

TWO BOER LEADERS DEAD

Commandant Prinsloo and General Fourie Were Killed During the Recent Fighting.

MIDNIGHT ENCOUNTER WITH THE ENEMY

Who Were Routed With Heavy Losses—The Burghers Have Decided Upon a Fresh Plan of Campaign—Gen. Buller in London.

(Associated Press.)
London, Nov. 12.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:
"Johannesburg, Nov. 10.—Methuen surprised Commandants Snyman and Barmess near Lichtenburg yesterday. Three dead Boers were found, and thirty prisoners and several wagons were captured. There were no casualties among the British."
"Kelly-Kenny reports that Major Mackintosh, of the Seaforth Highlanders, occupied Philippolis on November 4th. The Boers fled in all directions. Three wounded were brought to our hospital, Surgeon Hartley and seven men were wounded."

"Lyttleton reports that Kitchener successfully surprised the Boers during the night of November 7th. A mounted party of the 19th Hussars and the Gloucester mounted infantry, under Captain Chetwode, managed to pass the Boer outposts, and while the latter engaged the enemy's picket, the Hussars charged the Boers in the moonlight, sabreing many."
"Chetwode and several non-commissioned officers acted with great bravery, but the Hussars would probably have suffered severely as they got into bad ground, had they not been supported by the mounted infantry."
"In the morning the artillery and infantry joined Chetwode's force and completed the Boer route, who are said to have lost heavily."
"Smith-Dorrien's wounded, who returned from the Boer camp, report that Commandant Prinsloo and Gen. Fourie were killed, and that Gen. Groebler was wounded in the recent fighting."

Boers' Plan of Campaign.

Pretoria, Nov. 11.—Reports have been received here showing that the plan of campaign has now been decided upon by the Boers, who contemplate having each commando defend the district in which it is raised. Each commando numbers from 300 to 600 men.
Some of the commandos have established a reign of terror among the more peaceful burghers, and a number of these are coming into the British camps for protection. One burgher came into Greylingstad with his back badly lacerated from a sjambok administered to him by the commandant in that district.
Col. Lessard, of the Canadians, and the Canadian artillery, did magnificent fighting with General Smith-Dorrien in repulsing a desperate attack by the Boers on the British rear-guard.

Funeral of Prince Christian Victor.

Pretoria, Nov. 8, via Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Nov. 11.—The funeral of Prince Christian Victor, a grandson of the Queen, who died here from enteric fever, took place to-day.
Minute guns began firing at 10 a. m. when the cortege left the Yeomanry hospital, and continued during the funeral. The route was lined with a guard of honor consisting of the men of the Norfolk and Hants regiments. Representatives of all the forces were present, including detachments of the colonial troops, mounted infantry, cavalry, artillery and the medical and army service corps. The bands of the Norfolk and Hants regiments played Chopin's Dead March. The coldstreamers immediately preceded the gun carriage bearing the body. The pall-bearers were all generals. General Roberts, Prince Francis of Teck, General Kitchener and all of General Roberts's staff present in Pretoria followed the body.
At the cathedral the Rev. Mr. Ross, chaplain of the Australians, received the body, which was taken into the church. The chief mourners and a number of the ordinary congregation filled the building. The services were choral. The Rev. Mr. Cox, chaplain of the Canadians, read the lesson. The Rev. Mr. Wilson, the senior chaplain at Pretoria, and other clergy, were present.
After the services at the church the procession reformed in the church square and marched to the cemetery, a mile west of the town.
Upon arriving at the cemetery the Coldstream Guards halted and lined the path to the grave, standing with their rifles pointed to the ground and with heads bent. At the grave the Rev. Mr. Maurice, the Rev. Mr. Jones, and the Rev. Mr. Mullineux, conducted the burial service. The guards then fired a royal salute, which was followed by three volleys over the grave.

