THE 26TH BATTALION AND D. A. C. SAFELY IN ENGLAND

Eight Days Out From Halifax, the Caledonia Reported in Plymouth Harbor—Left St. John June 13, Halifax Two Days Later—A Rousing Farewell.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. L. McLEVY, commander of the 26th Battalion.

Our own New Brunswickers have arrived safely in England. The Caledonia, with the 26th battalion from St. John and the Divisional Ammunition Column from Fredericton, was Wednesday reported at Plymouth, where the first Canadian contingent landed, it will be remembered, to go to Salisbury Plain.

The message received in St. John read as follows: "Montreal, June 23.—Steamer Caledonia, which sailed from St. John (N. B.) with the 26th battalion and other maritime provinces units, arrived in Plymouth today, where additional troops were put on board, and did not leave until Tuesday, June 15, so that the passage was made in eight days.

Considerable excitement was caused in the city by a report that an Austrian spy had been found on the Caledonia soon after leaving St. John with enough explosive material to blow up the ship. The report has not been verified.

TURKS LOST HEART WHEN BOMBARDMENT FAILED IN PURPOSE

London, June 22, 11.45 p. m.—"Between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening of June 19," says an official communication from the headquarters of the Mediterranean expeditionary force, the Turks expended some 450 high explosives on our left and centre trenches, and were seen massing for an attack. The enemy's heart failed them, and the attack degenerated into a fire action.

"At 7.30 o'clock one of our brigades attacked a Turkish trench, but were unsuccessful, and the Turks in counter attacks effected a lodgment in their lines at an awkward salient captured by us on the fourth. As the brigade was unable to recover the lost trenches, the Fifth Royal Scots, assisted by a company of the Worcester Regiment, came to their help. This attack was ably organized and brilliantly carried out to a successful issue.

"Prisoners state that the Turks expected that their bombardment with high explosives would have cleared us out altogether, and were much disappointed at so little impression being made, though the trenches were much damaged.

"The Turkish dead are estimated at 300 in front of one brigade alone, and 1,000 in all parts is a low estimate."

Interesting Report of U. S Blocking Sending 300,000 Japanese to Europe

The Hague, via London, June 22, 10.40 p. m.—The Handelsblad, in its edition of today, asserts that Japan has been prevented from sending 300,000 troops to Europe as the result of an unofficial hint to Great Britain from Washington that such an expedition would be undesirable.

The newspaper declares that a Japanese army of that strength was landed in Manchuria, where it was exercising preparatory to departure for the European battlefield, but that Great Britain, after receiving the intimation from the United States, informed Tokio that she was "sorry, but under American pressure, must request that the Japanese government do nothing further concerning the despatch of an expeditionary corps to Europe."

"After this," the Handelsblad concludes, "the Japanese army disappeared from Manchuria, probably much to the relief of Great Britain, which has never desired Japanese participation in the fighting in Europe."

WASHINGTON OFFICIALLY SILENT

Washington June 22.—Government officials tonight heard, without comment, of the article published in the Handelsblad, asserting that an unofficial hint from Washington to London blocked plans of Japan for sending an expedition of 300,000 men to participate in the European war.

Neither confirmation nor denial of the story was to be had. It is known that there were exchanges between the American and British governments while the recent Japanese-Chinese negotiations were in progress, but their nature was kept secret at the time and officials are not inclined now to discuss what took place at that critical period.

The United States knew that Japan had at least 100,000 men in Manchuria when she was waiting for China's reply to her demands. It was generally understood here, however, that the army was there for effect upon China, and to be ready for actual service in the event of a rupture between Tokio and Peking.

All reports from Tokio have indicated that Japan has not been called upon for an European expedition, and has not considered sending one.

Long Range Shells Fall in Dunkirk; Russian Offensive Will Be Delayed

Paris, June 22.—The French War Office this afternoon reports: "The seaport of Dunkirk was bombarded last night by a piece of long range artillery. Fourteen shells were thrown and some persons belonging to the civilian population were killed.

"Belgian troops southwest of St. George took possession of a German trench. All the defenders were either killed or taken prisoner.

