WARDLAW SISTER DEAD

Facing Trial of Murder She Starves Herself to Death.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 12.—Miss Virginia Wardlaw, one of the mysterious sisters under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Okey W. M. Snead, the East Orange bathtub victim, died in the House of Detention here yesterday. Death was due, in the opinion of physicians, to starvation. The fate of the elderly woman in this respect paralleled that of her alleged victim, for doctors who examined Okey Snead before her death said her ailments were all due to a lack of nourishment. In the opinion of jail attendants Miss Wardlaw deliberately starved herself to death. For several weeks the woman's condition had been growing worse and last Monday she was removed from the jail to the House of Detention. In the cell she occupied was found a quantity of food which she had concealed. Predictions were made that Mrs. Caroline B. Martin and Mrs. Mary W. Snead, the other sisters, may never be brought to trial.

PRINCE SEES CONEY AND CANCELS PASSAGE

Indian Potentate Falls Victim to Charms of Famous Resort.

New York, Aug. 12.—Coney Island did the business for the Maharajah of Mourbhanj, ruler of half a million people in Bengal, India. He took just one look at the shoot-the-chutes and the tickler, and cancelled his passage back home on the Mauretania.

"Nothing doing in the jungles for me after this," declared the maharajah, who speaks English fluently. "I must have another whirl with the gayety at the island before I leave."

The maharajah, a young man, though the ruler of a big province, came away from his native jungles for the first time to visit America. The railroad company made out his itinerary for him and gave him only two days in New York. But when he struck the Great White Way and Coney Island he decided to rearrange his schedule. He got busy on the telephone and called off his passage home.

Then he inquired about Wall street. "Guess I'll go down there today," he smiled. "I'm not rich—only got a few hundred policemen and no standing army back home—but I'm out for a real live time and I've got the chance. After I get through with Wall street, I'm going back to Coney. There's quite a lot doing here, even if this is a small place compared with India. A lot more people, you know, and many beautiful women."

The maharajah's trip calls for a circuit of the world. He's three-quarters round now.

"I'm a bit worn, don't you know," said he today. "We didn't quit the gay life at the island till about 1:30. But a good time—why, tiger shooting from my pet elephant isn't half the sport."

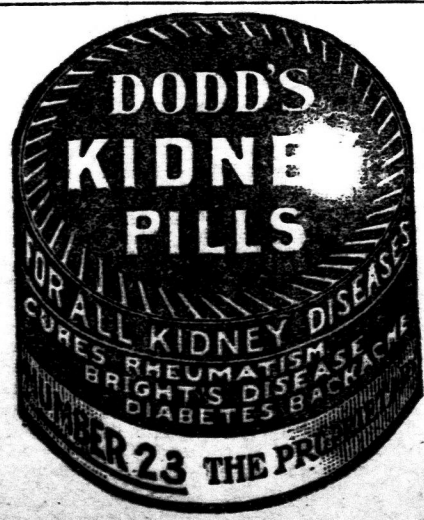

BARONESS VAUGHAN WILL MARRY SOON

Penniless Sisters of Leopold's Morganatic Wife Give Up Hope of Assistance.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Baroness Vaughan, morganatic wife of the late King Leopold of Belgium, is soon to marry Emmanuel Rulier, a French citizen and a retired merchant of 50. The bans have been published at Arronville, near the historic castle of Ballincourt, which was a gift to the prospective bride from the aged monarch during his life.

The baroness is but 27 years old and lacking in experience in worldly affairs. Her friends say that she finds it difficult to manage the huge fortune left her by Leopold, and she fears that the legion of lawyers who have been fighting her in the courts will eventually swallow not only the interest, but the principal of her estate.

The penniless sisters of the baroness, who are living in Paris, are stupefied at the news, and express themselves as amazed that she should marry so soon after the death of the king. Although she is said to be possessed of many millions, she has turned a deaf ear to all the appeals and now they consider that their last hope has vanished.

MEN WELL SATISFIED

Berry Says Majority of Trainmen Favor Agreement.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—The mayor today received a letter from S. N. Berry, vice-president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, in which he states: "I will take the opportunity at this time of especially thanking you for the interest you took on behalf of all concerned, and the encouragement you gave our representative men to bring pressure on all concerned, in using all honorable means in bringing about a speedy settlement of the differences that existed between the Grand Trunk and their employees in the train and yard service. I am firmly convinced that a prolongation of the trouble would have been disadvantageous to a great many, and advantageous to but a few."

"While you may have heard that the employees were not satisfied with the settlement made, I can assure you that a great majority of them, particularly the better-thinking men, are well satisfied with the settlement."

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Aug. 12.—Frank Kelly, a farmer, about 35 years of age, living at Lincoln, took violently ill while spraying potatoes with Paris green. It is supposed that he must have swallowed some of the poison. He died shortly after.