The Queen sent a wreath of lilies and carnations. Another beautiful wreath bore a card inscribed "From his mother." Other wreaths were sent by Lord and Lady Roberts, Prince Francis of Teck, the officers of the King's Royal Rifles, Gen. Maxwell and Governor Sir Alfred Milner.
The coffin was inscribed "Major His Highness Prince Christian Victor of Schleswig-Holstein, of the King's Royal Rifles, died October 29th, 1900. At rest."
The Prince is buried close to the graves of many of the soldiers who fell here.
Baden-Powell III.
Capetown, Nov. 12.—General Baden-Powell is ill with enteric fever. His condition is not serious.
Buller in London.
London, Nov. 12.—Gen. Buller, accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived here this morning and reported to the war office. Large crowds had assembled at the Waterloo station and in Pall Mall to greet the returning general, who received an ovation.
Out of Danger.
Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Lord Roberts cables Lord Minto this morning that Lieut. Hemsley, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, dangerously wounded at Botswana, is now out of danger.

Offered a Commission.

Toronto, Nov. 12.—Captain Barker, of O Co., Royal Canadians, who figured prominently in the engagements at Sunnyside and Paardeburg, and who returned last week on the transport Idaho, has been offered a commission in Gen. Baden-Powell's South African police force, and is inclined to accept.
Railroad Award.
London, Nov. 12.—The Delagoa Bay railroad award was finally settled to-day. Second Battalion Royal Canadians.
(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Nov. 12.—A cable from the High Commissioner's office says the second battalion of the Royal Canadian regiment on the Hawarden Castle from Capetown is due at Southampton on November 27th. There are 265 men and 14 officers on board.

MURDERED BY UNKNOWN MAN.

Carpenter Dragged From His Bed and Stabbed to Death.
(Associated Press.)
Worcester, Mass., Nov. 10.—Gustave Erickson, a carpenter, was dragged from his bed and killed by an unknown assassin early this morning. The man's death was caused by a knife thrust in the throat. The slanders of Mrs. Erickson, who was awakened by the struggle between her husband and his slayer, aroused the other inmates of the house in which the affair occurred. The police were called, but the murderer had escaped, taking with him his weapon. The authorities have no trace of him.
Man Arrested.
Clinton, Mass., Nov. 12.—The police last night arrested William Erickson, who is supposed to be Oscar Johnson, the man wanted for the murder of Gustave Erickson, who was stabbed to death at his home in Worcester on Saturday. So certain was Chief Stone, of the Worcester department, that the prisoner was Oscar Johnson, that he decided to take him back to that city.

GLASGOW'S SHIPPING.

(Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 12.—Among the passengers who arrived on the steamer Lucania was Captain R. White, R. N. R., who for twenty-three years has been port warden of Glasgow. He is on his way to Buffalo to study the American system of handling ores and grain with a view to introducing the same system in Glasgow. He said:
"Glasgow hopes to become equal to Liverpool as regards shipping. Within two or three years the revenues of Glasgow for wharfage have increased from £200,000 a year to £475,000."

(Special to the Times.)

INDIAN PRINCE DEAD.

In Spite of Protests He Married the Lady of His Choice.
London, Nov. 10.—The death of the Maharajah of Patiala at Simla on November 8th removes one of the best and most interesting products of the Anglo-Indian rule. He was the first reigning prince to blend the elements of the English gentleman and Indian potentate. Educated at Cambridge, he returned to India and put in force in his rich kingdom the reforms which he had carefully absorbed in England, endowing free hospitals for women, establishing orphanages, drilling troops, sending them to help a British expedition, and leading them personally. He was one of the finest amateur billiardists of the day.
The deceased was a close friend of Lord William Berosford, Lord Roberts and other well known people. He was passionately fond of horses, and imported a splendid stud and an Irish expert named Bryan to be master of the horse at Patiala. With Bryan went his daughter, and the Prince fell desperately in love with her, and proposed and was accepted. The Sikhs murmured and threatened revolt, and the Imperial government, desiring trouble, endeavored to break off the match. But both Great Britain and his own subjects were outwitted, and eventually assented, the bride embracing the Sikh faith. Her reign was short. Accompanying her husband during a campaign in the icy Himalayas, she died of pneumonia. The Prince brought back the body hundreds of miles to Patiala, where the remains were cremated with all the Sikh rites, which this week were accorded to himself.

