An Annual Fair

As a result of the events which have been occurring this week the closing of our Industrial Fair failed to receive the attention which it deserved, and before the event has been altogether forgotten, the part taken by the exhibitors and particularly by those whose booths contained purely local products is worth recalling. These lines of goods aroused the greatest interest and formed an object lesson which no doubt was studied carefully by the local capitalist. In St. John's and other centres of population there is a pressing need of such industries to provide permanent employment for those who are not already engaged in fishing, in the pulp and paper business, or other established occupations. The output of several of our manufacturers is not as extensive as the local demand would appear to justify, although they seem able to compete with the importers both with regard to price and quality. Wherever this can be done without any undue privileges, it would be most beneficial if their scope was enlarged. It would mean increased circulation of money, steady employment for a considerable number of people, and would tend to put a stop to emigration.

The local products have been without exception of excellent quality and design, and reflect the greatest credit on the local workers. When it is remembered that many of these lines represent industries but recently started, no further proof is necessary of the natural skill and adaptability of the Newfoundlanders.

The success of the exhibition exceeded the highest expectations of the promoters, and the reduced travelling fares helped considerably to make St. John's once more the emporium of the Island.

The suggestion has been made that the Fair should become an annual event, and it is deserving of hearty support. The experience gained this year would enable more elaborate plans to be carried out, other manufacturers to participate, and would provide a healthy stimulant to the general trade of the whole country.

The Labour Situation

After the decision of the Longshoremen's Union yesterday to permit the men to resume work on the same terms as had been in operation previous to the strike, their representatives met the Employers' Association at 4 p.m., who discussed the situation at length and submitted the following proposition for their consideration:—1. The men to be employed at the same rate of wages and at the same hours as hitherto; 2. That the men be employed in accordance with the terms of our agreement of August, 1921, and that the restrictions imposed since that agreement be removed; 3. That any non-union men who were employed by us during the strike and who wish to continue in such employ, will retain their positions; 4. That there will be no discrimination on our part against Union men whose positions are still vacant and who will return to work under the conditions above stated, and on your part, against men whether formerly members of the Union or not, who have been employed by us during the strike and who wish to retain their positions.

The agreement referred to above was suggested as a result of the resolutions passed by the Union in 1920, which were as follows:

"All unnecessary overloading of trucks to be prohibited.
 "Not more than—
 Two casks of oil in a sling.
 Two casks of fish.
 Three barrels of herring.
 Five drums of fish.
 Four boxes of fish.
 Three sacks of oats.
 Five sacks of sugar, 100 lbs.
 Five sacks of flour, 100 lbs.
 "No truck load to exceed 500 lbs., except heavy cases. Not more than 3 bundles of hay. Not less than 2 men breaking coal or salt. Guy men to be employed on all steamers.
 "Molasses vessels:—
 Four men on a crab winch.
 One man bearing off on deck.
 Four men in the hold.
 "Taking out cargo not less than 11 men.
 "Taking in cargo not less than 14 men.
 "Not less than 9 men in the hold of a coal or salt boat. Work to cease at 6 p.m. No work at meal hours or holidays."

At a meeting of the Union, which was held in the C. C. Hall last night, it is learned that the Union decided that the men should return to work this morning, leaving the minor matters outstanding to be adjusted at a later date. The outstanding difficulty at present appears to be to reconcile union workers to work with the volunteers recently taken on. And while matters seem to be proceeding smoothly at certain premises there is friction at others.

Union men began work on S. S. Canadian Sapper at 9 a.m. to complete the discharge of the cargo. It is not definitely known if the ship will return to Montreal. She had three trips to make to complete her schedule when the strike broke out. S. S. Sachem is still in the stream. Part of her cargo has been removed and the ship will haul in and discharge as soon as the Sapper is finished. The volunteer help which was discharging the ships left to follow other occupations when the Union men resumed.

The discharging of S. S. Liger County was begun by the L. S. P. U. men at 6 a.m. and work of loading the Rosalind began at 10 a.m. The ship will sail this evening, probably at 6 p.m.

Supreme Court

(Before Mr. Justice Kent).

