We are going to give some one person a present of $25.00 in cash on the 23rd. We do not care who gets it, but it will fall to the one who buys the greatest amount of Dry Goods at this store. Don't cost a cent. We register your purchases and give you a pass book. Small sales make a large total, and twenty dollars is the largest amount to one person yet. You can start with the highest by buying this amount every week. We purpose each week to try and keep you posted as to the amount of the biggest book, so watch this corner. This is the only store in town doing business upon a cash basis, and goods were never sold at lower prices. Don't be misled by people who offer discounts for cash, as these discounts must be put on before they can be taken off.

DETECTIVE RING.

Died at Moncton Yesterday—Was an Active Man on St. John's Police Force.

Detective John Ring died at Moncton Wednesday morning at his home on Steadman street, after a painful illness of some nine weeks. Dropsy was the direct cause of death, but a complication of ailments set in towards the last.

John Ring was a St. John boy from almost infancy, although he was born in New York, and grew up with a generation that has now pretty much passed away. He was a shoemaker by trade and worked in several St. John factories before he joined the police force in 1875. In 1882, under the late John R. Marshall, he was appointed detective, a post that he filled with honor to the end of his long period. In the stirring times surrounding the great fire of 1877, John Ring did noble work. Later on he made petty robberies in the city almost an impossibility. He kept the track of every sneak thief and receiver of stolen goods, and was thus able to put the machinery of the law into instant operation whenever a complaint was put in his hands. About a year ago he was appointed chief detective of the L. C. R. between St. John and Sydney, which position he held at the time of his death. John Ring had a host of friends in St. John, but like all police officers of worth, he made some enemies in the discharge of duty.

He leaves a widow and three children, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. The remains arrived at St. John Thursday morning on the Maritime express. Members of branch 165, C. M. B. A., attended the funeral in a body.

THE CHATHAM PULP MILL.

Parties Looking it over Last Week.

CHATHAM, Sept. 12.—Harold Harnsworth, of London (Eng.), who is so deeply interested in the pulp mill industry in Canada, and Messrs. George Harnsworth and Mason Beaton, also of London, registered at the Adams House, Chatham, Thursday night.

Friday morning, accompanied by Mayor Snowball and Messrs. Fred. Tweedie and R. A. Lawlor, they went through the Maritime pulp mill, which has been closed for the last 13 months.

They made a thorough examination of the works and surroundings, and while they made no statement, they seemed to be favorably impressed.

They next went through the J. B. Snowball Company's mill, which is just across the road, with a view of seeing what provision could be made for procuring the waste, in the event of their purchasing the pulp mill.

The party came to Newcastle on Mr. Tweedie's private steam launch and took the day express for Bathurst when they looked over the proposed site for a mill there.

OBITUARY.

Died at Bath, on September 9.—John Morrissey Quinn in the twenty-third year of his age. The remains were brought to Newcastle by his brother Frank and the funeral Sunday was largely attended. The pall bearers were—Leo Harriman, William Ryan, James Murphy, Gilmore Stothart, William Power, and James Stables. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The funeral was led by the C. M. B. A. Band of which Frank was a member.

The news of this sad accident by which a promising life was so suddenly quenched, deeply grieves the many friends of John Morrissey Quinn. Indeed, the sympathy of the whole community goes out to the fond mother and loving sister and brother and sister into whose life such sorrow has come. 'Tis true that few realize more fully than does this young Christian mother that "Accident is only another name for Providence". But that her grief is deep, intense, poignant does not make her resignation less beautiful, rather more. We feel sure that he who sanctified our sorrows by sharing them, and justified our tears for the departed by his own, will bless the grief which while it mourns, is always ready with its Fair. You, untas Tea. Mrs. Quinn sorrowed not as one who cannot see the "stars shine through her Cypress tree." She knows her darling boy is in the merciful arms of One Who loves him more than a father—even as a mother.