Soldiers For Africa

Generals and Recruits Are Constantly Leaving England For the Front.

No Date Has Yet Been Fixed For the Return of Lord Roberts.

London, Nov. 10.—The situation in South Africa threatens once more to absorb public attention in Great Britain.
Lord Salisbury in his speech at the inaugural banquet of the Lord Mayor in the Guildhall last evening, held out little hope of immediate pacification, and the return of Lord Roberts is still problematical.
One of the most seriously interested and best informed as to the future of the belligerent regions, when asked by a representative of the Associated Press what was going to happen, and how soon it would happen, replied: "Unfortunately, I am not a minor prophet." That voices the government's attitude. The ministers have given up speculating as to when peace will be thoroughly restored, and, to use Lord Salisbury's phrase about China, they are "waiting for the situation to develop itself."
Generals are returning, but others are constantly leaving England's shores to replace them. A recruiting depot is being established in London to supply 1,000 men for Gen. Baden-Powell's South African police force, and recruits are constantly going to join the regiments in the Transvaal.
In conjunction with Lord Salisbury's open references to the possibilities of Great Britain being taken unawares by some power, his state of affairs in South Africa does not breed confidence. In His Lordship's defence of the war office many people believed they saw open threats to Lord Wolseley and in the sharp retort to Lord Wolseley's recent criticisms. Lord Salisbury drew attention to the enforced silence with which Lord Lansdowne (the late secretary of state for war) was obliged to stand criticism for the faults of the army officers. He warned his hearers that if the criticism was persisted in the time might come when his silence would be broken and the odium laid heavily and publicly on the right shoulders, though he deprecated having recourse to that.
A curious feature connected with the war was Mrs. Richard Chamberlain's vigorous attack on the army hospitals before the hospital committee this week.
The somewhat extraordinary spectacle of the sisters-in-law of the Colonial secretary sitting two hours before that grave body and teaching a man like Justice Romer his business, created no little sensation. But for the woman who took out to South Africa 500 hot-water bags and re-organized the charities, and who has the reputation of being the only individual ever known to affect the judgment of the Chamberlain brothers, the task was comparatively light.
Will Sue for Damages.
Paris, Nov. 10.—Dr. H. L. McAuley, of Chicago, who has arrived in this city from the Transvaal, tells the representative of the Associated Press that he intends to present a claim for $100,000 damages against the Portuguese government for imprisonment at Lorenzo Marquez as soon as he can lay his case before the state department at Washington.
He says he is one of the few Chicago members of the Red Cross Society who refused to tear off the badge of organization and shoulder a rifle in behalf of the Boers. Throughout the war Mr. McAuley alleges he stuck to the ambulance and tended both the Boer and British wounded.
Dr. McAuley is very incensed at the treatment which he declares Americans received at Lorenzo Marquez, being singled out for arrest among all the refugees. He himself, he adds, was thrown into prison for five days, finally being shipped off to Europe via Trieste, without a charge being made against him or being placed on trial. All his surgical instruments and personal effects to the value of $700 disappeared during his incarceration. The authorities, Dr. McAuley further asserts, refused to permit him to communicate with the United States minister at Lisbon.
Dr. McAuley sails for home next week.
Divorce Made Easy.
New York, Nov. 10.—The authorities vigorously probing into the matter of an alleged divorce mill which was brought to public notice by the arrest yesterday of Attorney Henry Zeimer, Frank Wilson, Miss Mary H. Tompkins, and Mrs. Byrd C. Herrick.
It is asserted that Lawyer Zeimer arranged divorce cases so that a decree could be obtained on evidence given by Miss Tompkins and Wilson, and that Mrs. Herrick was one of the persons who profited by this evidence which was got up for the occasion. Zeimer and Wilson spent last night in the Tombs, in default of $5,000 bail. They are still protesting their innocence.
Recorder Goff this afternoon issued a warrant to search the offices occupied by Zeimer. He also issued a warrant for the arrest of W. Waldo Mason, in whose office Zeimer had a desk. Mason has not yet been found.
The raid revealed the fact that the ramifications of the alleged fraud reach all over the country, and even to England and South America. Documents show that the conspirators had handled thousands of cases within the last three years, and that money had poured into them in a steady stream. An average of $70 was paid for each decree, and in some cases as high as $250. The raid was directed by Assistant District Attorneys Unger and Gordon. Zeimer's desk was forced open first. It contained hundreds of letters from men and women all over the country regarding pro-

