STEVENS-CRAWFORD CASE.

The I. C. R. Officer Says He Will Carry It to a Higher Court.

(The Star.)

Magistrate Ritchie delivered judgment yesterday in the charge preferred by Officer Isaac Stevens of the C. R. against Officer Robert Crawford of the city police. In his remarks the magistrate said that he felt somewhat sorry that this matter had ever come before him. Both parties held positions in which they had to perform duties to the public, and he regretted that such being the case the affair should not have been settled out of court. As the magistrate said he wished that a settlement could have been made, but this was not done.

On reviewing the case, his honor said that Crawford's actions had been to his mind, the natural outcome of excitement. Crawford had gone to the station to assist his brother in sending the men to the woods. Two of these men were late, and Crawford was naturally anxious to get them on board the train. He found the gate closed and, like any other person, became excited. His attempt to go through the gate was natural, his talking to Officer Stevens was also natural, but his subsequent action in following Stevens and catching hold of him was going a little too far. This was not a case of mere excitement, and therein Crawford had done wrong.

The magistrate had heard that Crawford admitted his fault, and was prepared to apologize. He suggested that the affair be settled in this way without going any further.

Officer Crawford said that he was sorry he had acted as he did. If he had given offense he regretted it, and wished to state that he had no intention of in any way hurting Officer Stevens. The latter declined to accept this apology, which he described as a half-hearted one, and announced that the case had already gone so far that his intention was to take it to court. Under these circumstances the magistrate felt compelled to render a decision. He reviewed the evidence, found that the weight of credibility rested with Officer Stevens. The assault was a minor one, and he did not dispose to make Crawford pay anything for it. He found Crawford morally guilty of assault, but under given him by statute he would give no penalty. Officer Stevens has announced his intention of carrying the matter to a higher court.

A PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENT.

Correspondent writes from New-Queens Co.: The Baptist church was the scene of a happy event at 6 p. m. on Wednesday, when Rev. W. J. Blakeney united in marriage Miss Isabel Yeamans, daughter of John Yeamans, and Stanley M. Bailey. The bride, who was away by her father, was gowning white chiffon with accordeon plaited ribbon trimmings, her veil was held by orange blossoms, and she carried a white Bible. Her attendant, Rebecca Yeamans of Boston, wore the pink organdie and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The little page, Elah Jardine, niece of the bride, was daintily clad in a frock of white silk and lace. The groom was supported by Harry W. Bailey of Shelburne, and the ushers, Messrs. Stanley, Fred McMann, John Smith and Ed Bailey. As the organist, Miss Robinson, played Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bridal party left church.

The guests, who numbered about 200, were to the residence of Duncan J. Barry, father of the groom, where a reception was held and a luncheon served. The beautiful gifts to the bride were fully attested her popularity. The groom's gift was a gold watch.

FEAR OF THE FUTURE.

Most people who dread the future are victims of some terrible disease. W. Francis, 204 Colborne street, Kingston, was in a bad state of dread. He had severe pains in his back and legs, was gradually losing weight, and felt a dread of the future. A doctor recommended Dr. Cass's Kidney-Liver Pills and the result was a complete cure. There is no medicine so reliable, none so certain to prove a thorough cure. One pill a dose, sends a box.

MAD MULLAH.

BERBERA, East Africa, Nov. 7.—Swayne, formerly British consul in Somaliland, who started for London today, is ill. Gen. Manning, who succeeds Col. Swayne, is pushing the preparations for an advance against the Mullah. He is hampered in his efforts by the fact that the country has so few roads, and the consequent necessity of awaiting supplies. The Mullah has advanced to within five miles of Bodele. He is known to have 2,000 rifles, one Maxim gun, and 15,000 rounds of ammunition. He has immense reserves of men and sheep at his command. Bodele is well garrisoned and has ample supplies. Guns are constantly carried to the Mullah through French territory, and the British are unable to prevent the practice.

CLARA MORTON'S MURDER

A Mystery That Puzzles the Boston Police and the State Detectives.

