"Since you were here my memory still goes back to the sportsmanlike spirit which you displayed when visiting our little town. Notwithstanding the wind and rain, you got up very early in the morning (previous to a very long railway journey), so that our team should not be disappointed at having a game of bowls with our friends who had come so many thousands of miles to give them pleasure.

"On the two occasions we have had the Capadian bowlers, we have found each member of the team such a truly sterling and patriotic member of the empire that I am desirous of giving you for competition a tangible token of an Englishman's esteem, by presenting to the Dominion, Ontarlo and Western Lawn Bowling Associations a perpetual trophy for matches between clubs in the associations—a chased silver loving cup.

"This evidences come in the shape of a silver loving cup from Henry Butt, Esq., of Weston-super-Mare, England, as a slight token that the good times are not footen, nor likely to be. The trophy is to be called 'The Victoria Loving Cup,' and is for competition among the bowlers of the Dominion, Ontario amount of the Eamston and Western Bowling Associations. Messrs. George Anderson, Toronto, Dr. Russell, Hamilton, and W. H. Nelson, Montreal, are the trustees.

"And the trophy seems to come just at the time it was wanted. For up till now there has been no trophy in Canada representing the bowling championship of the Dominion, or even of Ontario. The Western tournament at London, the Ontario at Niagara, and the Dominion at Toronto all provide champions of a kind. But who are the real champions of a kind. But who are the real champions of a kind. But who are the real champions of the championship of Canada? It could either be played off for by the champions of the championship of Canada? "The boundless acres of uncultivated tand, secured to the empire by the foresight, energy and unparalleled toil of great men of a past generation, has ever been an inducement to some of our best and noblest sons to leave the mother country and to seek to carve out a fortune for themselves, and in their turn to become worthy citizens of a great empire of which we all are proud sons.

"That lawn bowling is doing its little share to bind the empire together is evidenced by the results of the recent visits of curling and bowling to Britain. The kindly words that the curling Canucks elicited from all British publications are still ringing in our ears. And now comes further evidence that the bowlers who hardly so successful, were held in no less high esteem.

Atlanta, Ga., April 8.—On the Veldrome bicycle track, with its 85 per cent banks and short turns, which blcycle riders declare the most dangerous they ever competed upon, Louis Strang, in a high-powered Buick racer, drove at terrific speed for three miles, while breathless, ashy-faced spectators hurried from the boxes and from safer places, watched, fascinated,

The calm-faced youngster whose driving has been the talk of two continents since he won the Briarcliff road race, flirted with the grim spectre as audaciously as if he had a strangle hold upon the scythe. Twice while circling the 12-lap track his tires burst, and each time for a fraction of a second he hovered between life and death. But twice the master hand at the steering wheel swung the balance in his favor, and he won out. Not until Strang steeped did the ground return to the permula and great his representations with results of chears. til Strang stopped did the crowd return to the normal and greet his performance with rounds of cheers.

Chicago, April 8. - Owners of the Cubs and the Sox yesterday formed a baseball trust. It will have for its object the keeping of the two baseball me championships of the major leagues in Chicago, with the world's title thrown in for good measure. The two magwest sides, met on Dearborn street, and clinched the deal. What it cost to cement the combination was split by the two, and a bunch of fans went away happy after it was all over. "Well, if here isn't the owner of the world's champions," was Comiskey's greeting, as he espied the rotund boss two

"Probably I wouldn't have been had we met you," was the rejoinder. "It is all right so long as the flag flies in Chicago," was the come-back. "You have a great team, Murphy, and I hope you land the two hold-outs."