Arctic Exploration

Dr. Leopold Kann Gives Details Regarding Peary and Sverdrup Expeditions.

Some Important Discoveries Reported—American Probably at Fort Conger.

Edinburgh, Nov. 10.—Dr. Leopold Kann, the Arctic explorer who has arrived at Dundee on the whaler Eclipse from Davis straits, gives some interesting details regarding the Peary and Sverdrup expeditions.
"Lieut. Peary's party," he said, "passed the winter at Etah, on Smith's sound, near the spot where Dr. Hayes had his winter quarters in 1880, and not far from the scene of the Greeley disaster. In February and March of this year, Fort Magness, our winter house at Redford on Pym island, was thrice visited by the members of his expedition and once by Peary himself, which inclined me to regard as his own. He had previously had met Sverdrup in the Kane basin, north of Smith's sound. From conversations I elicited that some feeling had been engendered between Lieut. Peary and Sverdrup, the former rather resenting what he considered the latter's intrusion into ground which, for exploration purposes, the American was inclined to regard as his own."
"Sverdrup's party had thoroughly explored Ellesmere Hinterland, mapping out a region that was hitherto a blank on the charts. Many of Sverdrup's flags were seen by us."
"In the course of our hunting expeditions in this great tract of country numbers of musk oxen were found on what seemed to be old and established feeding grounds."
"When the Peary and Sverdrup parties separated, Sverdrup's understood intention was to explore the vast area of land and water in and around Jones's sound, beyond Cape Eden. I believe Sverdrup, on the Fram, is now wintering in Jones's Sound and my opinion, which is backed by that of the Dundee whalers, is that it will be impossible for the Fram to come home this year. The autumn is very tempestuous, and the ice was such as to render navigation next to impossible. The natives at Petravo reported that they had returned from Fort Conger whither they had gone to check the station."
"Lieut. Peary had 200 dogs and 27 sleds, but having underrated the difficulties of the journey and not having a sufficiency of food, most of his dogs died. He only kept a few natives at Fort Conger during the summer season, and the rest of the Esquimaux and Lieut. Peary returned to the settlement in a few days. The journey was extremely arduous and the party suffered great hardships."
"I am certain that Lieut. Peary is now wintering at Fort Conger. When I left Cape York on June 9th the Windward was expected to touch there about the middle of July, where orders from Lieut. Peary, which I had brought, were left with the Esquimaux."

SIX DEPUTIES WOUNDED.

Big Timber, Mont., Nov. 10.—After a running fight, during which three deputy sheriffs were wounded, Sheriff Kellott and a posse captured the desperado who last night robbed and probably fatally shot Frank Beaver near Logans, and then killed Sheriff Young and wounded four deputies who attempted to arrest him at Springdale.
Two miles west of Big Timber, a deputy sheriff challenged a man, who proved to be the fugitive. The latter immediately opened fire. Other deputies came up and, after a long chase, during which dozens of shots were exchanged, the desperado was finally surrounded and overpowered.
None of the deputies wounded to-day are fatally hurt.

TO RAISE THE MAINE.

Havans, Nov. 10.—Capt. Young, captain of the port, intends to ask for orders to raise the Maine. Last year he had three offers to raise the battleship for nothing, those who did the work to keep the wreck. No explosives can be used in raising the vessel.

Shipping Disasters

The Steamer Monticello, of Yarmouth, Founded in the Bay of Fundy.

