DEATH WAS IN THE MILK.

How a Dealer in Lockport, N. Y., Spread Typhoid Fever.

Cities' everywhere are increasing their precautions against the sale of impure milk. There is no doubt that such milk is a most successful conductor of disease. A case illustrative of this comes from Lockport, New York. A. J. McMaster, who has several cows, has a son who is 17 years old. This son used to take care of his father's cows and do the work around the barn, after which he would deliver milk to his father's customers in different parts of the city. Some three weeks ago the young man was taken down with typhoid fever. He had been doing the milking and barn work up to the time of taking to his bed with the disease. When he at last had to stop work his father would go from his room where he was sick and milk the cows and handle the pans. The result is that several of McMaster's customers have contracted typhoid fever and one victim is already dead. This case plainly demonstrates how necessary it is for the health officers to keep strict supervision over the sources of a city's milk supply. It seems little less than attempted murder for a dealer to send forth to his unsuspecting customers from a house, where a contagious disease exists, food which is almost certain to contain the germs of death.

DISGRACEFUL WORK.

When Liberal Pluggers are Caught They are

The Liberals have played the same game in South Brant they did in Loncaught. He was released on a paltry bond and when his case was called at the police court he was of course missing. The whole proceeding is a disgrace to those concerned, and the magristrate who fixed the amount of bail should have his commission revoked. What use is it trying to conduct pure elections if the Laberal party will persist in sending their organized gangs in Canada will justify Mr. Laurier in of pluggers all over the country, and then when any of them are caught abet their escape. The capture of one of these scoundrels simply means a fine on the party at most of $200. Liberal magistrates and Liberal crown prosecutors seem to have fixed on that sum as a reasonable amount of bail for crooks who should go to Kingston. The farce of taking the prisoner's own shall in $200 more is gone through just as if the band of an unknown criminal is any restraint on him skipping out.

Speaking of the systematic corruption in South Brant by the Liberals, the Brantford Courier says: "One personator was actually arrest-

Mr. Laurier assured a deputation of railway men that if the United States did not mitigate their acti-alien labor laws against Cauadians be would put those self-same laws in operation in Canada word for word. Public opinion doing this. If he can go a nation, that has permitted such narrow-minded and illiberal legislation to go on its statute books, one better his action will still meet with general approval.

As an instance of the one-sided condition of international labor privileges at present the above deputation in formed the premier that on the run between Toronto and Buffalo the Canadian crew of the train is dispossessed at Niagara Falls, on the border, and an American crew takes the train through to Buffalo. On the return, however, the American train hands run clear through from Buffalo to Toronto, and back to Buffalo there being no legal restriction on foreigners running trains through Dominion territory. This anomaly is particularly severe upon Canadian trainemen wherever the divisional point is situated on the United States side of the line. The wonder is Canada has been so long suffering in matters such as this. Patience is no longer a virtue; it is LOST LIGHT.

I cannot make her smile again.
That sunshine on her face
That used to make this worn earth

seem
At times so gay a place.
The same dear eyes look but at me
The features are the same;
But, O, the smile is out of them.
And I must be to blame.

Sometimes I see it still; I went
With her the other day
To meet a long-missed friend, and

They say P might have fame.
I like those gewgaws quite as well
As others like the same.
But I care not for what I have
Nor just for what I lack.
One tithe as much as my heart long
To call that lost light back.

The old story of Prometheus is parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rocks of Mount Caucassus, and vultures were set upon him. They only ate his liver. This grew again as fast as it was pecked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined for interpretation of the imagined?

Take a modern interpretation of the parable. There is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtasked, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up the livery of the property of the parable property of the p er. Then come the vultures—the tor-ments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

Of course, it ain't a daily, but still of course, it ain t a daily, but still to seems to me.

A paper printed once a week is just the right idea,
I always find within it all the news I really need,
While city papers dish up stuff that no one wants to read,

T've been here now a fortnight with my daughter Mandy's folks. Hain't seen a thing worth readin but a lot of chestnut jokes. I hope it ain't presumin', sir, too much for me to say. I don't see how you manage so to let news get away.

I've read your paper reg'lar, but it makes me fairly foam,
When I never find a cussed word about the folks at home.
I hope that you'll excuse me if I emphasize my views—
But you show most blamed poor judgment in selectin' of your news,

Who cares about the Sultan of New Jersey, anyway? want to know how Wayback went for mayor t'other day, Who cares for Venezoola, or for Cuba or for Spain? Who cares how many turkeys Abdul Hamid's folks have slain?
