inclined to judge the city government according to the way the future of the harbor and therefore the future of the icty is safeguarded.

He said: "The first thing that should be done is to call a mass meeting of the citizens in order that they may be fully aroused to the importance of the situation. Such a movement should be in the hands of some body which has a recognized standing in the commutity such as the Board of Trade, and steps should be taken to organize with a view to bringing out as candidates for the council competent men—who would be capable of pointing out and dealing with the position we are now in. We have a debt of two million dollars and though our only asset of importance is the harbor, it is now proposed to give the harbor away. If part of the harbor is given to the Grand Trunk Pacific Rallway, part to some other railway and the balance to the government the city will be done for. We need competent men to see that the interests of the city are conserved and if the harbor is placed in commission to see that the city gets proper compensation."

LIQUOR DEALERS TRIED TO GET RID OF INFORMER

But He Failed to Take Their Advice, Has Been Arrested, and Will Appear in Coming Trials.

MONCTON, Feb. 6—Making him be-lieve that they were doing him an act of kindness, Fred Allan, a Scott Act informer, was a few nights ago driven to Salisbury by well known liquor dealers and there told to keep on go-ing. They gave him ten dollars, at the same time telling him if he did not clear out they would lay a charge against him for selling liquor contrary to the Scott Act.

Allan, thinking he would be dealt with the same as Jones, who is now awaiting trial before the county court on a like charge, and who is also a Scott Act informer, agreed to do it, but got as far as Petitcodiac, where he communicated with the police here, the result being that he was arrested on a warrant and now awaits Scott Act cases, when he will give evidence for the prosecution.