Evidence Points to Either a Boston Society Man or a Boston Negro as the Criminal—Her Death as a Warning to Provincial Girls.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—In the developments of the day in the Mason case, which has puzzled the police of New England since Miss Clara A. Morton was struck down and killed in Waverley last Saturday, there are several striking details. No further evidence, however, has been adduced which tends to incriminate in the case Alan G. Mason, the member of the well-known Boston family who has been held since Tuesday on the charge of murdering Miss Morton. In fact, the police were compelled tonight to believe that Mason stood out clearer in the light of an innocent man. This status of mind is caused for the most part by the failure today of Joseph Nemser, the West End Jeweler, to identify Mason as the man who had offered for sale Miss Morton's watch last Saturday night. The attempted identification was made today at the Middlesex county jail when Mason was placed in a group of six men and when Nemser decided he could not say that any one of the men had been in his store. Tonight, however, when the jeweler's attention was drawn particularly to the third man in the line—Mason—he announced that he might have seen that man before. So contradictory have been Nemser's statements with relation to the description of the man in the case that the police have lost faith in his judgment. Such is their conclusion of the man's varying descriptions of the man who sold the watches stolen from Miss Morton and Miss Agnes Crockett, who was murdered in Somerville.

An important detail in connection with the disposal of the watches was the establishment tonight that the signatures on the checks kept on file by the jeweler in identification of persons who offered him the articles, were written by one and the same person. This confirms the theory that the two women were murdered by the same man. But Jeweler Nemser has not agreed at all times that the man who sold the watches was a white man in each instance, or that he was a negro. The state police are instituting an expert examination of the signatures in comparison with Alan Mason's handwriting.

Other features of the case were the arrest tonight at Watertown of a young mulatto on suspicion. He was taken to this city and confronted by Jeweler Nemser, but the latter failed to identify. The negro was released. A new turn has been given the mystery by the allegation by Mrs. Sayres of Watertown in jail this afternoon that Alan Mason was the man who had annoyed her in the rooms of the Natural History building, this city, last summer. This is interesting in the light of the fact that one Soderquist was convicted and sentenced as "Jack the Sluggard" for assault on a woman in the same building. Still another clue for the police is the statement of a Winchester nurse that she saw a negro board a train at North Cambridge and leave it at Waverley just before the murder of Miss Morton. This falls in line with the theory of the Boston police that the murderer was a negro and not a white man.

So serious has the case become that Governor Craie has interested himself and looked over the scene of the assault while on a visit today to Waverley. WATERTOWN, Mass., Nov. 7.—A young mulatto, whose name the police refuse, was arrested here at 6 o'clock tonight on suspicion of being the man who offered for sale in Nemser's jewelry store, Boston, Saturday night, the watch which was stolen from Miss Clara A. Morton. The arrest was made by Sergeant Thomas E. Land of that place in conjunction with Cambridge and Boston police. The negro was at once taken to Boston and to the store of the jeweler Nemser. The latter failed to identify the man. After a conference it was decided to release the suspect, and this was done.

WINCHESTER, Mass., Nov. 7.—State detectives Hammond and Dexter came here this afternoon and together with Chief of Police McIntosh interviewed the nurse who claims to have seen a negro obtain a ticket for Waverley at the Cambridge station of the Boston and Maine railroad last Saturday evening and leave the train at Waverley. Her statement was considered to have a most important bearing upon the murder of Miss Clara Morton on the M. & N. train at Waverley, which occurred late the same night, as for the first time it placed a negro in that town upon the night of the murder.

The nurse, whose name is withheld, started last Saturday evening for Westford, Mass., and waited in the Cambridge station for her train from 7:30 until 8:01 p. m. During this time she had an excellent opportunity of observing the actions of two white men and a negro who were at the station, and she told the officers today that she was positive she could identify the three men wherever she might see them.

