This fatter farmer said: "Now let me tell rice wheat, then I had 800 bushels of potatoes, 200 bushels of turnips, 25 bushels of carrots and 25 bushels of mangolds, all off these four acres. Of course the ground had been well prepared, and the crops were carefully tended, but this should be done in any case." A little calculation a dollar a bushel, or $74, the potatoes were worth 30 cents a bushel, or $240, the turnips were worth 10 cents a bashel, or $20, the carrots and mangolds were worth

The inference is that farming pays i the farmer knows how to make it pay. It all depends in the "know how." And that is what modern education is for.

PROSPECTIVE WELSH IMMIGRANTS The prospect of being able to add to Canada's northwestern population a colony of some five hundred good and tried Welshsettlers under adverse conditions in Patagonia, seems to be growing brighter. The Cardiff Western Mail of February 1, a copy of which is before us, gives a verdelegation of Welshmen who went to interview the Colonial Secretary in regard colonists in order to enable them to reach Canada, and also of the speeches at a subsequent luncheon at which an initial subscription of nearly £1,500 was raised cial experts in their various lines, showing in aid of the project. Catarrh

The cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane.

It is therefore impossible to cure the disease by local applications. It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects general health, and is likely to develop into consumption. Many have been radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the blood and has a peculiar alterative and tonic effect. M. J. McDonald, Trenton, Ont., writes: "I had catarrh, my system was weak, blood was bad, and my liver torpid and inactive. I tried many medicines without benefit until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has completely cured me and I highly recommend it to all sufferers."

STRIKES AND THEIR COST.

The strike of the Boston teamsters and freight handlers has thrown between twenty and thirty thousand men out of work, and has had the effect of paralyzing directed against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad and allied transport, export, trade and deal in pulp roads, was caused by the demand that charged their employes for their refusal. The strikers claimed that the company carriers, and should accept freight from union and non-union concerns alike, whether the goods are manufactured by union labor or not. In other words, they are not free to accept and refuse business, being conveiled by common carriers law.

ment in the dispute, but in the meantime the strike itself developed into proportions which were probably not forseen by either disputant. The expressmen joined with the other teamsters in refusing to carry goods to and from the railroads. The coal dealers were threatened work, and as there was only a small supply Maine freight houses quit work, with the result that there has been no freight moving out of Boston on the various divisions of that great corporation, as no doubt many St. John merchants know from practical experience in the last few days, the the traffic along the water front, and the Lumber dealers refused to handle material that had pussed through nonunion hands, the consequence of which was that the master builders were compelled to suspend operations in many branches. The hod-carriers refused to carry non-union handled bricks. Wood dealers attempted to break the strike so far as their business was concerned by the de livery of goods, with the result that all the wool handlers quit work. The end of such a struggle, brief though it was, is therefore to be hailed with satisfaction by every branch of industry. A brief review of the situation, such as we have attempted to present, gives but a faint idea of what such a strike costs both to labor and capital. Whether the not in the sacrifice of life. In fact, strikes are the nearest likeness which peace presents to civil war.