Only Four of the Thirty-Seven Persons on Board Were Saved.

(Associated Press.)
Yarmouth, N. S., Nov. 12.—Steamer Monticello, plying between this port and St. John, N. B., founded in the Bay of Fundy on Saturday morning, and out of 37 passengers and crew, were drowned.
The steamer left St. John at 11 o'clock on Friday, and had fairly good weather until Saturday morning, when a furious storm broke, which caused the steamer to founder. Among the drowned are a number of commercial travellers representing Ontario and Quebec wholesale houses.
Fishermen Drowned.
Southampton, Ont., Nov. 12.—P. Divine, Frank Pope, and Geo. S. Vurey, fishermen, were drowned fifteen miles from here on Thursday morning. They were having fun in the sea when the boat was overturned by a big wave. The fourth man, Kettle, who managed to get free of the nets and get on a boat, was rescued after being exposed for some hours.
Steamer Ashore.
Whitefish Point, Mich., Nov. 12.—The Canadian steamer Arabian, plying between Montreal and the upper lakes, struck the beach about 8 miles west of here on Saturday. The crew were saved. The steamer was not damaged, and tugs will be able to pull her off.
On a Reef.
(Special to the Times.)
Vancouver, Nov. 12.—Steamer Comox, which arrived on Sunday night from coast ports, brought news of the partial wreck of the Seattle steamer Ruth, 333 tons, on her way to the Sound with passengers and freight from Sitka. She ran on a reef off Chatham Point during a fog, and was half out of water when the Comox passed her. She was badly damaged, but her captain declined assistance, and expected to get her off. She had a cargo of 130 tons.

Warships In Danger

A British Gunboat Sunk During Typhoon Which Raged at Hong Kong.

Several Vessels Had Narrow Escapes—Many Natives Reported Drowned.

Hongkong, Nov. 10.—The town was struck by a typhoon last evening. The British river gunboat Sandpiper was sunk, and her crew are reported to be safe. Great damage and loss of life occurred among the native craft, but it is impossible as yet to ascertain the full extent.
During the typhoon the British gunboats Tweed and Firebrand, and the coast defence ironclad Wivern were in great danger, as they were dragging their anchors, and the Firebrand was shipping heavy seas and rapidly filling. All fired distress signals, and the British torpedo boat destroyer Otter proceeded to their assistance. It was a dangerous undertaking, owing to the furious sea and the great masses of floating wreckage.
The Otter succeeded, however, in saving the crew of the river gunboat Sandpiper, with the exception of one man; and the weather moderating, she also saved the other vessels mentioned.
The Canton papers report the execution of Chi, a prominent leader of the Triads, and arrest of Yung Po, a prominent reformer. The officials are doing their best to stamp out the reform movement.
Emperor Declines.
Peking, Nov. 9, via Shanghai, Nov. 10.—Li Hung Chang has received a note from Emperor Kwang Su, declining to accede to the demand for the punishment of Yu Hsien. The note has not yet been formally communicated to the ministers.
SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENTS.
London, Nov. 10.—When the Ostend-Dover mail packet Princess Clementine was nearing Dover yesterday a message by the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy was received on board from La Panne. It was retransmitted to the Marcon station of Dover Court, in Essex, more than 86 miles distant.

YOUR BODIES ARE TEMPLES

You believe that statement. But you only realize in part the obligations implied by it. Do you keep that temple of the body clean? If not, the defilement attaches to every service of the temple. Disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, affects the mind as well as the body. The dull mind stupified by poisonous gasses, enters on its service without desire, and accomplishes it without delight. A healthy body and a clear mind result from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes the clogging and poisonous impurities from the stomach, stimulates the flow of the juices necessary to digestion and increases the blood supply in quality and quantity. The "Discovery" is strictly a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol or whiskey, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic.

"I had suffered from indigestion and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Fagan, of 105 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. "I had had severe attacks of headache and dizziness with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated and I was generally very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery' and commenced feeling better with the first bottle and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it."