The two white men were looking at a photograph, then one of them said: "Well, we might as well buy a ticket." They purchased a single ticket to Waverley, and this ticket the lady says she saw one of the white men hand the negro as they passed out of the depot, although the white men and the negro had previously manifested no sign of recognition.

The negro took the same train that she did, and she saw him alight at Waverley. This places the negro in Waverley at 8:15, or about three-quarters of an hour before the assault on Miss Morton was committed. The descriptions of the three men as given by the nurse this afternoon are as follows: That of the colored man agreeing with the description of the negro who accompanied the man who pawned Miss Morton's watch on Monday morning: Colored man—Very dark, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches in height, thick set, wore black soft hat, but had no overcoat, about 30 years of age. First white man—About 25 years of age, short and stout, smooched with very fat cheeks, had slight limp in right foot, wore dark clothes, derby hat, no overcoat. Second white man, who bought the ticket and afterward gave it to the negro—About 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, dark moustache and medium colored hair, wore dark clothes, derby hat, no overcoat. When asked of what nationality the men appeared to be the reply was that she thought them either Irish-Americans or Scotch.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—It has been learned that a negro employed by the Mason family has gone away from the city, and the police cannot ascertain where he is. Scarcely had the officers in charge of the jeweler, Nemser, failed to recognize Mason as the man who had offered him Miss Morton's watch last Saturday night at the Cambridge street store, left the jail, when a Watertown woman called at the institution and asked to see Sheriff Fairbairn. She gave her name as Mrs. Sayres and was accompanied by Patrolman Bent and Druggist Butler of Watertown. She said she wanted to see Alan G. Mason, because she believed from the picture which had appeared in the newspapers that he was the man who had annoyed her last summer in the Natural History rooms in this city, and again Mason was placed in a line with other inmates of the jail, and again was he with others subjected to a rigid scrutiny. As in the case of Nemser's attempt at identification Mrs. Sayres was allowed to give no sign or utter no word in the presence of the men before her, but when his temporary liberty, it that would help matters.

20 YEARS OF ITCHING PILES. Mr. Alex. McLaughlin, Bowmanville, Ont., writes: "I have been suffering for twenty years with itching piles. Seven years ago he asked a druggist for the best cure for piles and was told to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. He continued his treatment until entirely cured, and as he has never had any return of his old trouble considers his cure permanent and remarkable on account of the length of time he suffered."

POOR CANADIAN BEEF.

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—The Telegram's London correspondent says: "The office officials interviewed in reference to the condemnation of consignments of Canadian canned beef during the South African war, said that it was only one of many instances of the poorest quality of meat ever offered to the public. Prof. Robertson, who witnessed the experimental tests at Woodwich, said: 'I am convinced that any beef made in Canada is entirely inedible, and shall communicate my opinion to the proper quarter.'"

NOTABLE INSTITUTION.

To Cost Nearly Half a Million—Mrs. Potter's Gift. NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Architects are at work on plans for a great philanthropic institution on the lower east side, modeling after the Hull House in England, according to the American. The institution will be erected by the bride of Bishop Potter, who was Mrs. Alfred Corning Clark. According to the paper mentioned, the project will expend $500,000 in the building, the site of which will cost $200,000 more. There will be a kindergarten, a splendid library, a play house, a lecture hall, a lecture hall and other departments, suitable to the moral and physical needs of all classes of the teeming east side population.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Given a Hearty Welcome on Arrival at Port Victoria. LONDON, Nov. 8.—The German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William, accompanied by the escorting German cruisers and flotilla of British torpedo boats, reached Port Victoria at 8 o'clock this morning. The arrival of King Edward's yacht, the Victoria and Albert, with an imposing naval display. All the warships at Sheerness were dressed, their crews manned the decks and the usual salute welcomed the Imperial visitor, who was parading the promenade of the Hohenzollern.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

Canadian Government Will Garrison Halifax and Esquimaut. TORONTO, Nov. 8.—The Globe's Ottawa special says: "In a memorandum of the Canadian ministers with respect to imperial defence appears this statement: 'Canada in the development of its own militia system will be found ready to respond to that desire. (Excess of British taxpayers to be relieved of military burdens) by taking upon itself some of the services in the dominion which have hitherto been borne by the imperial government.' This means that the dominion government is prepared to assume the expense of garrisoning Halifax and Esquimaut."

