

SYNOD OF HURON CLOSES SESSION

Delegates Wind Up Business of 1914 Meeting Yesterday.

ANUARY VERSUS JUNE

Warm Debate Over Proposal to Change Date of Synod Gathering.

Synod of Huron sessions closed last night at 6 o'clock, one of the most successful meetings, both in work accomplished and in attendance, in many years.

The roll call showed the same number of clergy as there were lay delegates, 128 of each, or a total of 256 delegates. In the afternoon, Bishop Williams appointed as canons: Rev. R. S. W. Howard and Rev. C. R. Gunne. Modern methods in keeping parish records, and an amendment to change the annual synod meeting from June to January, received much discussion. Results of the elections to the executive committee, the provincial and general synods, taken in the morning, were read.

Farmers' Busy Season.
"When are farmers busiest?" was a question that was argued at length, and left an open question in the end, in proposing an amendment to the synod canon, making January the time of the annual synod, instead of June. Rev. R. S. W. Howard said: "Possibly a January synod would be a little less convenient for some of the rural clergy, who are farmers." Rural delegates immediately started a warm discussion as to the busiest time on a farm. One said that the last of June, by coming to the synod in June, Rev. Mr. Dobson said: "Farmers are all very busy now, while there is nothing doing in January." Rev. Mr. Snell declared that practically all farmers' delegates were disenfranchised by holding a June synod. "We should have three or four hundred delegates at the meetings," he said. A layman then declared that, as a farmer, he should know that at present there was little work on a farm. He said that all farms had a short breathing space before haying, and that the synod should, by all means, be continued in June.

Rev. R. S. W. Howard pointed out that his main reason in proposing a change in the time of the synod was to give the bishop a better chance by working in more agreeable weather, to travel through the diocese, attending to confirmation classes and other business.

Bishop Williams said: "When the winter becomes too hard for me, I will change the synod time of meeting. As it is, however," he continued, "I have now to do all my travelling in the four or five coldest months of the year."

Discusses Sunday Schools.
Rev. R. A. Hiltz, of Toronto, general secretary of Sunday schools for Canada, complimented the synod upon the successful plan of Sunday school inspection as made in the synod of Huron. He is recommending the methods in reports of other synods. He spoke in favor of a more careful understanding that ministers should have with general Sunday school work. "All responsibility for the religious education of the children in the parish rests on the minister of the parish," he said. The speaker declared that theological college courses were very inadequate in teaching the Sunday school problems. "The solution of the problem lies in the hands of the minister," he said. "The boys' missionary clubs now being organized in numerous places." He declared that the Church of England is taking more vital interest in the Sunday schools at present than it ever did before.

John Ramsford, of Clinton, moved a vote of thanks, which was carried with applause, to the members of the synod of St. Paul's Cathedral for their services on Tuesday, the opening day of the synod. Bishop Williams stated that hereafter rural deans will not be eligible for reelection at the expiration of their terms. The synod concluded with votes of thanks to the citizens for their hospitality to visiting clergy. Many congratulations were tendered Rev. R. S. W. Howard and Rev. C. R. Gunne, upon their appointments to canon.

their appreciation of a meritorious display of summer blossoms by turning out in large numbers.

The show has been the means of securing many new members for the society. On Wednesday several signatures were appended to the membership book, while yesterday the number was increased.

Two exhibits added since Wednesday, and which were therefore not mentioned in the Advertiser's list, are those of Professor James Bowman and Dr. A. O. Jeffery. Both were worthy of more than passing mention.

Superintendent W. H. F. Bartlett is well pleased with the success of the show. "We have both the quality and the quantity," he said. "Most encouraging is the fact that we have secured new members for our association. Since the opening of the show there has been an added interest that is encouraging."

TO INSPECT ATTRACTIONS
Old Boys' Committee Will Inspect Shows Booked for Reunion Week Here.

Tomorrow, the attraction committee of the Old Boys will go to Woodstock to look over the attractions that are booked for the Old Boys' reunion here. The objection of the ministerial alliance to the class-of shows here at the last reunion is responsible for the move. The ministers were successful in preventing the shows being placed on the market square and the attraction committee will inspect the attractions that are now being shown in Woodstock and censor any that might be considered objectionable. Secretary Ed. Smith is endeavoring to secure a member of the alliance to accompany the committee.
