

The Printers of this Magazine regret that through a series of unforeseen accidents to machinery this issue has been unfortunately delayed, and for which delay, consequently, the editors are not in any wise to blame. We trust for the sake of all concerned that this will not occur again.