MISS HUBERT

Victorious in Her Suit Against the N. S. Government.

A Maiden Lady Who Danced With Britain's Present King and Who is Well Known to Occupants of the Ottawa Press Gallery.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 9.—Miss Hubert, a maiden lady of seventy years, and who had the honor of dancing with the King of England when he was here, over forty years ago, Prince of Wales, won a noted victory over the Nova Scotia government on Saturday, when she secured a verdict of $500, in a suit for damages which she had brought against the chief messenger of the house of Assembly. Miss Hubert alleged that she had been assaulted by that official who, in expelling her from the house last winter, said that he was carrying out instructions given to him by the attorney general. Miss Hubert claimed $10,000. The circumstances of the case were that Miss Hubert had presented a petition through one of the members asking for loss of property which she thought had been wrongfully taken from her. She was in the habit of frequenting the legislature to watch the progress of this petition, so much so that the attorney general pronounced her visits a nuisance and ordered her to be ejected, which was done, with the result that the government will have to pay her $500.

[This Miss Hubert has long been a familiar figure in the corridors of the house of commons. She has many times stated her claim and her grievances to nearly all the ministers and to as many members of the house as would listen to a clear statement of the case. A representative of this paper once undertook to ascertain from Miss Hubert the precise nature of her claim, but was not permitted to do so. She is now in Cape Breton, it relates to some land in Cape Breton which she says was taken over for some public purpose. Miss Hubert is a well educated woman of good family.]

FREDERICTON DEANERY.

Important Matters Discussed at the Stanley Meeting.

A meeting of the Ruri-Deacon Chapter was held at Stanley, York Co., on Wednesday and Thursday, the 5th and 6th of November. The clergy present were Rev. H. L. Montgomery, the dean; Revs. Canon Roberts, H. Montgomery, W. B. Belliss, and the Montague, Rev. A. B. Murray. A chapter opened at 10 a. m. on Wednesday. H. L. Montgomery, a divinity student, who was present, was welcomed to the sessions of the deanery. The rural dean reported from the committee on Missionary conference, "that it was considered inadvisable to undertake a missionary conference at the time proposed, but that in view of the anticipated visit to the diocese during the ensuing winter of several active missionaries, the committee recommended the holding of a missionary meeting at Fredericton, which provided the services of these mission workers can be secured."

This report was adopted and the clergy pledged themselves to co-operate with the rural dean in every effort to make the missionary meeting of the greatest possible good. The rural dean placed before the chapter a communication received from the executive committee of the "Society of the Friends of King's College," relative to the efforts which are now being made to increase the efficiency of King's College. After some discussion the following resolution was unanimously passed: "Resolved, that we the clergy of Fredericton Deanery, in chapter assembled, do most heartily endorse the efforts which are being now made by the 'Society of Friends of King's College' (1) to maintain King's College as the church university at Windsor, and (2) to provide funds for, and to create interest in the university throughout the diocese of Nova Scotia and Fredericton."

And further resolved, "That we will endeavor to assist in forwarding these efforts, providing the resolution passed by the Association of members of the annual meeting, relative to the re-organization and increase of the faculty of the college, be carried out." A paper on Acts XIX. 17 was read by the rural dean. The Acts of the Apostles, chapter X. 1-24 verses, was read in the original and discussed. The annual report of the Sunday School Teachers' Association was submitted by the Rev. W. B. Belliss, secretary of that association. All the clergy of the deanery present declared themselves to be members of the "Society of Sacred Studies."

