TWO GOOD GAMES ON VIC. ALLEY

There was considerable interest in the city championship games on the Victoria alleys last night. The Sweeps and the Tartars had a warm finish, the former team winning with a total pin fall of 1282 to 1280.

In the second game the Dark Horses, with a total pin fall of 1240, won from the Athletics, who made 1187. Riley of the Tartars made a record three string total for the tournament with a 285 score.

The Sweeps made a team record of 1282. The following is the individual score of the teams:

The games scheduled on Victoria alleys tonight are Red Sox vs. Blue Sox at 8 o'clock. At 8:30 o'clock the Kickers will play the Regulars.

With all the "Conleys," "O'Keefe," "Kellys" and "Murphys" who trace their ancestry to Russia and Greece, it's a wonder some sliver pure Celt doesn't rise on his hind legs and start something.

MICHIGAN VARSITY PITCHER IS A REAL DIAMOND WONDER

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 9.—In Michigan to develop another Fred Blanding in Pitcher "Red" Campbell? Everything points to the fulfillment of this hope, Campbell in the sensation of the intercollegiate baseball world. His pitching has led the Wolverines to successive victories this spring and he is expected to develop into a worthy successor of Blanding, now a member of the Cleveland club.

Campbell is a big fellow. He is a right-hander and while he has admittedly much to learn to make a name for himself in the professional game, he has everything he needs to win college games. Campbell's rise to baseball fame has been so rapid that it smacks of the Frank Messersmith legend. Little last year, although in college four years, he confined himself to indoor baseball. Last year when Michigan's pitching was weak, he stepped in. Coach Rice induced him to go out for the team, and he made good from the jump. He knew little or nothing about pitching, but he "had everything" and quickly picked up the fine points. He has to learn much, but he

HOWARD H. CAMPBELL, is the most promising material in sight and it is predicted he will have a sensational year in the game.

JOE JACKSON IS GIVEN CREDIT FOR LONGEST HIT ON RECORD

When Cleveland secured Joe Jackson, the mighty Dixie batter, the management little thought it had a rival of Sam Crawford as well as of Ty Cobb. Consequently, it was not learned until recently that in Jackson, the Naps had a slugger who could not only duplicate Crawford's mightiest feat at League Park, Cleveland, but excel it by a small margin.

When League Park was constructed a wire screen was placed over the right field wall for the express purpose of preventing Crawford from making home runs, which had been a common trick of his in past seasons. But the forty-five foot wall and screen did not stop Crawford at that, for in the second Detroit series he placed a ball over the first exit gate, a distance of 290 feet from the plate to the wall. With the width of the street added, Crawford hit the ball a total distance of 350 feet, not counting the height of fifty-five feet the ball attained in its ascent.

Joe Jackson beat that hit by thirty-six feet, knocking the ball over the second gate exit, which is located fully 150 feet east of the spot where Crawford hit the ball a total distance from the plate to the spot where Jackson's smash left the field is 325 feet, while it landed on the far side of the street, a distance of sixty feet more. It also attained a height of fifty-five feet. If not more, possible sixty or seventy feet. At any rate, the distance from the plate to the spot where the ball fell was 286 feet.

It was the first ball pitched by Roy Mitchell to Jackson that the Nap outfielder hit so hard and the 2,600 spectators could scarcely believe that Cleveland had a man who could eclipse the mighty Crawford until they saw Center-fielder Hoffman throw up his hands indicating that the ball was going over the wall.

It was by all odds the hardest hit ball made from the top of the screen over the first exit gate, while on September 21 Baker hit practically the same spot and gained but two bases. A week later Joe Jackson, who had been edging high up on the screen that all but cleared the netting.

CANADIAN ATHLETES TO GO TO ENGLAND

Toronto, May 11.—The president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has received a telegram from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa, stating the government had authorized the grant to send a team of Canadian athletes to the Festival of the Empire sports to be held at London during the Coronation period. Teams from Australasia, South Africa, Canada and Great Britain will meet at the Crystal Palace grounds on the following dates: June 24 to July 1. There will be one athlete from each team in each event.

The following committee has been appointed to select the team to represent Canada: President James G. Merick, A. A. U. of C.; T. H. Crowe, secretary A. A. U. of C.; Dr. D. Bruce Macdonald, president Ontario A. A. U.; Dr. Fred J. J. Tees, Montreal, president of the Quebec section A. A. U. of C.; J. D. Pratt, Winnipeg, president Manitoba A. A. U.; Lieut. Col. H. D. Johnson, president Maritime Provinces A. A. U.

In view of past performances and with regard to present fitness, the following will likely make the team: One hundred yards and 220 yards—Charles between Kerr, Hamilton; Halhaus, Toronto; Schaefer, Halifax; Dent, Woodstock, Ont. Hurdles—Lukeman, Ottawa. 550 yards—Knox, Toronto. One mile—Tait, Toronto. Swimming, 100 yards—Johnson, Ottawa.

One mile—Hodgson, Montreal. Wrestling—Choice between Walker, Vancouver; Alken, Winnipeg; and MacDonald, Kingston. Boxing—Gage, of Hamilton. It is expected that the team will sail on the 9th or 10th of June.

AGED 50 BUT THINKS HE IS STILL GOOD

(Winnipeg Tribune.) It takes more than age to recall some of the veteran athletes from the scenes of their youthful struggles. Here's old Charlie, South-over 50 years of age—still issuing challenges for a long distance race, and he's as earnest as a knight of the road trying to avoid work.

