DEPREDAATIONS WERE SHOCKING

Details of Ravages of First Train of Harvest Excursions Are Coming to Light. Toronto, Aug. 20.—Terrible tales are told by C. P. R. trainmen of the depredations committed by drink-crazed brutes who went out west on the first harvesters' excursion. Winding broken, chandeliers smashed, shutters splintered, coaches disgustfully dirty, piles of hay in the corners of the cars. These were a few of the more noticeable forms of the damage. "But that is the worst. According to the trainmen, the women on the train were all placed on one car. It is alleged that these "civilized savages" then carried a school teacher into one of their cars. The indignities that followed are not detailed.
