A FILIPINO TRAGEDY

INSURGENT SHOT BY AMERICAN OF-FICER PROVED TO BE HIS SON-

Was Stolen by a Chinese Nurse - Major Rockefeller's Son Joined Assinaldo's Forces-The Two Met in a Hot Fight, and the Father Killed His Boy, Learning the Truth Later-Stricken With Remorse, He Deserts.

How stranger is truth than fiction! For this is a true story, with a tragic ending—an ending that has made a gallant officer of the United States army a deserter and exile because of remorse, says the Columbus corre-spondent of The New York Journal. Charles N. Rockefeller, a young New Yorker, enlisted as a private in a New York regiment at the out-break of the civil war. In 1863 he was made a first lieutenant in the One Hundred and Seventy-eight New York infantry, and for gallantry in action at Fort Blakely, Ala., on April 8, 1865, a medal of honor was awarded to him. He was honorably mustered out in 1866, and business took him on a trip to Winona, Minn. There he wooed and won Miss Evangeline Re-Lieutenant Rockefeller again joined the army as second lieutenant in the Ninth infantry. He was then stationed in Columbus, O., and al-ways afterward called Columbus his

A child was born-a boy. He was called Robert. When the little one was a year old, in 1870, Lieutenant Rockefeller was detailed on duty in Hong Kong, where he was, with his wife and baby, until 1872. While stationed at Hong Kong Licutenant Rockefeller lived with his family at Bennett's Cigar Store | the International hotel. A Chinese nurse looked after the little boy.

In 1872 he arranged to sail for San Francisco. Two days before the date set for sailing the Chinese and the baby disappeared. Hong Kong was searched. Large rewards were offered, but no trace of nurse or child could be found. The broken-hearted young lieutenant and his wife were compelled to return to the United States without the little one. Mrs. Rockefeller died soon after her arrival in San Francisco, and the griefstricken father rejoined his regiment. He saw service with the Ninth in the Indian wars and in Cuba, and when his regiment was ordered to the Philippines in the spring of 1899 he went along. He was then a captain and was known throughout the army as a particularly daring sol-dier. Soon after his arrival at Manila was made a major and transferred to the Sixth infantry.

Major Rockefeller at the head of three companies of troops scouted the country around San Beoir. On one occasion a vicious stand was made by a body of insurgent troops led by a handsome and dashing young white man, who fought like a fiend. He charged right up to the American lines. Major Rockefeller shot him dead, and the insurgents fled. Major Rockefeller directed that the body be searched, and papers found revealed that he was Paul Stanhope of Hong response to one he had written near-ly a year before. The letter was from the American consul and recited that in 1879 a white boy had been placed in the Jesuit college in Hong Kong by a Chinese woman, who said that he was 9 years old and that his name was Paul Yen. The name of the Chinese woman who had nursed the Rockefeller baby was Yen. In 1881 the boy was adopted by an English merchant in Hong Kong of the name of Henry Stanhope. He gave the boy his name and reared him well. The young fellow was well known in Hong Kong as Paul Stanhope. He was of an adventurous disposi-tion and some two years ago joined Aguinaldo's army. It was this young man that Major Rockefeller shot and killed in the engagement with the Filipinos.

When Major Rockefeller read the letter—it had been chasing him around the world for nearly a yearhe realized that he had slain his own son. He dropped out of sight as mysteriously as the baby had dropped out of sight in Hong Kong. From Manila he made his way to China, and by devious routes to Santa Barbara, Honduras, where he intends to remain, according to a letter received a few days ago from Ancient Cats.

A mummy cat is a very curious thing. Tons of these embalmed crea-tures were brought to England a few years ago to be ground into bone manure. What an unromantic end-ing after 4,000 years mummifica-tion! Some of the cats were bound with the ears standing erect, others laid flat. The cloths were still adhering to the mummies, though in one shipload, supposed to contain 180,000 cats, very few really complete specimens could be found.

It is supposed that the cats were of the species known as Felis mani-culata, a kind formerly found in North Africa, and probably tamed by the ancient Egyptians, from which we get our domesticated pussy.

Screams Were Heart-Breaking, 3 Doctors & Institute no Avail. CURED BY CUTICURA.

My little boy broke out with an itching rash I tried three doctors and medical college but he kept getting worse. There was not on square inch of skin on his whole body unaffected. He was one mass of sores, and the stench was frightful. At the time I was induced to try Curicura reme ties, he was so had that I had to cut his hair all off, and put the Curicura (ointment) on him on bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. In removing the bandages they would take the skin with them, and the poor child's screams were heart-breaking. After the second application of Curicura (ointment) I saw signs of improvement, and the sores began to dry up. His skin peeled off twenty times, but now he is entirely cured. I used Curicura Resolverz for his blood, and a stronger and healthior boy you never saw than he is to-day.

THE DRESS MODEL.