The death of Wm Miller of Douglastown occurred in St. John on Friday last. Mr. Miller was born in Douglastown and for a number of years carried on a saddlery business. The remains were brought to Douglastown on Saturday, and interred on Sunday. The burial service was conducted by Rev. D. McIntosh. The pall-bearers were: H. H. Lamont, Geo. Henderson, Robert Jessamine, L. Doyle, P. Swanson and Robt. Simpson.

DIED.

At Bath, Minn., Sept. 9th, John Morrissey Quinn in the 23rd year of his age. Rest in Peace.

BIG GAME.

The Game Season Opened Monday.

MANY HUNTERS

Have Proceeded to the Haunts of the Mighty Moose.

The big game season opened on Monday. Prior to that date, however, many sportsmen had arrived and proceeded up river to the haunts of the Moose and Caribou in order to be on the ground for the first day of the hunting season. This year bids fair to exceed all others in the number of big game hunters who will visit this section.

The following parties have already proceeded up river:—

H. A. Pitman, William Long, Boston—North Pole, guide, Hiram Mandeville.

Frank R. McDonald, James H. Williams, Cambridge, Mass., James Manderville & Son, Dungarvon River.

Wm. G. Ely and wife, Schenectady, N. York, guides, Warren Bros., Sabbies River.

Gen. Wm. G. Ely, F. G. Ely, Norwalk, Conn., guides, Ned and Jas. Way, Mount-ain Brook, North West Miramichi.

R. A. Thompson, Geo. E. Brigham, North Adams, Mass., guides, McKay Bros., Tomogonopos River.

Dr. Devinell, Wm. B. Chubb, Tauton, Mass., guides, Ned Menzies and Jim Brander, North West Miramichi.

Dr. Guter, & Son, New York—North Pole, guide, Ned White.

Geo. F. Dominick, N. Y., guide, Carl Bersing, Peabody Lake.

S. C. Stanley, Lawrence, Mass.—Kennedy Lake, guide, Norris Mandeville.

E. R. Galsney, N. Y.—Baie du Vin, guide, Donald Fraser.

Rich'd D. Ware, Thos. Talbot,—North Beach Kenos, guides, D. Mandeville.

T. Hoague, Boston—Ynais Lake, guide, Jas. Mandeville.

Albert G. Miel, N. Y., Josiah White, guide, Seville Waters.

C. G. Mixer, Boston, Wm. Crawford, N. Y., R. H. Armstrong, Newcastle, Cataract Lake, guide, Sandy Johnston.

THE COAL STRIKE.

Strikers Attack Workmen—No Change in Wyoming District.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 10.—Two Italians, John Divino and Antonio Dizzi, employed at the Old Forge mine of the Pennsylvania Coal Co. at Old Forge, Pa., were held up by 50 Italian strikers as they were returning from work this morning. Both were clubbed and stoned. Several shots were fired and a striker is reported to have been shot in the leg. Divino's injuries were so serious that he had to be removed to the hospital. Dizzi was able to go to his boarding house.

In the Wyoming region today, contrary to reports circulated last night, the coal companies did not make any attempt to start any additional collieries. The washeries that were in operation last week are turning out the usual amount of coal today, but all the big mines are idle.

A Pathmaster and a Woman.

The law has a hard hand and an unyielding eye in some of the small and remote communities, and no man is so much at the mercy of the law as a pathmaster. A little brief authority, on the township of Alton, in Barre county, a poor widow, with two children, was consulted by a pathmaster to work side by side with him for three quarters of a day, shovelling gravel on a pile. She is a hard-working woman and tried to do it, but being too feeble to do so, she refused. The pathmaster then threatened to bring a suit against her, and she was obliged to go to the work, she must do it herself, and she did it.

The roads in Alton should grow fine and smooth where the labor is directed by so firm a hand. When even the widow must go to shovelling gravel, it is hard to see that no man is so much at the mercy of the law as a pathmaster.

