H. E. Results.

The Primary and Preliminary results of the C.H.E. examination distributed to the schools yesterday. The Intermediate examination has not been reported on yet as account of the accident to the printer and the consequent delay of the examinations in a large number of northern centres, some of the papers were not in the hands of the printer until August 28th. ### Give the Commissioner a Clear Field.

It is not altogether a surprise to me to see statements made in the press, by some of our best recognized writers, which are really foolish statements, in the light of past history, writing about the coming Royal Commission which is being appointed to investigate our public affairs, it has been stated that the gentleman who has been appointed by the Imperial Government, to act as chairman of the Royal Commission, will come to the office entirely independent and will be untrammelled, by any local or partisan leanings. The presiding member of the Commission, according to the writer is above all party prejudices. Does he reason this on the basis of everybody who comes from England has the Genuine British stamp of justice imprinted upon him? Defecting briefly, from the object of my letter, I may call the attention of those writers, that not only are English individuals on their trial to-day by outsiders, but in the Public News, printed in the Daily News of the 10th September, Lloyd George is quoted, as having said, at a meeting in Wales, that the very British Empire, was being snatched out of Europe, and the policy of her government was being allowed out forcibly amidst the snickerings of the world. This is a degression but to return to my subject, I do not write now to criticize our expected commissioner but judging by Past History, all over the world, I would suggest to those who have the welfare of Newfoundland at heart and hope for a resurrection from her present jaundiced condition, to see that all arrangements for the Commission be made before hand and that proceedings be started immediately on the arrival of the commissioner and give him no time whatever to become influenced by the parties who are to be tried in the melting pot. We who have read, studied and lived amidst European and Continental politics take it "cum mica salis" that an English Commissioner, not more than other Europeans on similar missions is what we call in vulgar parlance above board. A recent writer stated that the Commissioner cannot be influenced, one way or the other, and that this should strengthen the position of the Commission in the public thought and should impart confidence to the people. This is the point where he seems to lose sight of the fact that many impartial and well-meaning men, have set out on these missions to do justice, but on arrival at their destination, have been waylaid by the friends of the party on trial, and after being dined and wined by such, their views are by no means so impartial as when they set out to do justice. Let me state, before concluding, to the parties responsible for the inquiry, that it is a foregone conclusion, by Heads of Church and State and the Intelligent Public that this Commission will go the way of its predecessors and very little will be heard of it, until the amount paid the Commissioner comes out in the House. Let us hope that it may not happen so, but should it turn out thus and the public behave calmly and serenely, then every Newfoundland will deserve the treatment meted out to them.

ADAMS-TAYLOR.
The marriage on Saturday afternoon at Topsall, of Miss Elsie Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Taylor, to Mr. Geo. Adams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Adams (all of this city), was indeed a very pleasing event. Mr. Nurse, who though in ill-health and the evening of life very efficiently solemnized the marriage. The weather which in the early hours looked so unpromising gave way to a sun, blue skies and sunshine, and the old adage "Happy is the bride, which the sun shines on," was quoted by many.

The bride, who was given away by her father was charmingly costumed in a travelling suit of Fawn, and wore one of the latest creations in a Paris hat of black and royal blue. The bridal bouquet being stock, asters and maidenhair fern. All brides are of course charming, but Saturday's bride was unusually so.

The bridesmaids were Miss Taylor, sister of the bride and Miss Adams, sister of the groom, who wore dresses of robin's egg blue marionette crepe and rose satin, respectively and carried bouquets of pink and white asters and stock. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, Mr. Bert Taylor.

At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony party motored to Donovan's, where a reception was held. Though only the immediate relatives and friends of both families were present, yet about fifty sat down to the sumptuous repast, after which followed the cutting of the magnificent wedding cake and the customary toasts and replies, which were eloquently given by Hon. J. Davey, Mr. W. Thompson, the groom, the best man, Mr. H. J. Taylor, father of the bride, Mr. Geo. Adams, Sr., father of the groom and others, the speech making closing with the singing of the National Anthem.

The bride and groom left Donovan's by the evening train, a motor car awaited at Carbonate to convey them to Heart's Content, where they will spend their honeymoon, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Stentford, sister of the groom.

The wedding presents were numerous. One does not often see such an elegant display of silver, cut glass, rare china, etc., which speaks eloquently of the esteem in which the contracting parties are held.

The groom has been a member of the office staff of Sproving Bros. Ltd., both before going overseas and since demobilization. We bespeak for the young couple a happy and prosperous voyage o'er the sea of matrimony.

Tug Hero Refloated.

The tug Hero owned by A. S. Rendell & Co. which sank at Monroes wharf on Sunday last was refloated yesterday under the direction of Mr. John Taylor. During Monday and Tuesday, Diver Scutten was engaged in the difficult task of making water tight all the doors, hatches, etc., on the ship. When this job was completed, a powerful pump on the tug Hugh D. was brought into action. After several hours pumping, the Hero rose to the surface undamaged. As far as can be learned there is not a loose plank in the hull and it is presumed that the accident was caused by a leak in the seacock used for wetting down the ashes.

Poultry Lecture at Mt. Cashel.

Last night members of the Nfld. Poultry Association gave a very interesting illustrated lecture at Mount Cashel, under the chairmanship of Rev. Bro. Etnnis. The lecture occupied upwards of two hours, and over 200 views of poultry houses, incubators and other appliances were shown. During the evening the Mount Cashel Band, under Capt. Arthur Bulley, rendered a number of pleasing selections. At the conclusion of the affair, Rev. Bro. Etnnis thanked President Williams and the other members of the Poultry Association present for their kindly interest in giving the boys an insight into the most up-to-date methods of poultry culture.

In Memoriam.

"Leaves have their time to fall, and flowers to wither at the north wind's breath; But thou, of all others, hast no season for thine own, O Death!"

The death of Miss Kitty Devereux which occurred at Ferryland recently, has left a void in the hearts and lives of her numerous relatives and friends, a void which alas can never more be filled. The deceased who was one of Ferryland's most popular and estimable young ladies, was the youngest daughter of James and the late Mary Devereux, and sister of the late Rev. Fr. Thomas Devereaux. Her noble traits of character were apparent in many ways, a true friend, a model Christian, a great church worker, well might it be said, Earth has lost and Heaven has gained. Her whole life, though short, was a great example for all who came in touch with her, made up of self-sacrifice and unselfish charity. Finding her health failing she left her home town in August of last year, and went to America; there she underwent treatment for eight months at the hands of the most skilled specialists, visiting at the same time some of the best health resorts in the New England States, but all to no avail. She returned home in June, her health gradually declining, until finally the end came and her sweet soul fortified by the last rites of Holy Church passed to its eternal reward. Our beloved Pastor, Rev. Fr. Maher, was at her bedside during her last moments and all during her illness did everything possible to comfort and cheer her. Besides Father Tom, Private Aiden who made the supreme sacrifice, also John and Elizabeth who became St. Anne Joseph of Mary Immaculate Convent, Hartford, having predeceased her, she is survived by a sorrowful father and two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Costello and Mrs. J. J. Keough, also a large circle of relatives and friends who have the entire sympathy of the whole community in their great sorrow.
