BERLIN, Dec. 21 .- The Emperor has been so ill as to be compelled to keep his bed since Thursday morning. He arose for the first time to-day and received official reports. His malady was a catarrh with fever and provoked a recurrence of the old trouble with his ear. There was also in his throat more than the usual trouble experienced in such cases. An injudicious note on the subject printed in The National Zeitung in-tended to reassure the public, had a con-trary effect and caused almost incessant enquiries to be made at the palace. The Emperor forbade the publication of bulletins, received his friends in his bedroom, the leading officials who called, and treated his illness in a jesting spirit. His trouble originated in a cold, caught while the Emperor watched The effect of a night alarm on the garr son at Potsdam, one of his military amisements being to test the rapidity with which the various regiments can be turned out at unex-

various regiments can be turned out at unexpected moments.

But that is not His Majesty's only military amusement. At the field manœuvres at Bornstedt a regiment of cavalry was suddenly ordered to advance at full gallop. It rode helter skelter down the badly lighted streets of Potsdam. Some of the horses were killed and several of the townspeople were ridden down and badly hurt. This caused much public irritation and was one of the reasons why there was very little sympathy with the Emperor in his illness among his people in that part of the Empira. Unensy Lies the Hoad.

For many days now the attention Foreign Office has been centred upon the de-Foreign Office has been centred upon the developments in Brazil and the threatened contre coup in Portugal. Long daily dispatches from Lisbon and Madrid have confirmed the intelligence that Portugal is likely to follow the example set by Brazil. The Government here share sthe uneasiness fet in every chancelery in Europe. If Portugal takes fire te movement of the Portuguese Republicans will it is believed, be the signal for a rising in Spain and this will be followed by agitations in Italy and by a general upheavil of the secial forces throughout Europe.

The militant attitude of the Portuguese Government towards England over the Zambesi dispute is recognized here as necessary to strengthen the position of the King of Portugal at home, where any accidental failure of strength at this moment would be made much of in the interest of the Radical party. Prince Bismarck, it is reported, has written to the Marquis of Salisbury expressing the hope that nothing will be done to humilitate the Portuguese Ministry in view of the Imperial catastrophe in Brazil and the position of the monarchy in Portugal face to face with similar forces to those that cast down Dom Pedro.

An article in The National Zeitung appeals velopments in Brazil and the threatened conor the monarchy in Forugal face to face with similar forces to those that cast down Dom Fedro.

An article in The National Zeitung appeals to the forbearance of the English Government. The article indicates that Bismarck favors the English claims in this difference between the powers. This attitude is due partly to the attempts of the French press to foment an irritation in Portugal against Ungland. Advices received at Hamburg from Ric Grande do Sul Brazil contradict the opinion that the German colonists desire the protec that the German colonists desire the protection of the fatherland. They appear to be hopeful that a federated republic will increase the general prosperity. They desire to see fully developed self-government or state sovereignity in the province, and believe a Republican constitutional convention will great this, and will accord to them an enlarged control of the provincial finances. They then count upon the growth in the new world of a great German free state. The official world here is disappointed by this adhesion of the colonists to the republic. The miners' strike remains unsettled. Several pits in the Saar district are working, but more are idle. The directors to-day proclaimed that all men who had not returned to work by Monday will be treated as having rejected the terms offered them. Belgian Anarchists are inciting the men to refuse the terms. Some Anarchists have been arrested.

The Brazilian General Election Fixed for Sept. 15 Next. RIO JANEIRO, Dec. 21,-An executive d cree promulgated to-day fixes the date of the d election for Sept. 15 and the meeting of the constituent assembly for Nov. 15. By the same decree the ex-Emperor Dom Pedro is banished from Brazil together with the members of the royal family, the Viscount D'Ouro Preto and his brother Carlos Alfonso. Senator Martino, governor of Rio Grande do Sul, charged with treason as the leader of the movement for the secession of that state is condemned to transportation. he decree recalls and cancels the grant of 000,000 milries to Dom Pedro and suspends is allowance in the civil list.

Prespective Brazilian Secession.

Lisbon, Dec. 21.—Reports from Brazil in dicate a strong feeling in the provinces of Para and Rio Grande do Sul in favor of separating from the other Brazilian States. They object to being dominated by Rio Janeiro, the interests of the sections being in many ways diverse. Reports of the prospective death of Da Fonseca caused surprise. Fonseca left a sick bed to take part in the revolution and it was hardly to be expected that his condition could mend under the excitement and the arduous labors incident to his present position. Senhor Barboza, Minister of Finance, has already, on account of Da Fonseca's illness, had more than his share of responsibility thrown upon his shoulders, and it is considered likely that in the event of the brovisional president's death Barboza will They object to being dominated by Rio Janprovisional president's death Barboza will Parnell's Moderation.

New York, Dec. 22.—Mr. Smalley cables to The Tribune from London: Mr. Parnell's two appearances in England this week are important for their novelty and for the tone of the studied moderation which he has adopted. He spoke at Nottingham to a large meeting and at Liverpool before a company at dinner. These speeches, taken together, seem intended to impress two points on the English mind: First, that Home Rule no longer means separation; and, second, that Mr. Parnell has so far got control over the wilder spirits among his followers that his movement may now be considered constitutional. "We want Home Rule," he says, "in order to develop the material prosperity of Ireland, to build harbors, to open mines and to reclaim waste lands." These and other things he intends to do without the help of the British taxpayer. As for the land, he once more warns the English that it is risky business lending money to Irtsh tenants to burchase it. Should the tenant presently conclude that he has paid too much, he may repudiate the bargain. The plan of campaign is touched on, half-defended, half-condemned. Mr. Parnell seems to have persuaded himself that it is worked without crime. He burst out against the Parnell Commission, as "carefully chosen by our enemies from theranks of our political opponents," and he accuses the Gevernment and their co-conspirators of doing overything adopted. He spoke at Nottingham to a large
