The Months:

January brings the snow,
Makes our feet and fingers glow,
February brings the rain,
Thaws the frozen lake again.
March brings breezes loud and shrill,
Stirs the dancing daffodil.
April brings the primrose sweet,
Scatters daisies at our feet.
May brings flocks of pretty lambs,
Skipping by their fleecy dams.
June brings tulips, lilies, roses,
Fills the children's hands with posies.
Hot July brings cooling showers,
Apricots and gillyflowers,
August brings the sheaves of corn,
Then the harvest home is borne.
Warm September brings the fruit,
Sportsmen then begin to shoot.
Fresh October brings the pheasant,
Then to gather nuts is pleasant.
Dull November brings the blast,
Then the leaves are whirling fast.
Chill December brings the sleet,
Blazing fire and Christmas treat.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A sea-saw—The sword fish.

The worst tax of all—Attacks of gout.

Ship's bread—Rolls, and plenty of 'em.

Belle mettle..A young lady's temper.

Texts for sinners—pretexts.

The children's kingdom—Lap-land.

The greatest army contractor—peace.

Common scents—musk and verbena.

The rock that topers split on—quartz.

A music teacher was tried in the "scales" and found wanting.

It makes all the difference if you put Dr. before instead of after a man's name.

Be temperate in diet—Our first parents ate themselves out of house and home.

A FACT—Many a man, after making a "bargain" in silk, has found that he has got worsted.

The Persians say of noisy unreasonable talk, "I hear the sound of the millstone, but I see no meal."

Josh Billings thinks that next to the gizzard the heart is the toughest piece of flesh in the whole critter.

JEST SO.—When a man wants money or assistance, the world, as a rule, is very obliging and indulgent, and—lets him want it.

A man's first care should be to avoid the reproaches of his own heart; the next, to escape the censures of the world.

When Jonah's fellow-passengers pitched him overboard, they evidently regarded him as neither prophet nor loss.

A native jury at Galle lately returned the following verdict in a case of drowning:—"The deceased came to her death by gulping when under water."

A Scotchman asked an Irishman why farthings were coined in England, and Pat's answer was, "To give Scotchmen an opportunity to subscribe to charitable institutions."

A man named Wells, having stepped upon a quicksand, instantly sank out of sight; whereupon one of his companions remarked, "That's a new way of sinking Wells."

"I don't mean to reflect on you," said a coarse, would-be wit to a man whom he had insulted. "No," was the reply, "You are not polished enough to reflect on anybody."

These are in the refreshing Western style of persuasion: "Mr. Waggoner found fault with the beef at a Memphis hotel, the other morning, and the coroner made $3 on him." "Peter Ink, an old citizen of Knox county, Ohio, was blotted out the other day, age 75."

"Where do you hail from?" asked a Yankee of a stranger. "Where do you rain from?" was the counter question. "Rain" said the Yankee; "I don't rain from anywhere." "Neither do I hail," said the stranger; "so just see if you can acquire a competency by minding your own business."

Mr. Gladstone (in his beautiful valedictory address to the University of Edinburgh) mentioned that among the Greeks, ugliness was regarded as a kind of sin. We have heard strong-minded ladies assert that there exists a similar superstition.

SENSATIONAL.—During a recent Boston engagement, Miss Loots was singing Frank Howard's new song "Guess who," and when she repeated the lines—

"Some one I'm wishing and longing to see;
Guess who, if you can, guess who,"

an enthusiastic individual in the parquette sprang to his feet and exclaimed, "I can't guess who, but I'd give a thousand dollars if I was the man!"

In Elmira a young lady corresponds with her father's clerk, who has been forbidden the house, in a very smart way. She pins a note in the folds of her father's cloak, and when he hangs up the garment in the store the youth gets the note on the sly. He reads it, and during the day replaces it with an answer, which the young lady gets while the cloak is hanging in the hall at home.

Old Bluebag, the lawyer, took to reading Shakespeare, for the first time in his life, during the last vacation. When he got as far as the trial scene in the Merchant of Venice," he threw the book down in disgust. Questioned as to his reason for doing so, he gave it as his opinion that Portia must have been an ass as a rule, in defiance of every principle of law and equity, that Shylock should not spill a drop of Antonio's blood in appropriating that pound of flesh; "for" (said Bluebag) "the bleeding was an implied part of the contract, and as strong as any other part of it." He considers, moreover, that it was only a most brutal ignorance of the law that could have prevented Portia from directing Antonio to file a bill in chancery stating his readiness to pay the money due on the bond, with interest, and the court would have been sure to have granted an injunction. Bluebag thinks that Shakespeare must be in a great measure fictitious.