KING VS. J. WHITEFORD MCNEILLY.

The hearing of the above matter began before Mr. Justice Kent and the following special jury: Thomas Buckley, Walter Morrissey, John Bugden, Wm. Raynes Edwin Lawrence, Mark Pike, Patrick J. Carter, Wm. R. Neal, Geo. H. W. Press, Geo. Vavasseur, Edward Murphy, Chesley Pippy, Mr. B. Dunfield and J. A. W. McNelly appeared for the accused. Mr. L. H. Emerson and Mr. H. A. Winter, for the Crown.

Mr. Winter addressed the jury and pointed out the salient features of the charge, after which he called Mr. J. C. Hepburn, Director of Baine Johnson & Co., owners of certain timber licenses.

He had one license in his own name at Hamilton Inlet, Labrador. He has held it for the past 7 or 8 years and the rental amounts to $8,500.00. The rentals were paid by cheque in 1916. Witness received a receipt (receipt put in evidence). Receipts for subsequent years, five in all, were put in evidence. Rentals were paid after due, and interest $96.00 was paid thereon. Cheques to pay the rentals, 1920, 1921, were also put in evidence. Witness was never charged with any arrears as the amounts were paid regularly on expiry of time limit.

Fenwick Crane, Accountant & Secretary, Job Bros. Ltd., Witness proposed that Mr. Job had several timber limits and the rentals would be paid for through the firm. He had a limit at Hare Bay. The rental varied and averaged $340.00. Receipt for rental for 1921 was put in evidence. Two other receipts for rental of the same limits were put in evidence. A cheque for 1919, drawn by Job Bros. and marked for deposit, was put in evidence.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dunfield witness said the other two cheques could not be located.

Robert Leith, Chartered Accountant Witness conducted an audit of the books of the Terra Nova Sulphite Co. prior to liquidation. Witness shown receipt recognized it as rental for 1920 for timber area owned by the Sulphite Co. A cheque for $1,296.00 was attached to the receipt. Cheque was marked for deposit to credit of the Department. A second receipt and cheque for $512.00, paid by the same company, was identified by the witness. A brief cross-examination by Mr. Dunfield followed.

Sidney Hart, Clerk in the Department of Agriculture and Mines. Witness deposed that he knew Mr. McNelly as Second Clerk. About four years ago he was First Clerk. Mr. McNelly looked after the timber business and Mr. Thorburn after the mineral licenses. Some moneys were paid in on timber licenses, it was usually paid to Mr. McNelly. Witness paid all the bills of the Department and kept the books. When moneys were paid they would be entered in a special receipt book with a stub. The stub is a counterfoil of the receipt. Mr. McNelly entered the stubs and witness would make the entry on the cash book from the stub. The number on the stub would appear on the cash book. Witness did not handle the cash. It was deposited in the Bank of Montreal to the General Exchange Account and a receipt would be given by the Bank. The receipt would go to Mr. McNelly. Witness only made deposits once or twice—during Mr. McNelly's absence. (Bank receipt put in evidence). Debt and credit side of cash book always agreed, so it was fair to assume that Mr. McNelly deposited all the money he received as shown by the receipt. In addition to the cash book a ledger was kept but it was never balanced. Sometimes when amounts were due, bills would be sent out, but not always. Witness shown document which he recognized as a bill for 1,550 square miles of timber area at $2.50 per square mile and interest $93.00. A cheque for the amount and a receipt was also included in the exhibit. The receipt was not one from the regular numbered stub-book. It was signed "paid by Mr. McNelly." When asked if he received stubs showing payments of certain rentals, witness said he could not remember. Asked if he could produce the stubs for 1917-1918 and 1919, witness said that he could not. All used stubs were always kept on file but those for these periods could not be found. After making the entries the stubs were handed back to Mr. McNelly. When a book was finished out, it was put on file and accessible to all the officials of the Department. They were for a time kept out, for audit, and then put away in the vaults. There are no other records for receipts of money except the stubs. Asked to examine cash book for May, 1916, witness, doing so, said there was an entry of payment of $3,100.00 by Mr. Hepburn, but there was none for the interest of $93.00. In the 1917, there was no entry for the amount of rental. In 1918 there was also no entry. The stub numbers on the pages of the book ran consecutively and there was no number missing. The same applied with books for May, 1920 and 1921. Witness shown receipts of R. B. Job, May, 1916, 1917, and another for 1919, said he had not the stub books for these years.

