British Shipping—Lights.

- (c.) On the port side a red light so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least two miles.
- (d.) The said green and red side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least three feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

And whereas by another Order in Council, made in pursuance of the said Act and on such joint recommendation as aforesaid, and dated the 30th day of January, 1893, the said regulations contained in the schedule to the said Order in Council of the 11th day of August, 1884, were further modified by the addition of the said recited article 3, of the provisions contained in the schedule to the said Order in Council now in recital and set out in the schedule hereto.

And whereas the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended to Her Majesty that the said recited Order in Council of the 30th day of January, 1893, should be rescinded to the intent that the modifications and additions made to the said recited article 3, and set out in the schedule hereto, should no longer continue in operation.

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by and with the advice of her Privy Council, on the 12th day of December, 1895, by a provisional Order within the meaning of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, to rescind the said Order in Council of the 30th January, 1893.

And whereas the provisions of section 1 of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, have been complied with :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in her by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and by and with the advice of her Privy Council, is pleased to rescind the said recited Order in Council of the 30th day of January, 1893, and to direct that from the date of this Order the provisions contained in the schedule to the last mentioned Order and to this Order, shall cease to be in operation, and the said recited article 3 of the said regulations contained in the said Order in Council of the 11th day of August, 1884, shall have effect as if the said Order in Council of the 30th day of January, 1893, had never been made.
