NO REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES

Carvell and Nantel Favor Reduction, Others Opposed To It.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—There will be no general reduction in railway freight rates at the present time. Two judgments were brought down by the Board of Railway Commissioners today. One, the opinion of Chief Commissioner Carvell, and concurred in by Commissioner Nantel, recommended a general reduction in freight rates of the per cent, except in cases where the rates have already been lowered as in the case of livestock and of grain from the rail head.

The chief commissioner's judgment also recommends a twenty-five per cent, reduction in Pullman and parlor car rates.

With this judgment, Commissioners McLean, Rutherford and Boyce do not concur.

SIX WAYS OF

COOKING OYSTERS

The return of the oyster season is welcome to those who live inland as well as those who dwell near the shore for the fresh stock in cans are available, if oysters in the shells are not. Recipes for the more unusual ways of cooking oysters may be gladly received. One point may help the cook who has trouble making oyster stews. Heat the necessary amount of milk to the boiling point, add a lump of butter, pepper and a little salt, then a quarter of a salt-spoonful of baking soda just as the oysters are put in. The oysters should be drained and dried on a linen towel before adding. As quickly as the milk comes to the boiling point remove the stew from the fire.

A pint of solid oysters to a quart of milk is the usual proportion for a successful stew. Some cooks add the liquor to the milk after the oysters are drained. If they have been freshly opened this is all right, but not otherwise.

Oysters And Potatoe Cakes.

Boil and mash enough potatoes to make two cupfuls. Add a grated onion, pepper, salt, a small lump of butter, a beaten egg, and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Form into patties, then split them with a knife and lay in three or four oysters which have been dipped in cream and dusted with a little grated cheese, put back the tops, and lay on a buttered baking dish. Bake until the cakes are a delicate brown. Serve on a hot dish with cream or tomato sauce. Garnish with parsley.

Oyster Pie.

Line a deep pie plate with good crust. Drain a pint of oysters and put them into two cupfuls of well-flavored cream sauce, made not too thick. Add a quarter of a pound of mushrooms which have been salted in butter, and a grated onion. Fill the pie crust, and cover with the top crust. Bake until the crust is done and delicately browned.

Oyster Roly-Poly.

Make the usual roly-poly crust and spread it, on to the floured cloth. Drain enough oysters to make one pint, season them with butter, pepper, salt, the juice of an onion, a teaspoonful of very rich cream sauce. Put the full very rich cream sauce. Put the mixture into the crust, roll it and seal the ends. Leave room enough for the dough to swell in tying the cloth. Plunge into boiling water and boil for two hours. Serve with a rich, drawn butter sauce with a few well washed oyster capes in it.

Oyster Rarebit.

Drain a pint of oysters. Take the liquor and add it to a cupful of tomato juice. Put a lump of butter in a pan, and when hot add half a pound of American cheese thinly sliced. When hot pour in two beaten eggs mixed with the tomato juice, stir until all is melted together, add a little red pepper and the oysters, stir gently a minute and a half, then turn the mixture over slices of crustless toast arranged on hot plates.

Oyster Tossing.

Butter a baking dish and lay in slices of crustless toast. Cover the toast with a thin layer of butter, pepper, salt and a little paprika, squeeze the juice of a lemon over them, dust the top with a little grated cheese, and place two or three little pieces of bacon on top of each slice. By the time the bacon is crisped the oysters will be done. This makes an excellent breakfast dish. The oven should be brisk, as the dish must cook rather quickly.

Mix a tablespoonful each of minced cold chicken, eggs and hard-boiled egg. Add the juice of an onion, pepper, salt, soft butter and a little bit of cream. Drain the oysters. Butter the deep shells, inside, and arrange them in a baking pan with a little water in the bottom. Coat each oyster well with the stuffing, lay it in the shell, dust with a little grated cheese and bake just a few minutes in the oven. The time depends upon the oven.

BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Choking and Gasping for Breath Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath and could not speak. I would have one of these spells in the evening, one during the night and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me. In the spring of 1920, taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a few days, the choking spells etc. I have had none since. I have so wanted to tell others, sufferers who have the same trouble about 'Fruit-a-tives' for I know how they must suffer. Some thought the Asthma would come back on me as winter came on but it has not, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives'." Mrs. J. M. PENNINGTON, 506 a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BAXTER FOR THE CABINET

Press Report Says He Has Been Invited And Has Accepted.

Fredericton, Sept. 13.—Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, of St. John leader of the opposition party in the provincial legislature, has accepted an invitation to enter Premier Meighen's reconstruction dominion cabinet after a consultation with his followers, according to a semi-official announcement made here this afternoon. Dr. Baxter told his followers that his visit to Fredericton had been entirely for the purpose of attending a meeting of the opposition party in the legislature, and that he had submitted the result of the conference to his followers. He said that he would accept the invitation to enter the federal field and for election, in all probability.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Campbellton, N. B., Sept. 18th, 1921.
Editor of the Graphic, Town.

Many of the taxpayers are asking the question, why are the men employed in the Street Department only working, or on the job nine hours a day at war time wages? Our mills, factories and construction employees are working ten hours at reduced wages.

Reports from town books show that there has been spent in the past two months about "Fourteen Thousand dollars in the street department. Over seven thousand of this sum has been paid out in wages. One employee received $138.00 another $81.00, two weeks pay. (This is going some, since the committee was organized.) Our mayor promised an strict economy in all departments. No over-drafts, etc. These pledges seem to have been lost sight of. Too much time has been spent in Council passing the Belle-Ile Resolution all of which had to be "rescinded." It is about time the councillors got down to business. Many will be unable to obtain work this winter, the staff in all departments should be reduced at once. This is up to the Mayor and Council.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

PAYING LITTLE HONOR

TO HEROIC DEAD Bodies of Soldiers Brought From France Treated as "So Much Lumber."

Hoboken, N. J.—Removal of soldier dead from the piers at Hoboken has become "fatigue duty," if not by army order, at least by practice. Numerous complaints against the "irreverent manner" in which the bodies of A. E. F. dead are handled, after their return from overseas, led to an unofficial investigation which revealed that little care is shown in the handling of the coffins after they reach the army piers.

Fatigue duty is non-military labor, frequently inflicted as a punishment, and which the soldiers usually do in "fatigue uniform" of blue denim or with shirt and jacket unbuttoned. It is an assignment of the "K. P." variety, not awarded an honor.

At the army piers, crowded with coffins of soldier dead, there is no military guard in evidence, and no other honor to the dead than the flag covering each coffin box. An electric truck trundles the coffins to a loading stage, where a group of army trucks back up to the loading platform. Besides it a civilian in shirt sleeves checks off the coffins in the same manner that a shipping clerk checks off boxes of merchandise.

PLEADED GUILTY.

Herbert Journeau of Port Daniel Centre has pleaded guilty at New Carlisle of having falsely accused John James Tennies a returned soldier and merchant of Port Daniel West, therefore Journeau had to pay to settle the case, also all costs of the action after he admitted that he was wrong himself, and that Mr. Tennies had no connection whatever of what he had been saying.

Sometime ago Journeau made certain threats to Mr. Tennies by a letter regarding lumber he alleged had been cut off his property, and later he deliberately accused Mr. Tennies before two witnesses of having taken two

Mr. Tennies in taking action against Journeau through Mr. Bugeaud of New Carlisle with the above results.
