WEEKLY REVIEW.

grain situation shows no changes since our last weekly review. Receipts have been steady, and, alwing for rain, just about the same volume. The principal deliveries in volume. were wheat and oats, while a few lots of barley and peas came in. The de-mand for all sorts was steady, and prices just the same as they were. Wheat sold at $105; oats at 72c; peas at 80c to 94c, and barley feed at 70c. Very little extra good wheat offered. The sample of oats was only fair, and that of peas and barley moderate. Nothing of any consequence was done in any other kind of grain. The dressed and live hog market was considerably lower, and the sup-ply light. Live—Choice weights and singers sold at $5 25 on Monday. Dressed sold from $5 for heavy rough to $650 and $675 for choice; demand was limited at these prices, but apparently equal to the present supply. Hay sold at $7 50 to $8 50, mostly $8.

The supply was light and demand Very little straw came in.

...FLOUR... We sell all the leading makes in any quantity and at low prices. Satisfaction