A fisherman noticed a lonely lady sitting on a rock at North Berwick, knitting, and remarked to his companion, "That's a lonecome looking woman. She sits on that rock a day and a night, and never speaks to a living soul, and I could make a good guess as to what she is doing." "No, no," said the other, "No, no, I don't know what she is doing."—Edinburgh. The watch

UNCLE SAM'S FLEET SOMEWHAT CRIPPLED.

Several Cruisers Unfit for the Winter Manoeuvres in the Caribbean.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Naval officers are much disappointed at what now promises to be the enforced absence of several of the finest warships from the great winter manoeuvres in the Caribbean Sea. It is now stated as a settled fact that the big cruiser Brooklyn will have to be placed out of commission and will not be able to take part. The Brooklyn will be docked at the New York yard and her repairs are expected to consume the greater part of this month.

The cruiser San Francisco which has been attached to the European station is also reported in bad condition.

The New York, flagship of Rear Admiral Rogers, which is coming to San Francisco cannot take part unless in the improbable event of a trip around the Horn. The department expects to place a number of vessels in commission in the next months, the Decatur in September, Newark and Texas about November 3, and the Maine a little later.

THE SKELETON IDENTIFIED

Mr. Tobin Is Satisfied It Is Henry Stanley's Remains.

Mr. Abel Tobin went to Mispic on Sunday and with others visited the spot where a skeleton was found last week. The bones had been left where found, awaiting Mr. Tobin's visit. He is thoroughly convinced that they are the remains of his father-in-law, Mr. Henry Stanley, who disappeared from Mispic thirteen years ago. Mr. Tobin was positive as to his identification of the bones which he had himself repaired. He also identified the bowl of the pipe as the bowl of the pipe he had given the old man. The memento was different, but relatives explain that Mr. Stanley did not like the original memento and traded it. A white handled knife was found beneath the bones, and this has been identified as similar to one Mr. Stanley carried. The identification is about as complete and satisfactory as is possible after so many years, and the family to day gave orders to Undertaker Chamberlain to have the remains interred. The coroner does not consider an inquest necessary.—Globe.

GOOD WINDOW DISPLAYS.

Messrs. R. Chestnut & Sons have displays in each of the windows of their establishment that are attracting much attention, especially from sportsmen and hunters. Each is a display of hunting goods and arms, arranged by Mr. Jack McAdam, the firm's popular salesman and tasty window dresser. In each window is shown a mounted caribou head. That in the uptown window was shot on the Keswick by W. I. Chestnut and was mounted by the Crosby concern of Bangor; and the other head was shot last season by Sidney Thomas on the Miramichi and was mounted by Enack Bros. of Gibson. Of the two heads the latter is the finest specimen and in the opinion of most judges is the better mounted.

Y. M. C. A.

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held in the rooms on Monday night 15th inst.

Bill of Wm. McCullam and Stanley Bradwell for taking care of rooms were read and ordered to be paid. Mr. Pollan is now in charge of the rooms. Some discussion arose as to the advisability of opening another room, the matter was deferred to the first Tuesday in October on which date the annual meeting for election of officers and other business takes place. It was decided to open the rooms during the day between the hours of 9 and 4 o'clock, boys who are not members are not to be admitted. A box was placed in the room so that members, wanting to pay their dues when the secretary is not present can do so by placing the amount in an envelope which will be furnished for the purpose and dropping it in the box. It is hoped that members who are in arrears will avail themselves of this opportunity to pay up. Some interesting developments will probably take place in the near future in connection with the association. An orchestra that will furnish music at the Sunday afternoon meetings is one of the possibilities. A Sunday morning Bible Class also talked of and an effort will be made to bring this about.

If the young men of the town will but take hold and show an interest in the association a grand good time may be had during the winter in the room that is prepared to open can be used for a variety of purposes in the way of athletic games, socials, etc. While debates and other meetings of interest can be held once a week. Let us wake up to our responsibilities.