Every once in a while when the Du-gald crops are in such advanced condition as to permit a holiday, Charlie fills his carpet bag and fits into the great metropolises of the middle west. Thursday the one time star of the Saltford Harriers made one of his visits—due this time to an injured pedal. Charlie did give the details of his accident, but the writer has confused a fork—the good old kind with prongs a foot in length—and a pernicious cow. It may have been the "Moo" that tried to lunch on Charlie's lower extremities, but be that as it may the veteran runner calls them "nails" and penetrated clear to his shin bone. Beneath his deeply tanned forehead Charlie's eyes sparkled when racing was mentioned.

"Too bad that your running days are over," was directed at the veteran. "What? Me out of it? Not on your life," vociferated Charlie in a peculiarly vehement and injured tone. "You surely don't mean to intimate that you are still in the game?" "Why not? I'm only a trifle over 50 years."

"Yes, but they don't have patriarch races nowadays." "Me a patriarch? Shucks, I haven't even reached the veteran class yet." "Why?" continued the former Saltford Harrier. "I can still give the best of these youngsters the race of their life for five miles, but would prefer to take on John D. Marsh first. I know that I can show my heels to Marsh in a five mile event, and you might just issue a little challenge to that effect."

"Over five miles I will not trust myself, but up to that mark I am confident that I can take the measure of John D."

Charlie further stated that he would be ready for Marsh just as soon as his foot mends. The "vet" is debarred from meeting amateurs on account of participating in a race against Marsh about three years ago. After a career of nearly 30 years, during which he ran many brilliant races in England, South turned pro, and for his first engagement in that class, received the trivial sum of less than $5.

GIANT OUTFIELDER AFTER BASE STEALING RECORD

JOSH DEVORE.

Evidently Josh Devore wants to become another Harry Stovey. The Giant outfielder has been getting away with one or more sack per game and threatens to continue the practice unless the pitchers can make him hover closer to first and the catchers get the ball to the second quicker.

YOUNG AND GEERS NEVER GROW OLD

Veteran Baseball Pitcher and Grand Circuit Driver Enjoy Perfect Health and Both are Ready for Another Big Season.

CY YOUNG

As the years pass, by and the pace grows harder, sport enthusiasts look with greater interest to the race which these famous veterans, Denton T. Young and Edward F. Geers are running.

With unflinching stability these grand old men of baseball and light harness racing continue year after year to hold a commanding position in their respective pursuits. By their sterling manner of doing things, and by their unparalleled skill, these men have become examples that every sportsman points with pride.

EDWARD F. GEERS.

will be able to hold his own in the American league for another season. Young has a long way to go to equal as long as he does stick to the rig. Just that long will be continued to be the dean of trainers and race drivers, a title he has held for years.

Like Ed. Geers, Cy Young is planning for another campaign. One round wagon, make the New Yorkers gasp. He was as unlike the Wolgast that fought Brown as treacherous Lake Erie is to the placid canal. Wolgast is a fighter. If he wasn't he wouldn't be up at the top of the championship heap.

The picture of his fight with Nelson proved that he could wallop, take a wallop and had the speed and heart necessary for a champion. He was kidding the Yorkers says an exchange, and if he meets Brown again he'll make that worthy wonder how he ever got away with his life. We will watch with interest for Wolgast's next match and you take it from me, right now, that it will

M'FARLAND SHOULD MEET THE WELTERS

(By Jeff Thompson.) New York, May 11.—The latest triumph of Paeky McFarland has caused considerable discussion as to whether or not he ought not to go into a heavier class.

In his defeat of Tommy Murphy, the "Pride of Flatbush," in a ten round bout at the Fairmount club, Paeky McFarland proved conclusively that he is the best heavy lightweight in the world. At 135 pounds ringside—and he says he can make that weight without any trouble—he can outpoint any of the men now contending for lightweight honors. After the first two rounds he toyed with Murphy. The latter won admiration for his game-ness.

Wolost, Hogan and Welsh were there, and Paeky was not too anxious to give them a line on what he could do if pressed hard. Murphy would not have a chance. That tells the entire story. He did everything he could, unbetted every assortment of strategy, cut loose with rough work and drew on his cleverness to the limit, but it was to no use—he was up against his master, and had to go down to defeat.

When four rounds had been fought Tommy realized that he was hopelessly beaten and grew discouraged. He found, too, a touch of humor in the situation, and had to laugh at the way Paeky peppered him as he pleased.

There was ever present the hope that he would succeed in putting over a blow that would spell victory for him, but McFarland was not taking any too great chances. In the tenth and last round, Tommy made a game try, but Paeky beat him to it, landing at will. He came out of the bout unscathed. Paeky will take a whirl at vaudeville, but all that is left for him unless he goes out of his class into the welterweights. He could take all the present string of lightweight's one after the other and win out.

A SPECIAL SERIES FOR CHAMP. TITLE

The I. C. R. and T. McAvity bowling teams which tied in the Commercial league with the Bells' have decided to play three games to decide the championship. The first game will be played on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock; the second game on Tuesday evening, and the third game on Thursday evening. The team having the highest pin fall will win one point, and the best two points in the three will decide who will be champion. The interest in these games is very keen.

Lot of people who read that "Johnson looked better than ever" when he left the San Francisco jail, imagined he looked better inside. Tough job satisfying everyone.

WOLGAST WILL MAKE MONKEY OF BROWN

After seeing Ad Wolgast in two disappointing performances against K. O. Brown, New Yorkers came to the conclusion that he was a "cheese champion." Now, after seeing him live up to his name of the Michigan Wild-cat, they are rubbing their heads and wondering if it isn't true that they are the biggest "come-ons" in the world.

The way Wolgast polished on One-Round Hogan made the New Yorkers gasp. He was as unlike the Wolgast that fought Brown as treacherous Lake Erie is to the placid canal. Wolgast is a fighter. If he wasn't he wouldn't be up at the top of the championship heap.
