PAID FOR THE HEN.
Before Judge Houston at the county court today, a Dover resident named Barner was charged with the larceny of a hen. The defendant admitted the offence, which had occurred through a mistake, paid the prosecutor its value, and the costs of the court. A case against one Matt, of Dover Twp., for interfering with a culvert, is being tried this afternoon. O.
L. Lewis is defending.

JUDGMENT RENDERED

The Supreme Court Deals With the Case of Sutherland & Innes Co. vs. T. P. of Romney.

Judgment was given in the supreme court at Ottawa, yesterday, allowing the appeal of Sutherland and Innes, and turning the costs upon Romney township of this long and bitterly contested litigation.

The action was commenced in 1897 by Sutherland & Innes, to restrain Romney from assessing their wild lands in that township for what is known as the Big Creek Drainage scheme which runs northerly through Tilbury West and Tilbury North into Lake St. Clair.

The work, which was carried out by Tilbury West, cost over $15,000, and Tilbury West charged Romney township nearly $8,000 for its share. Then Romney proceeded to tax the lands draining into the scheme for the $2000 or more, as well as for local works, in Romney.

The Sutherland Innes Co. owned some of these lands in Romney, and they contended that no benefit was derived by them, and that the whole proceedings of Tilbury West and Romney were illegal, and they started this lawsuit to have the engineer's reports and the by-laws of Romney set aside, and to have Romney prevented from collecting the assessment against the plaintiffs.

The first trial was at Chatham, before the Hon. Mr. Justice Ferguson, and he afterwards gave judgment against the Sutherland, Innes Co., with costs.

The plaintiffs (S. I. Co.) then appealed to the Court of Appeal in Toronto but there they met with the same fate, as that court unanimously upheld the judgment of trial judge and again put the costs upon the Sutherland-Innes Co.

The plaintiffs then appealed to the supreme court at Ottawa and the case was argued there at the last sitting, and judgment has just been delivered by the court reversing all the judges in the courts below and restraining Romney from collecting the taxes and ordering that township to pay the costs in the different courts through which the case has passed.

This is another evidence of the proverbial uncertainty of the law. The township won in all the Ontario courts without a dissenting judge, but the supreme court at Ottawa (in which more than half the judges are from other provinces) reverse everything previously decided and orders Romney, which until now had been successful in the beginning, to pay all costs in all the courts. Chas. R. Atkinson, Q. C., and Geo.
B. Douglas, have acted throughout for the Sutherland-Innes Co., and in the argument in the supreme court at Ottawa, W. H. Innes, Q. C., also acted for them; while A. B.
Aylesworth, Q. C., and J. B. Rankin, Q. C., acted for the township throughout.

The ordinary layman unacquainted with the legal proceedings is inclined to ask, "If the law as pronounced by the supreme court at Ottawa is to be taken as correct, why should not the case have gone there directly from the Chatham trial and thus prevented the costs and delay of the other intermediate appeals?" Surely there are some reforms for our legislatures to make!

WHO WINS, ANYHOW?
There is, however, evidently some doubt as to the above decision as J. B. Rankin, B.
A. Q. C. counsel for Romney, is in receipt of the following telegram, via C. F. R., at noon to-day:

Ottawa, Oct. 5, 1900.
J. B. Rankin, Esq., Q. C., Sutherland vs. Romney appeal dismissed as to by-law 601 with costs and as to the by-law 602 without costs.

MRS. GARNER DEAD

She Succumbs at Last After a Very Long Illness.

One of the Best Known Residents of the City of Chatham.

There passed away to-day about 12:30, a lady whose name has been more closely allied with the growth of this city than that of probably any other woman in it. Born in Peebles, Southern Scotland, in 1834, she came to this country in the early fifties, when her father, the late John Kerr, settled in Maidstone. In 1855 Miss Isabella Kerr came to Chatham and shortly afterwards married John Garner. They engaged in the brewing business and prospered. Mr. Garner passed away in 1881, while proprietor of the Garner House, and Mrs. Garner the following year built a residence on Thames street, where she has since resided with her housekeeper, Miss Kingston, and of late years her niece, Miss Aggie Kerr, of Maidstone. Mrs.
Garner had five brothers and four sisters. One brother alone predeceased her. They are: Margaret, wife of Hugh Kerr, this city; William Kerr, John Kerr, Mrs. Henry Arnold, Mrs.
Maidstone; Peter Kerr, Birmingham, Mich.; Robert Kerr, Milton Dyke, and Mrs. Hunt, Dorchester. Mrs. Garner owned the Hotel Garner, the Victoria Block, stock in the City of Chatham and shares in a number of insurance companies, her property aggregating in all over $150,000.

TEA AND CONCERT.
A splendid tea and concert was given last evening in the Providence Methodist Church, of which Rev. John Osterhout is pastor. The tea was served in the back of the church and the tables were filled three or four times. Some 400 persons had supper.
The ladies who looked after the wants of the guests were Miss B. Cook, Miss G. Cook, Miss G. Crowe, Miss M. A. An-mark, Miss E. Crowe, Mrs. R. P. Gilbert and Mrs. Richards. The Rev. Dr.
Hannon occupied the chair during the presentation of the following program:

Chairman's address.
Selection—Apollo Mandolin and Guitar Club.
Recitation—Miss L. McKenzie.
Address—Rev. H. W. Locke.
Solo—Miss Clara Gammage.

tar Club.
God Save the Queen.

The members of the Apollo Mandolin Club presented: Lester Heath, guitar; F. Brundage, mandolin; W.
Wrigley, mandolin; Earl Sheldrick, flute. The ladies realized a nice sum from the harvest home, which was a grand success.

All the directors of the Agricultural Society are expecting great results from the fair on Oct. 9, 10, 11. The Penitential Fair this year certainly promises well.

Herbert Fisher was with Alie Drake on his Idaho trip, and he, too, assisted in killing the bear. Mr.
Fisher hid the hide of the bear that Alie shot, but he also claims to have had a hand in the execution, and his claim stands indisputed.

Unintentionally a King St. firm forgot their delivery horse when leaving and left it standing tied all night in the rear of Dossie's Martin's stable.
Humane Officer Henry Dagneau saw the horse and had it put in a near-by stable. He ordered it to be fed and rested all day.

Bedlam was again turned loose in Windsor last night. Another Windsor boy returned home from the South African war and the citizens were apparently not giving him just as royal a welcome as the three other boys have received. The hero who was given this ovation by his fellow-townsmen is Clarence K. Horison. He comes back covered with glory and has a bullet wound in his leg.