Asked to examine cash book entries, witness said there was no entry of payments for the amounts of rentals during these periods, although the stub numbers ran without break. The documents in relation to the Sulphite Co. payments were also shown witness and an examination of the cash book made. There were no entries for the amounts of rental and the stub numbers ran without break as in the other cases, excepting in 1923, when no stub numbers were entered on the books. The entries were made by Mr. McNelly. Witness said the books were audited and passed as correct by Mr. Donnelly from 1910 to 1923. Asked what the totals, according to the bank receipts, amounted to for the years between 1916 and 1923, witness gave the following figures as the totals from agriculture, timber and minerals:

1921-1922	1922-1923	1923-1924
$797.32	$4,882.71	$20,988.32
488.40	49,136.49	24,259.00
1,048.70	48,610.88	29,570.00
1,577.15	63,318.09	25,840.00

Survey fees amounting to $130.00 were paid this year.
 1915-1916.
 2,042.10 70,836.62 19,200.00
 Survey fees $97.30.
 1917-1918.
 1,701.44 58,909.35 18,220.54
 1916-1917.
 3,861.70 63,584.37 16,004.00

Witness shown a document said it was a deposit slip dated June, 1921 for $14,646.37 made in Mr. McNelly's handwriting. Another deposit slip dated June, 1920 for $9,101.34 was shown the witness and recognized as being signed by Mr. McNelly. There was an item on the deposit slip showing that a cheque for $3,193 had been deposited.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dunfield witness said some of the stubs were kept in the vault and others in the filing cabinet, and once they were entered up, nobody appeared to take further interest in them. Witness said that receipts were often given on the voucher forms of those making payments. It was not necessary that the party who signed the deposit should take the money to the bank. Practically all the officials of the department could receive money and it has occurred that officials had signed receipts in advance for moneys they expected would come in. It might happen that some one in the department could hand out one of these receipts to the party coming in to pay their account. Witness said he remembered when a receipt went out before money came in, and it is possible that there might be receipts out now for which moneys had not come in. He said. The cross-examination had not concluded at 1 p.m. when the Court rose for recess. The hearing was resumed this afternoon.

Workman Injured at Car Shops
 A carpenter, named Patrick Burke, employed at the Government Railway Car shops, met with a painful accident at the plant yesterday while working on a planing machine. The man was engaged at the time trimming a piece of board by running it through the planer, when a portion of it snapped off and hit him a terrific blow on the right arm, breaking the bone near the elbow. Dr. Patterson who was hurriedly summoned to his aid, made an examination of the injuries and ordered his removal to the Hospital. Last night the injured member was set, and he is doing as well as can be expected to-day.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE WILL COVER MANY QUESTIONS.

LONDON, Nov. 14.
 (Canadian Press Cable)—It is anticipated that the Speech From the Throne at the opening of Parliament on December 9th will indicate the Baldwin Government's intentions with regard to housing, trade revival, unemployment, and foreign affairs, an inquiry concerning food prices, and perhaps some suggestion of national insurance against ill-health and unemployment. With regard to the housing problem the Government, it is understood, will assure the Trades Unions that its scheme for providing more housing accommodation for the people will embrace a period of at least 15 years which, it is anticipated, will nullify the Unions towards the admission of diluted labour, or at any rate the extension of the apprenticeship system and the promotion of semi-skilled laborers. Regarding the proposed enquiry as to food prices there are indications that this question will be looked into at a very early period by a Royal Commission, and the question of prices will be explored with reference to the Imperial aspect thereof. An Imperial Economic Committee may be appointed to consider the marketing of Empire produce, with the object of securing "primary" how the food commodities of the Dominions can be brought more prominently before the attention of the consumers in the Mother Country than is the case at present.
