F. H. PEMBLETON ELECTROCUTED BY 2,300-VOLT WIRE

Sarnia Youth Had Only Been in West a Very Short Time.

REMAINS BROUGHT HOME

Accident Happened When Pembleton Was Working On High Pole.

Sarnia, Oct. 30.—The following particulars have been received regarding the electrocution in Edmonton recently of F. H. Pembleton, formerly of Sarnia, whose funeral took place to Lakeside Cemetery on Tuesday.

The Edmonton Capital says: With a crowd of several hundred people not a hundred yards away, F. H. Pembleton met instant death by coming in contact with a live wire carrying 2,300 volts while working in a lane just north of Jasper avenue. The accident occurred about 5:15 at the rear of Jasper avenue, between Quebec and McDougall avenues.

Saw Him Fall.

The first one to see the accident was C. Lundberg, St. Elmo Hotel. He states that he was walking along the lane when he noticed a man on one of the poles. He would not have paid any attention to that but for the fact that the man seemed to be staring straight up and his cap had dropped off. When he got to the corner of McDougall he happened to look back and he was just in time to notice the man lurch and fall forward and become suspended in the air, his feet being caught in the wires. He immediately ran towards Jasper avenue where the men were at work on the trolley wires and called to them to come quickly as a man was being electrocuted.

E. Fiddler, 314 Fraser avenue, and W. H. Hutton, International Hotel, two of the city men, who were working on the trolley wires responded immediately and climbed the pole to rescue the unfortunate man. Quickly getting a rope around him, they lowered him to the ground.

E. Finagan, another eyewitness, stated that he was walking along the street when he noticed the man suddenly fall forward. He notified the police.

As soon as the body was lowered, medical aid was rendered by a number of physicians who happened to be in the vicinity at the time.

The new pulmotor which the city had just recently purchased was also used, but without avail, as the man was far beyond human aid. The doctors continued until 5:15, when life was pronounced extinct.

The physicians in attendance were: Doctors Robertson, McGibbon, Laundry, Whitelaw and Gillespie.

The body was removed in the police ambulance to Connelly & McKinnley's undertaking rooms and Coroner Foran notified.

Pembleton, who was living at 128 Stoney Plain street, had been employed in the city, and was employed as a trouble man by the city electrical department. Before coming to the city he was working for the Canadian Pacific Railway. He was only 23 years of age, a native of Sarnia, Ontario, where his father still resides.

GODERICH.

Goderich, Oct. 31.—Dr. Taylor has returned from his western trip. He visited principally his son, Dr. Harold Taylor.

CLUCKS LIKE HEN SINCE BREAKING LEG

Strange Case of Anna Samaroff Is Puzzling Attending Physicians.

Los Angeles, Oct. 31.—The case of little Anna Samaroff at the children's hospital has baffled not only the nurses, but the physicians who attend that institution. In the daytime Anna is just as hale and hearty as can be, but before she has been asleep five minutes she is "clucking" like a hen.

Hour after hour, Anna, apparently sleeping peacefully, will be heard uttering indescribable sounds, which are best conveyed as a monotonous "cluck, cluck, cluck." The night nurse, whose attention was first drawn to Anna's peculiarity, reported the matter to Miss Vannier, superintendent of the children's hospital, and it was then brought to the attention of the house physicians.

For several nights following this discovery a careful watch was maintained over Anna and every night the monotonous "clucking" would be repeated before the girl had been asleep five minutes.

She does not say the word "cluck," but actually makes the same sound in her throat that a hen makes. Her mother was questioned upon her last visit to the hospital as to whether she could give any reason why Anna might have had this habit "thrust upon her." Mrs. Samaroff could remember no circumstances that would lead to such a mysterious habit and stated that she had not observed the clucking noise until after her daughter had been returned home from the county hospital where she had once been sent to have a broken leg treated.

There is a vein of love in the story which they help to unfold. This is merely confined to the hero and heroine. As for themselves they are busy extricating themselves from their various pitfalls. Mutt and Jeff are of much admiration from a certain lady, whose presence in the play helps the denouement to a capital finish. Secure your seats early, as there is a big demand.
