sweeney

A wedding of particular interest to many friends both in the city and other parts of the province was solemnized this morning at 8:45 o'clock when, at a nuptial mass, Rev. William Duke officiated in marriage Miss Josephine Florence Sweeney, daughter of Mrs. Lillian E. Sweeney of this city, and Charles F. McGrattan, formerly of St. George but now manager of the local branch of H. McGrattan & Son. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, William Norton of New York, was becomingly attired in a blue tulle-trimmed suit of French serge and black velvet hat with coque feathers and carried a shower bouquet of cream roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lillian Sweeney, dressed in Corbeus blue and black velvet hat with ostrich mount, and carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas and roses. Mr. McGrattan of Sydney, a brother of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of the bride's mother, 228 Lincoln street, where a tempting wedding breakfast was served. Mr. McGrattan left for St. George on the early morning train on a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York. Both the young people have a great many friends in and about the city.

The handsome array of beautiful presents testifies to their popularity. Among the gifts were a silver cigarette case, a set of tools from the graduates of the '07 class of St. Vincent's High School, of out of town guests present at the ceremony were the groom's mother, Mrs. M. McGrattan and sister, Miss McGrattan of St. George and his brother E. F. McGrattan, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. McGrattan. The bride returned after their honeymoon, will reside in the city.

Good News of Good Gloves

All kinds of gloves in our stock today, whether imported or made in Canada, will probably be higher in price when we re-order. Why, then, are we selling high-grade, reasonable gloves at old prices when we could take advantage of market conditions and increase our profits? Simply because it is our policy to share trade benefits obtained by us, with our customers—that's the story in a nut shell.