Dr. Chalmers was no exception to the saying that a prophet is not without honor save among his own countrymen. When he preached in London his own brother, James, never went to hear him. One day, at the coffee-house which he frequented, the brother was asked by one who was ignorant of the relationship, if he had heard this wonderful countryman and namesake of his? "Yes," said James, somewhat dryly, "I have heard him." "And what did you think of him?" "Very little, indeed!" was the reply. "Dear me!" exclaimed the inquirer, "when did you hear him?" "About half an hour after he was born," was the cool answer of the brother. When he preached at his native place, so strong was the feeling of his father against attending any but his own parish church, or so feeble was the desire to hear his son, that although the churches of the two parishes of East and West Anstruther stood but a few hundred yards apart, the old man would not cross the separating brook to hear him.

Selections from Josh Billings.

There is one critter in this world whose troubles ye can't console, and that is a settin' hen.

Those persons who spend all or their spare time watching their symptoms are the kind who enjoy poor health.

About the fust and last thing a human being duz in this world is to shed tears.

I kan tell exactly how all nater's youngsters ought tew be fetched up, but I don't so clear about mi own.

A loafer is a person who is willing tew be abused for the privilege of shuning others.

There is sum folks in this world who spend their whole time hunting after righteousness, and ain't got any spare time to practice it.

Adversity has the same effekt on a man that severe training duz on the pugilist—it reduces him tew his fighting weight.

Natur kan be improved upon often with good effekt, but altering it generally spiles the whole thing.

Afflictions are like the summer sun—they will for the purpose of ripening.

If ye want tew find out a man's real disposishun, take him when he is wet and hungry. If he is amiable then, dry him up, and you have got an angel.

It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

WHILE thanking our former agents and customers for their liberal patronage and confidence for the past year [and which we still hope to retain,] we would respectfully call their attention to our style No, 61. This Organ being a 6 octave, Double Reed [U Scale] is a very desirable instrument for advanced players, and Pianists or parties educating themselves for the pianoforte: and as a parlor Instrument, it meets every requirement. Our No. 30 is the same as 61, but different style, and more expensive. Our No. 32 is pronounced by all who have seen it to be the finest instrument in the world for the price; this organ has two complete setts same as No 30, with two additional half setts, viz, Hautboy and Vox Celeste, making four setts from middle C up and also 1½ octaves of Bass Profundo. We are the first and only parties who make this line of Instruments, and the universal satisfaction they have given, and the immense sale of these Organs, show that they are appreciated and encourages us to make them a speciality.

Applications for agencies, where we have no agents, at all times confidentially solicited.

Prospectus for 1873—Sixth Year.

THE ALDINE,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides.

ART DEPARTMENT.

Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall, when THE ALDINE assumed its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition has more than doubled during the year; proving that the American public appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of Art. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the utmost to develop and improve the work; and, the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even the most sanguine friends of THE ALDINE.

The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists of America.

In addition, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs or copies of any kind.

The quarterly tinted plates, for 1873 will reproduce four of John S. Davis' inimitable child-sketches appropriate to the four seasons: These plates, appearing in the issues for January, April, July, and October, would be alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

The popular feature of a copiously illustrated "Christmas" number will be continued.

To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world at a cost so trifling, will command the subscriptions of thous ands in every section of the country; but as the usefulness and attractions of THE ALDINE can be enhanced, in proportion to the numerical increase of its supporters, the publishers propose to make "assurance double sure," by the following unparalleled offer of

PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1872.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, without additional charge, a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. Hill the eminent English painter. The pictures, entitled "The Village Belle," and "Crossing the Moor," are 14 x 20 inches—are printed from 25 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As to the determination of its conductors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of competition in every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every subscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers to a five dollar periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of Art; and, considering the unprecedented cheapness of the price for THE ALDINE itself, the marvel tells little short of a miracle, even to those best acquainted with the achievements of inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances. (For illustrations of these chromos, see November issue of THE ALDINE.)

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT will continue under the care of Mr. RICHARD HENRY STODDARD, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of THE ALDINE always in keeping with its artistic attractions.