The season of special intercession for missions and for a deepening of the spiritual life, will be observed by the clergy of this deanery with much greater exactness than hitherto. The observance begins on the first Sunday in Advent and continues for eight days. "Evensong" was said in St. Thomas' church, Stanley, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Canon Roberts, LL. D., was the preacher. Rev. H. Montgomery said the prayers, and Rev. W. B. Belliss and the rural dean read the lessons.

TWO GUNNING ACCIDENTS.

WESTERLY, R. I., Nov. 8.—James Nugent, a farmer of Stonington, Conn., three miles from here, was fatally injured this afternoon while returning from a gunning expedition. His brother-in-law, James Langworthy, who was a few feet behind him, stumbled. His gun was discharged and the contents of one barrel penetrated Nugent's left hip. Nugent, who is 42 years old, is still alive, but cannot recover.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE

PITTSBURG GAZETTE, JULY 17, 1902

"IF YOU WERE A YOUNG MAN, and had your start to make in the world, would you take up the manufacture of steel?" was asked of Andrew Carnegie by a gentleman who met him on the train to New York after his last visit to Pittsburgh.

The philanthropist hesitated a moment, then shook his head. "No," he said, "the best opening for a young man to-day is in rubber. Rubber will, in a few years, make a greater fortune under present conditions than steel, or, in fact, any other branch of manufacture. The great value and manifold uses of rubber are just beginning to be properly appreciated, and the profits in its production are greater than almost anything about which I am informed."

Mr. Carnegie then launched forth in a long discussion on the growth of the rubber tree, the best product and the hundreds of uses to which it has been put, and even suggested a number of improvements that showed deep study of the subject. "Watch the men engaged in the manufacture of rubber," he concluded, "and as the years go by you will see them amassing splendid fortunes. The opportunities for young men are as great to-day as ever in the history of the world, and I firmly believe that rubber furnishes the greatest."

The apparently startling statements of Mr. Carnegie, starting only to those who have not investigated, have aroused the greatest interest and everyone wants to at once know all about this wonderful new industry. Of course time is required to grow rubber trees as well as any other trees and those who wished to take the matter up now would be in a bad way were it not for the fact that energetic and farseeing men had already started plantations. Early in 1901 the Obispo Rubber Plantation Company acquired a tract of rich land in the true rubber belt of Mexico, consisting of fourteen square miles or nine thousand acres, over five thousand of which have already been cleared and planted to rubber. There are over seven hundred thousand one year old rubber trees in the nurseries, besides from 500,000 to 1,000,000 planted in corn and other crops. The plantation force is fully organized, labor abundant and transportation facilities perfect, a railroad being on one side of the plantation and a river on the other. The best and quickest way for you to benefit by Mr. Carnegie's prophetic utterances is by sending to the Obispo people for full particulars of their proposition. What is thought of them by their neighbors in Mexico is shown by the letter from the largest American Bank in Mexico from which we quote as follows: "Knowing the personality of the Company and the advantageous situation of the Ranch 'El Obispo,' we feel safe in saying that their success is assured."

THE OBSESSION AND THE ABSENTEE.

(From the Westminster Gazette.) Full bright and grand your show will be. A scene of gorgeous pageantry. There swells will glitter, banners wave, Sweed music fills the "fair and brave," While squadrons splendidly bedight, Will charge and wheel in mimic fight: There Nobles, proud of old renown, And Princes, yellow, black and brown, Knight, Captain, Lord, but lately made—Upfold from the realms of trade—All will gather to behold: Your new "Field of the Cloth of Gold." But midst the pomp, the glare, the noise, One thought will dim the revelry's joys: One absence bring a shade of care—Fair Erin—she will not be there.

DR. SOMERVILLE ASSAULTED.

HAMPTON, Nov. 7.—A warrant was issued tonight by Magistrate R. G. Earle, of Hampton, for the arrest of Jas. Clarence Lake, of Hatfield's Point, for an unprovoked assault upon Dr. A. M. Somerville, of the same place. The latter's eye was badly injured and it is feared the sight is destroyed. Constable Isaac Campbell has gone to arrest Lake.