"North of Arras during last night the enemy, following a bombardment of great intensity, attacked at several points. They were driven back everywhere except east of Souchez, where they gained a footing in a section of a trench. In the Labryth they suffered heavy losses.

"In Lorraine we have advanced for 400 yards to the north of our former positions on the eastern slope of Beillon.

RUSSIANS CALM

Petrograd, June 22.—"An appeal to the country to maintain calmness, issued by the Russian general staff, is posted in public places throughout the city giving assurances that the whole truth is told in official communications and that wild rumors which are being circulated in Petrograd are unfounded.

"Military men view the situation without alarm, although admitting it may be some time before Russia again is able to resume a vigorous offensive. They assert that Russia has borne for ten months the chief burden of the war, suffering the greatest losses and materially improving the situation in the west. While she is reforming for a renewal of the battle Russia says to the allies to carry the war forward and give Germany no rest. The situation as regards ammunition is expected to improve daily.

Galantry Rewarded When King Pins V. C. on Michael O'Leary's Breast

London, June 22, 10.01 p. m.—Sergeant Michael O'Leary, of the Irish Guards, went to Buckingham Palace today and received the personal congratulations of King George, who pinned the Victoria Cross on the soldier's breast.

O'Leary won this, the most coveted of the British military decorations, during the winter campaign in France. According to the official account, O'Leary formed one of a storming party at Cuinchy. As the party was advancing against the German trenches O'Leary rushed to the front and killed five Germans who were holding the first barricade, which he captured, after killing three more Germans and taking two others prisoners.

The official report added that O'Leary virtually captured the German position himself, and prevented the remainder of the attacking party from being fired on.

LESS CUSTOMS REVENUE UNDER "WAR" TARIFF

Nearly $1,000,000 Less in Last Two Months Than Same Period Previous Year—Exports Show Big Increase Owing to War Munitions.

Ottawa, June 23.—While the war and the increase in the tariff are operating to cut down imports to the lowest figure in years, the increase in the export of manufactured products, due to the orders for war munitions, is keeping the total volume of trade well up to last year's figures.

Imports for May totalled $84,890,808, a decrease of $10,886,181 as compared with May of last year. For the first two months of the fiscal year, the decrease has been $19,329,204, or nearly 20 per cent.

The decrease in imports therefore practically corresponds to the increase in the tariff under the "war" taxes. This is reflected in the customs revenue which is less now than last year, before the duties were increased. The total duties collected last month amounted to $2,285,412, a decrease of $864,384 as compared with May of last year. For the first two months of the present year the decrease has been $885,642.

The May trade figures, however, show that the export of manufactures is now practically double what it was a year ago. The war orders for shells, ammunition, clothing, harness, etc., now mean a monthly business of more than $10,000,000, and this is steadily increasing.

For May the export of manufactures was valued at $16,121,646, as compared with $8,997,277 for May of last year. For the first two months of the fiscal year the exports of manufactures have totalled $28,942,807, an increase of $19,050,831 over April and May of last year.

This increase has resulted in bringing the total of exports well over the total of imports, and "the balance of trade" is now considerably in Canada's favor.

Imports for the last two months totalled $26,758,448, while exports of domestic products were $7,000,000 more. The total trade in merchandise for the two months was $138,558,828, an increase of $2,681,461 over the corresponding months of last year.

The trade figures also show the ebb of the movement of gold to Canada last month, which brought from the United States upwards of $25,000,000 to the treasury in trust for the Bank of England. Gold exports last month totalled $2,681,461, or about $1,000,000 more than for May of last year. In the last two months gold exports have totalled $4,480,132, while imports have totalled only $1,288,272.

Labor Co-operates Gallantly Rewarded When King Pins V. C. on Michael O'Leary's Breast

London, June 22, 2.15 a. m.—The preparations for the supply of munitions are making good progress. The National Advisory Committee, representing over fifty trades unions interested in the making of munitions, has submitted a plan, which has been accepted by the ministry of munitions, under which all skilled labor not already engaged in this business will be enrolled for six months for employment whenever they are required in the making of munitions.

David Lloyd George, in his new capacity of minister of munitions, is expected to make an interesting statement on the situation in parliament today.
