

When Adam Picked His First Fig Leaf

When Adam picked and put on his first fig leaf the Men's Clothing Business was born. The first Ready-made Garment was a fig leaf. Probably Adam wasn't satisfied with the first leaf and thought he'd try another. By and by he found one that suited him, cut, material, fit and quality.

Adam Was Shrewd, He Look- ed Around.

Now, Sir, if you are not fully satisfied with the clothing you are wearing, suppose you look around.

Suppose You Look Here.

Our patrons are always satisfied—we make them so by giving them the best clothing to be had on earth for the money.

OUR TEN DOLLAR SUITS.

Our new Spring Suits have a large sprinkling of the ever popular $10.00 suits in handsome colors—Tweed, Serge, Worsted and Oxfords. It will pay you to look at them even if you don't want to buy. We've over forty thousand dollars worth of new Spring Clothing in. If you haven't bought clothing at this store follow Adam's example and look around—come here—that's what we're driving at—if you come once, you'll come again.

Mr. J. R. Davidson, undertaker, met with a very serious accident a few days ago. He was guiding with a stick a rope which was holding goods through a hatch to an upper story, when the stick broke and he lost his balance and fell through the hatch to the floor below, a distance of fifteen feet. The man who was holding the rope and looking down saw Mr. Davidson lying on the floor. Medical assistance was called in and he was found to be badly bruised about the head and face.

WHEN the steamer Southport was coming down the East River on Tuesday of last week the paddle shaft on one side broke off. She was a short distance east of Hickey's wharf at the time. The tide was running out and she drifted helplessly till she came opposite the wharf when a line was taken ashore in a boat and she was made fast to the wharf. She is about twenty seven years old and her machinery has not been officially inspected since Fred Peters became Premier; she has not carried the life preserving apparatus she is laid for by the regulations, nor has she been run by engineers holding "engineers certificates." This is how the Government has been subjecting passengers to the risk of losing life and limb.

A SERIOUS MILITARY ENGAGEMENT.

The war office, London, on Friday last received from Brigadier General Manning, in command of the British forces in Somaliland, a despatch dated at twenty miles westward of Galada, Somaliland, April 18th, as follows: Regret to report that a firing column under command of Colonel Cobbe, which left Galada on April 10th to reconnoitre the road to Walwal, had a most serious check on April 17th. On the morning of April 17th Col. Cobbe was at Gambarra forty miles westward of Galada, and had decided to return to Galada, owing to the difficulty of finding a road to Walwal and the shortness of water. He was about to leave his camp (protected camp) when firing was heard in the direction of a small party under command of Captain Oliver, which had been sent in a westerly direction to reconnoitre. At 9 o'clock in the morning Col. Cobbe despatched Col. Pinkett with 100 men of the Second Battalion of the King's African Rifles, 48 men of the Second Sikhs and two Maxim guns for the extraction of Captain Oliver if necessary. As a matter of fact Captain Oliver had not been engaged. Pinkett on joining his detachment continued to push on. At 11.45 Colonel Cobbe heard a heavy fire in the direction taken by Pinkett, and about one o'clock in the afternoon a few fugitives coming in reported that Colonel Pinkett had been defeated. The news has been fully corroborated since, and I have to report the total loss of Col. Pinkett's party with the exception of 37 natives, who have arrived here. Pinkett kept back the enemy until he had no more ammunition when he formed a square and charged on them with the bayonet in the direction of Col. Cobbe's camp. He moved some distance in this manner, but a great many men including Colonel Pinkett himself, were killed or wounded by the pursuing enemy. Brigadier General Manning after an engagement with the Mad Mullah's forces relieved Col. Cobbe near Gambarra, Somaliland. About two thousand of the Mullah's men were killed. The British loss is not known. The Mullah's forces are reported to aggregate from 30,000 to 40,000 mounted men and about 80,000 spearmen.

SOLDIERS CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

Five private soldiers belonging to the second battalion of the Leinster Regiment were sentenced to death in the Supreme Court at Pretoria, Wednesday. The conviction of the men followed their trial in connection with a riot which took place at the barracks on March 28th. When the militia police attempted to arrest a number of drunken soldiers the latter were reinforced by some of their comrades and secured rifles and ammunition and opened fire on the military and one of the latter, members of Leinster Regiment was killed and sixteen men were injured.

A SEALER FINED.

The St. John's, Nfld., Herald speaking of the arrival there of the steamer Newfoundland, says: Captain Farquhar has laid before the Government the messages he received from the Canadian Department of Marine, asking him to proceed to the aid of the Minto and Stanley. He will support these by further documentary evidence from that department and from the Governor General, and it is believed that on his doing so the Executive here will return him the $4,000 which he had to pay yesterday in order to secure permission to land his seals. While rounding Cape Spear in a storm on the 14th the steamer had five boats smashed. Capt. Farquhar has sold his seals to Job Bros.
